Brett's Bill $5,000 As Fire Consultant

Cites Evaluating Expert's Reports, Board Asked Views of Area Chiefs

Fire Chief James M. Brett of the Kingston Fire Department has submitted a bill for $5,000 to the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) for "services rendered as a consultant" on fire protection problems.

The communication to the board includes a bill "for services rendered as a consultant for the fire protection problems of the Kingston City Public Schools existing and proposed, of the Kingston City Consolidated District," and a covering letter.

The letter concludes, "If I may be of any further assistance to you as an expert consultant in the field of fire protection, I shall consider it a pleasure to serve you."

Asked Recommendations

The board of education in a communication to Chief Brett March 24 asked his recommendations, and those of area fire chiefs, on the proposals made by Perkins & Will, school architects, and Hugh B. Kirkman, fire safety expert. The proposals recommended certain fire protection measures for schools within the district, including sprinklers, heat and smoke detection systems. The recommendations varied from school to school.

Brett's letter to the board follows:

"During the week of March 24, Mr. Hugh K. Kirkman conferred with me relative to fire protection in the existing and proposed schools in the Kingston Consolidated District. He presented me with a report of his own, a report by Perkins & Will, and a summary of recommendations and cost sheet which he prepared, as well as a letter of authorization from the Board of Education which was signed by Earl F. Soper, superintendent.

Says Advice Sought

"Mr. Kirkman stated that he jointly represented and was employed by the Kingston Board of Education and the Architectural Firm of Perkins & Will, as a Consulting Engineer in the field of Fire Protection. He requested that I read all of the reports which I did in his presence. He then requested that I evaluate the reports and submit my advice and recommendations to the Board of Education before April 13, 1961, and that I forward a copy of this report to both him and Mr. Whitney Murphy representing the firm of Perkins & Will.

"I informed Mr. Kirkman that because of the proprieties involved I would confine my analysis, advice, and recommendations to those existing and, proposed schools, located within the City of Kingston. I stipulated that if either he, the firm of Perkins & Will, or the Board of Education so desired, they were at liberty to use my report as a guide for the other schools in the Kingston Consolidated District. This plan was then mutually agreed upon by both Mr. Kirkman and myself.

Bill Is Enclosed

"On March 29, I submitted my report to the Board of Education, and copies to Mr. A. Whitney Murphy representing Perkins & Will, and to Mr. Hugh B. Kirkman representing both the Board of Education and the firm of Perkins & Will.

"Enclosed is my bill for this service rendered in the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

"If I may be of any further assistance to you as an expert consultant in the field of fire protection, I shall consider it a pleasure to serve you. Yours truly, James M. Brett."

Will Take Time Appointing Urban Renewal Director

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today said he received federal notice asking appointment of an urban renewal director to head the city's projected rehabilitation program.

One will be named in the near future, he said, but because of the importance of the post to the city's future, a well qualified person must be chosen and "we will not rush in making our decision."

A minor provision for directive personnel is included in the federal allotment of $48,000 to cover some initial planning costs, he noted, but the salary scale for a full-time director will be based on the federal government policy of making the pay commensurate to those paid elsewhere in the area.

Responsible Post

The post, he said, will be one of top responsibility, and of major importance to the entire urban renewal and city planning program.

Urban renewal plans for the Rondout sector, it was noted at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting, are advancing toward official designation of a first phase for federal approval.

Notice Comes Early

Mayor Radel and Elmore C. Yallum, planning board chairman, said the notice from the Housing and Home Finance Agency, while anticipated for the future, was not expected as early as it came.

New reports on urban renewal are expected during the next few weeks as the result of meetings involving the planning board, a Common Council committee, the mayor and personnel of Raymond & May Associates, planning consultants.

Work Law Now Includes Those Between 40 and 45

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Workers aged 40 to 45 will be brought under a state law barring discrimination in employment because of age.

Gov. Rockefeller said Wednesday he had signed a bill, effective July 1, under which the law against discrimination because of age will apply to workers between 40 and 65, the normal retirement age.

At present, the anti-discrimination law applies to workers between 45 and 65.

The governor said it was imperative that the age barrier be lifted "so that all working men and women over 40 years of age can continue their productive lives."

Provisions of Law

The existing law makes it illegal to discriminate on the basis of age in hiring, firing, promoting or advertising for workers.

The measure was among several on which the governor announced action as he moved into

Eichmann Trial Off As Israel Celebrates

JERUSLAEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was cool and matter of fact—with one notable exception—during the long sessions when he told his story to his Israeli captors and a tape recorder, an informed source said today.

"He showed a little feeling when he said he expects to get the death sentence," the Israeli informant reported.

"I know I may face a sentence of death," said Eichmann in a recorded statement that was played back Wednesday for the three-judge court trying him on charges of mass murder of Europe's Jews.

"I cannot claim mercy because I am not worthy of it," Eichmann continued. "I should have hanged myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world would have had these terrible events emphasized for them."

"He was quite businesslike the rest of the time," the Israeli source reported, "but he seemed moved, a little emotional, when he read this."

Seventy-seven cartons of tapes were made of the long hours of interrogation that followed Eichmann's capture in Argentina last year. The prosecution Wednesday began playing back excerpts at the trial, bringing into the record the former SS officer's own version of the Nazis' "final Solution of the Jewish Problem"—meaning total annihilation of Europe's Jewry—and the part he played in it.

The trial is in recess today while Israel celebrates its Independence Day.

When the hearing resumes Friday, Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner is expected to play tape recordings of Eichmann's account of events in Hungary in 1944. Hausner told the court earlier Eichmann was a key figure in the killing of 437,402 of the 800,000 Jews living in Hungary at the time.

Two Arrests Come Of Crash Fatal To R. J. Sauers

An arrest Wednesday and one today resulted of the April 10 Washington Avenue accident in which Robert J. Sauers, 27, of 10 LeVan Street, was fatally injured.

William F. Bence, 29, of 184 Hurley Avenue, who, police said, drove the station wagon which crashed into a parked truck, was picked up Wednesday afternoon on a warrant executed by Officer Frank Stip and charging that Bence drove while his ability was impaired. He was released in his own recognizance and today the case was put over to April 25.

Kenneth Leroy Osterhoudt Jr., 24, of 155 Washington Avenue, who, police said drove the truck involved, was booked at police headquarters this morning by Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz on a charge dealing with lack of light on the truck. He was released in his own recognizance for city court hearing Saturday.

Kremlin Sees Dire Consequences If U. S. Forces Go Into Action

Havana Says Much U. S. Equipment Seized, Rebels Insist Anti-Castro Unit Has Completed Link With Guerrillas

RADIO WATCH—Relatives of Cuban rebels fighting in Cuba gather around a monitoring station in Miami, Fla., to listen for news. The girl at left has a brother in the invasion force. The other girl has a cousin in the fighting. The rebel radio in Cuba fell silent at 3:30 p. m., April 19 and top exile sources in Miami conceded the end apparently had come for the band of 5,000 anti-Castro Cubans who landed April 17. (NEA Telephoto)

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Prime Minister Fidel Castro asserted today he has wiped out rebel invaders on Cuba's southern beaches and captured large stores of U.S. arms, including Sherman tanks. But he conceded his forces have suffered heavy losses.

The rebel leaders insisted the main invading force has fought through to guerrillas waiting in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba to carry on the war against the pro-Communist regime.

Clossal Blow: Soviet

Echoing Castro's claims, Moscow radio charged U.S. Marines are poised to strike and repeated Soviet government warnings that the use of American forces would have dire consequences.

Moscow said Castro had "dealt a colossal blow to the forces of aggression" but "this does not mean that the threat to the independence of Cuba has been removed and that the interventionists have relinquished their criminal schemes."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the operatitn was not a major invasion but a type of resistance "likely to go on." He declared it was launched by "a group of courageous men who returned to Cuba determined to do what they could to assist the people in establishing freedom in that island."

Station in Mountains

Shortly after Rusk's statement, a new rebel radio station went on the air, reporting it was established in the Escambray Mountains and declaring the anti-Castro forces landing Monday had carried out their mission.

Calling itself Escambray Libre (Free Escambray), the radio said the invading force had reinforced the guerrillas who for months have been harassing Castro's regime.

An anti-Castro leader in Puerto Rico reported Wednesday night that a new landing had been made in Cuba. He did not give the location of the beachhead.

Rumors of Landing

There were rumors — entirely unconfirmed—that more landings were imminent.

The Cuban government communique claiming total victory over the invasion force that hit the swampy beaches of Cochinos Bay Monday said "Ciron Beach, which was the last stronghold of the mercenaries, fell a. 5:30 p.m. yesterday."

Signed by Castro as prime minister and commander in chief, the communique claimed the invaders "suffered heavy casualties, dispersing in a swamp area from which no escape is possible." But Castro conceded his forces paid a "high toll in courageous lives."

The prime minister said a "large quantity of arms of American manufacture were captured, including various Sherman heavy tanks."

Expected Setbacks

The Cuban Revolutionary Council which organized the striking force of Cuban exiles, had said earlier that the "landings" were only a phase of its campaign to overthrow Castro. It disclaimed them as "an invasion."

"We did not expect to topple Castro immediately or without setbacks," the council said in a

Tax Program Will Create Jobs: JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today sent Congress a tax plan which he said would help modernize American business and create 500,000 jobs. He said a possible general tax cut should wait until next year.

The President said his proposals would attack "expense account living," discourage tax cheating and reduce the worrisome flow of U.S. dollars abroad without cutting into federal revenues.

First Step for Reform

In a 6,300-word special message, Kennedy described his program as "a first though urgent step" toward broad tax reform in 1962 — reform which he said could combine elimination of loopholes and discriminatory provisions with a lowering of basic tax rates.

These were among the most notable items in the first-step package:

A special tax incentive for business to modernize and expand, withholding of taxes or dividends and interest, repeal of the special tax treatment given dividends, and discouragement of corporate investment in competing industrial countries.

Would Cut 'Tax Havens'

Kennedy also proposed stricter curbs on tax-deductible expense accounts, the elimination of foreign "tax havens" and the collection of taxes from high-income Americans—notably movie stars—who move abroad in the hope of escaping the U.S. income tax.

He said the business investment incentive would cut revenues by $1.7 billion a year. However, he said the other items would offset this and leave at least $50 million to spare.

Many of the specifics were sure

County Lot Same as Private One: Korn

Legality of a police summons for overtime parking in the county-owned John Street parking lot is due for a test soon in city court by a Kerhonkson attorney, who was ticketed recently while on a legal call here.

Philip Korn, who received the ticket, was due for court appearance April 18, but asked for postponement to April 27.

The city receives no revenue from meter charges in the uptown lot, but does collect from fines imposed after violations.

Private Business, He Says

It is Korn's contention that the parking lot is operated by the county "as a private business for profit" and that to enforce the parking regulations by police action is in violation of the law.

His contention is that the parking lot is no different from other public parking lots operated for profit and that it is improper and unconstitutional to use police action to collect the fee.

Points to Jurors

Korn said there had been a lack of regard for those using the parking lot, particularly jurors who are summoned for jury duty and come to Kingston to do a public duty. Unable many times to leave the court room where they are engaged in jury duty, these juror's are given tickets and summoned to court.

Such police action Korn contends is a violation of the constitutional rights of the parker and he holds that the proper action would be to have the attendant collect the additional fees due in the same manner as is done in other privately operated parking lots.

"The method of using police action to collect a parking fee in this county owned parking lot, operated for profit, is improper and unconstitutional," Korn told a Freeman reporter today.

Feels Duty on Test

He stated that not only have jurors and attorneys, tied up in court, been given tickets but recently a Supreme Court justice found a summons to appear and pay a fine when he went to enter his car.

Korn said he felt it his duty as a citizen and as a service to the public to test out the legality of the procedure. Many people, law abiding citizens who have never been given a summons for parking violations, have been faced with a summons while serving as a juror, Korn said. This is most embarassing in many cases, Korn said.

"This is not a personal matter with me, it affects people throughout the county, jurors, judges and other attorneys," Korn said. He said it was an attempt to see that people serving as jurors, doing their public duty, are extended the courtesy they deserve and not be faced with a summons and police action.

5th Arrest Made Here In Narcotics Checkup

A fifth arrest came Wednesday from a narcotics probe, which authorities indicated today is still in progress on a country-wide basis.

Arnold Harris, 31, of 60 Van Buren Street, was booked for alleged illegal possession of marijuana as the result of police action April 8 when a woman and three men were held after a raid at 251 Abeel Street.

Police said the arrest was delayed pending analysis of what they hold as evidence. It was taken, they said, from 50 Van Buren Street after Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Vogt, Lt. Lemuel Howard, detectives William Slover, Harold DeGraff and Albert Hutton entered the house.

Adjourned to 26th

Attorney Joseph Avis, who represents some of the others, appeared today in city court for Harris and the case was adjourned to April 26. Bail, fixed at $500 cash or $1,000 property, was expected to be posted. Bail was similar for the others, who are due again in court May 1.

Arrested after the April 8 Abeel Street raid were: Binford Hamilton Smith, 33, of High Falls, who, police said, had rented the apartment; Gary Lewis, 18, of 44 Tompkins Street, and his wife, Elizabeth May, 26, and Gilbert J. Henderson, 22 of 223 Catherine Street.

Several local policemen and a state trooper led by Assistant District Attorney Vogt staged the Abeel Street raid. Police said they were about to force entrance when someone opened a door. The house had been under surveillance several days.

Expect Construction to Start On Shopping Center in 6 Weeks

Plans for major shopping center on the 40-acre tract of land owned by the Kingston Lumber Corporation off Fair Street Extension are progressing and it is expected construction will begin within the next month or six weeks, it was announced today by Walter N. Caunitz, local real estate broker.

The announcement came following a visit to Kingston Tuesday by Thomas M. Muradin Jr., of Whittisville, Mass., operator of New England Shopping Centers, who is sponsoring the local shopping center.

During his visit in Kingston Tuesday, Muradin interviewed several contractors, suppliers of building materials and also interviewed several merchants who are prospective occupants of stores in The Kingston Shoppers Plaza which, in addition to department store facilities, will have some 18 to 20 stores of a varied nature.

Firm Making Tests

Muradin during his visit to Kingston revealed that the engineering firm of Brinnier & Larios had been engaged to make tests and conduct engineering studies relative to soil, fill, change of the course of a brook on the site and also make a study, in connection with the city of Kingston, of sewage and drainage needs.

A preliminary study of the soil in the area, which lies back of Clinton Avenue and Fair Street Extension, indicates exceptionally good sub-soil condition which will permit structures of 2½ tons per square foot.

In addition to a soil study, Brinnier & Larios, have also made a study of the amount of fill which will be required to grade the area to a level with the railroad tracks which run past the property.

Newberry Signs for Store

When announcement was made two weeks ago that Muradin was interested in building a shopping center adjacent to the Uptown Business area, it was stated the center would contain approximately 18 stores.

Today it was announced that the first store to be definitely interested in opening a store was J. J. Newberry Company, operators of a store at 319 Wall Street. In making the announcement today that the Newberry Company had signified its intention to open a store in the shopping center in addition to its present Wall Street store,

5th Arrest Made Here In Narcotics Checkup

A fifth arrest came Wednesday from a narcotics probe, which authorities indicated today is still in progress on a country-wide basis.

Arnold Harris, 31, of 60 Van Buren Street, was booked for alleged illegal possession of marijuana as the result of police action April 8 when a woman and three men were held after a raid at 251 Abeel Street.

Police said the arrest was delayed pending analysis of what they hold as evidence. It was taken, they said, from 50 Van Buren Street after Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Vogt, Lt. Lemuel Howard, detectives William Slover, Harold DeGraff and Albert Hutton entered the house.

Adjourned to 26th

Attorney Joseph Avis, who represents some of the others, appeared today in city court for Harris and the case was adjourned to April 26. Bail, fixed at $500 cash or $1,000 property, was expected to be posted. Bail was similar for the others, who are due again in court May 1.

Arrested after the April 8 Abeel Street raid were: Binford Hamilton Smith, 33, of High Falls, who, police said, had rented the apartment; Gary Lewis, 18, of 44 Tompkins Street, and his wife, Elizabeth May, 26, and Gilbert J. Henderson, 22 of 223 Catherine Street.

Several local policemen and a state trooper led by Assistant District Attorney Vogt staged the Abeel Street raid. Police said they were about to force entrance when someone opened a door. The house had been under surveillance several days.

Kremlin Sees Dire Consequences If U. S. Forces Go Into Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Prime Minister Fidel Castro asserted today he has wiped out rebel invaders on Cuba's southern beaches and captured large stores of U.S. arms, including Sherman tanks. But he conceded his forces have suffered heavy losses.

The rebel leaders insisted the main invading force has fought through to guerrillas waiting in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba to carry on the war against the pro-Communist regime.

Clossal Blow: Soviet

Echoing Castro's claims, Moscow radio charged U.S. Marines are poised to strike and repeated Soviet government warnings that the use of American forces would have dire consequences.

Moscow said Castro had "dealt a colossal blow to the forces of aggression" but "this does not mean that the threat to the independence of Cuba has been removed and that the interventionists have relinquished their criminal schemes."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the operatitn was not a major invasion but a type of resistance "likely to go on." He declared it was launched by "a group of courageous men who returned to Cuba determined to do what they could to assist the people in establishing freedom in that island."

Station in Mountains

Shortly after Rusk's statement, a new rebel radio station went on the air, reporting it was established in the Escambray Mountains and declaring the anti-Castro forces landing Monday had carried out their mission.

Calling itself Escambray Libre (Free Escambray), the radio said the invading force had reinforced the guerrillas who for months have been harassing Castro's regime.

An anti-Castro leader in Puerto Rico reported Wednesday night that a new landing had been made in Cuba. He did not give the location of the beachhead.

Rumors of Landing

There were rumors — entirely unconfirmed—that more landings were imminent.

The Cuban government communique claiming total victory over the invasion force that hit the swampy beaches of Cochinos Bay Monday said "Ciron Beach, which was the last stronghold of the mercenaries, fell a, 5:30 p.m. yesterday."

Signed by Castro as prime minister and commander in chief, the communique claimed the invaders "suffered heavy casualties, dispersing in a swamp area from which no escape is possible." But Castro conceded his forces paid a "high toll in courageous lives."

The prime minister said a "large quantity of arms of American manufacture were captured, including various Sherman heavy tanks."

Expected Setbacks

The Cuban Revolutionary Council which organized the striking force of Cuban exiles, had said earlier that the "landings" were only a phase of its campaign to overthrow Castro. It disclaimed them as "an invasion."

"We did not expect to topple Castro immediately or without setbacks," the council said in a

The other girl has a cousin in the fighting. Tax Program Will Create Jobs: JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today sent Congress a tax plan which he said would help modernize American business and create 500,000 jobs. He said a possible general tax cut should wait until next year.

The President said his proposals would attack "expense account living," discourage tax cheating and reduce the worrisome flow of U.S. dollars abroad without cutting into federal revenues.

First Step for Reform

In a 6,300-word special message, Kennedy described his program as "a first though urgent step" toward broad tax reform in 1962 — reform which he said could combine elimination of loopholes and discriminatory provisions with a lowering of basic tax rates.

These were among the most notable items in the first-step package:

A special tax incentive for business to modernize and expand, withholding of taxes or dividends and interest, repeal of the special tax treatment given dividends, and discouragement of corporate investment in competing industrial countries.

Would Cut 'Tax Havens'

Kennedy also proposed stricter curbs on tax-deductible expense accounts, the elimination of foreign "tax havens" and the collection of taxes from high-income Americans—notably movie stars—who move abroad in the hope of escaping the U.S. income tax.

He said the business investment incentive would cut revenues by $1.7 billion a year. However, he said the other items would offset this and leave at least $50 million to spare.

Many of the specifics were sure

Expect Construction to Start On Shopping Center in 6 Weeks

Plans for major shopping center on the 40-acre tract of land owned by the Kingston Lumber Corporation off Fair Street Extension are progressing and it is expected construction will begin within the next month or six weeks, it was announced today by Walter N. Caunitz, local real estate broker.

The announcement came following a visit to Kingston Tuesday by Thomas M. Muradin Jr., of Whittisville, Mass., operator of New England Shopping Centers, who is sponsoring the local shopping center.

During his visit in Kingston Tuesday, Muradin interviewed several contractors, suppliers of building materials and also interviewed several merchants who are prospective occupants of stores in The Kingston Shoppers Plaza which, in addition to department store facilities, will have some 18 to 20 stores of a varied nature.

Firm Making Tests

Muradin during his visit to Kingston revealed that the engineering firm of Brinnier & Larios had been engaged to make tests and conduct engineering studies relative to soil, fill, change of the course of a brook on the site and also make a study, in connection with the city of Kingston, of sewage and drainage needs.

A preliminary study of the soil in the area, which lies back of Clinton Avenue and Fair Street Extension, indicates exceptionally good sub-soil condition which will permit structures of 2½ tons per square foot.

In addition to a soil study, Brinnier & Larios, have also made a study of the amount of fill which will be required to grade the area to a level with the railroad tracks which run past the property.

Newberry Signs for Store

When announcement was made two weeks ago that Muradin was interested in building a shopping center adjacent to the Uptown Business area, it was stated the center would contain approximately 18 stores.

Today it was announced that the first store to be definitely interested in opening a store was J. J. Newberry Company, operators of a store at 319 Wall Street. In making the announcement today that the Newberry Company had signified its intention to open a store in the shopping center in addition to its present Wall Street store,

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesman for 15 southern and New York textle firms say they want to fill Army clothing contracts but are uncertain because of President Kennedy's anti-discrimination order on government contracts.

Says Man Sane, Should Be Tried For 1960 Killing

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queens district attorney's office has produced psychiatric testimony intended to prove that ex-convict Frederick C. Wood is sane and should be tried on first-degree murder charges.

The testimony offered Wednesday before Judge Albert A. Bosch of Queens county court aimed at disproving a finding by other mental examiners that Wood is insane and thus need not stand trial.

Judge Bosch reserved decision.

Wood, 48, served 17 years in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora for beating a man to death with a beer bottle in an Elmira rooming house in 1942.

Wood was arrested last July 5, five weeks after his parole. He was accused of beating to death John Rescigo, 62, and Frederick Sess, 78, in an apartment in Astoria, Queens.

Wood was quoted by police as saying he went into a homicidal rage during a drinking bout when Rescigno made an indecent proposal to him.

Authorities were put on Wood's trial after the double slaying when news director Michael J. Morgan of Radio Station WELM in Elmira recalled the circumstances of the earlier slaying and the furor over his parole.

Gary Cooper Is Reported Gravely Ill With Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sources close to Gary Cooper say the veteran film star is gravely ill with cancer—and knows it.

The word followed an announcement by a family spokesman Wednesday that the lanky, laconic actor is critically ill.

Cooper, who will be 60 on May 7, is confined to his Bel-Air home.

The onetime Montana cowboy has starred in 70 pictures, winning Oscars as the World War I hero in 1941's "Sergeant York" and as the duty-bound sheriff in 1952's "High Noon."

Speculation about his physical condition had heightened since the annual academy awards ceremonies Monday night. Fellow star James Stewart accepted a special honorary award for Cooper and, addressing him directly into the television camera, nearly broke into tears as he spoke words of tribute.

Publicist Warren Cowan announced Wednesday: "Because the Cooper family has been inundated by inquiries about his health since the James Stewart presentation, I am asked by the family to say that he is gravely ill."

Cowan did not disclose the nature of the ailment. This word came afterward, privately, from several sources.

Barone to Get $75G in Liston Contract Deal

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sonny Liston, the No. 1 heavyweight boxing contender, may get his long-sought crack at Floyd Patterson's world title next year if he satisfies all concerned that he is free of undesirable associates.

But his parting Wednesday with manager Joseph Barone brought only lukewarm reactions from two of those most concerned—Patterson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, sponsor of a bill to place boxing under federal control.

Liston bought his contract from Barone after a conference at Allentown, Pa., in which the manager agreed to accept $75,000, to be paid from Liston's earnings over the next two years.

Kefauver has said that Barone was only a front for Frankie Carbo and Blinky Palermo, alleged underworld boxing figures, and that he feared the heavyweight title would "revert to mob control" if Liston should win it.

Patterson, who has refused to consider a bout with Liston because of his associates, said that Sonny "will still have to prove that he is free of all outside harmful influences" before he could qualify for a title bout.

The fact that Liston "ostensibly" has purchased his contract from Barone doesn't remove all the objections, the champion said.

Patterson also told Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports, Inc., the new promotional corporation, that since Liston mentioned satisfying the Kefauver committee, that would seem to be Liston's first step toward clearing the way for a fight.

Liston said that before signing with a new manager he would submit the name to Kefauver for approval.

"I'm not in the manager-picking business," the senator said when told of his suggestion.

"I'd like to see Liston get a shot at the title if he finally has shed all the barnacles he has been carrying. But he still may have to shed some others."

Prior to coming to Kingston, the Rev. Mr. Frenssen was pastor and director of the Wartburg School for needy and dependent children as well as the Marie Louise Heins Memorial Home for the Aged, in Mount Vernon. Officiating clergymen at the service of installation will be the Rev. Paul E. Henry of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Red Hook, who is the president of the Hudson Conference of the United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England. The Rev. Firms Uncertain Over JFK Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesman for 15 southern and New York textile firms say they want to fill Army clothing contracts but are uncertain because of President Kennedy's anti-discrimination order on government contracts.

The spokesman Wednesday assured Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr they were not boycotting the contracts because of the President's order.

They said they wanted to fulfill the Army textile needs and would study the rules issued by the President's committee on Equal Employment and Opportunity.

Stahr told the group any delay in Army procurement would have a serious effect on over-all supply.

Says Man Sane, Should Be Tried For 1960 Killing

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queens district attorney's office has produced psychiatric testimony intended to prove that ex-convict Frederick C. Wood is sane and should be tried on first-degree murder charges.

The testimony offered Wednesday before Judge Albert A. Bosch of Queens county court aimed at disproving a finding by other mental examiners that Wood is insane and thus need not stand trial.

Judge Bosch reserved decision.

Wood, 48, served 17 years in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora for beating a man to death with a beer bottle in an Elmira rooming house in 1942.

Wood was arrested last July 5, five weeks after his parole. He was accused of beating to death John Rescigo, 62, and Frederick Sess, 78, in an apartment in Astoria, Queens.

Wood was quoted by police as saying he went into a homicidal rage during a drinking bout when Rescigno made an indecent proposal to him.

Authorities were put on Wood's trial after the double slaying when news director Michael J. Morgan of Radio Station WELM in Elmira recalled the circumstances of the earlier slaying and the furor over his parole.

Gary Cooper Is Reported Gravely Ill With Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sources close to Gary Cooper say the veteran film star is gravely ill with cancer—and knows it.

The word followed an announcement by a family spokesman Wednesday that the lanky, laconic actor is critically ill.

Cooper, who will be 60 on May 7, is confined to his Bel-Air home.

The onetime Montana cowboy has starred in 70 pictures, winning Oscars as the World War I hero in 1941's "Sergeant York" and as the duty-bound sheriff in 1952's "High Noon."

Speculation about his physical condition had heightened since the annual academy awards ceremonies Monday night. Fellow star James Stewart accepted a special honorary award for Cooper and, addressing him directly into the television camera, nearly broke into tears as he spoke words of tribute.

Publicist Warren Cowan announced Wednesday: "Because the Cooper family has been inundated by inquiries about his health since the James Stewart presentation, I am asked by the family to say that he is gravely ill."

Cowan did not disclose the nature of the ailment. This word came afterward, privately, from several sources.

Barone to Get $75G in Liston Contract Deal

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sonny Liston, the No. 1 heavyweight boxing contender, may get his long-sought crack at Floyd Patterson's world title next year if he satisfies all concerned that he is free of undesirable associates.

But his parting Wednesday with manager Joseph Barone brought only lukewarm reactions from two of those most concerned—Patterson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, sponsor of a bill to place boxing under federal control.

Liston bought his contract from Barone after a conference at Allentown, Pa., in which the manager agreed to accept $75,000, to be paid from Liston's earnings over the next two years.

Kefauver has said that Barone was only a front for Frankie Carbo and Blinky Palermo, alleged underworld boxing figures, and that he feared the heavyweight title would "revert to mob control" if Liston should win it.

Patterson, who has refused to consider a bout with Liston because of his associates, said that Sonny "will still have to prove that he is free of all outside harmful influences" before he could qualify for a title bout.

The fact that Liston "ostensibly" has purchased his contract from Barone doesn't remove all the objections, the champion said.

Patterson also told Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports, Inc., the new promotional corporation, that since Liston mentioned satisfying the Kefauver committee, that would seem to be Liston's first step toward clearing the way for a fight.

Liston said that before signing with a new manager he would submit the name to Kefauver for approval.

"I'm not in the manager-picking business," the senator said when told of his suggestion.

"I'd like to see Liston get a shot at the title if he finally has shed all the barnacles he has been carrying. But he still may have to shed some others."

LONG MORTGAGES

Dispute is swirling around President Kennedy's proposal to buck up the $9,000-to-$15,000 home market with 40-year mortgages to be made available without any down payment.

The National Association of Home Builders, led by E. J. Burke Jr., its current president, favors the plan as likely to provide a sharp spur to private home building.

The American Bankers Assn. joins the ranks of the dissenters, saying the 40-year plan means mortgages that may outlast the houses and that, in any event, they will cost buyers excessive amounts of interest.

Battle lines in and out of Congress seem to be shaping up behind those positions.

Two arguments made for the longer term by both builders and some government housing officials:

The stretch-out will bring monthly out-of-pocket payments—the factor of prime concern to today's prospective customers—down to levels competitive with rents they now pay for old, cramped, often deteriorating housing.

The "average life of the loan" on 20-year mortgages has been less than 10 years. Experience with the now heavily prevalent 30-year mortgages is insufficient, but with both these and the projected 40-year mortgages the average life of the loan is not expected to be much more than 10 to 12 years.

From this it is argued that the total interest cost and the threat of home deterioration under the 40-year plan are not serious problems.

Critics answering the first point say monthly outlay on a $15,000 house under the 40-year plan and under a 30-year mortgage at 5½ per cent interest, with $600 down, would not be vastly different.

In the former case, payments per month over the full 40 years would be $77.40, in the latter $81.79. But total interest charges in the former instance would be some $22,000, against $15,000 on the 30-year plan.

Opponents note also that fairly low "life of the loan" results from the fact that most FHA-insured homes have their mortgages prepaid through resale.

That resale, frequently for prices that allow the seller to buy a bigger and even costlier house, has been aided in the postwar era by a general atmosphere of high employment, high wages and rising real estate values.

It is argued there is no guarantee these conditions will continue indefinitely, and that 40-year mortgagees thus may find themselves paying on such loans for a longer time.

Congressional soundings indicate the 40-year plan may win a test. But the feeling is obviously widespread that this new move, if it comes, will be to ground that could prove very shaky.

Russian women are giving Moscow's first modern beauty salon a big play. The Soviets may be ahead in space but at least they aren't ahead in hair-dos.

BY VOLUMES

You get this all the time about the United States Senate being the greatest deliberative body in the world. When government record keepers tot up the doings on Capitol Hill, you begin to grasp what this means.

Up to April this year, for instance, the House had met 48 days but the Senate only 42. Yet our distinguished senators in that shorter span managed to outtalk their House colleagues by almost 100 hours, and filled nearly twice as many pages of the Congressional Record.

Since the two houses stand in almost a dead heat in the number of bills and resolutions passed so far, the senators can hardly argue that their extra verbiage is especially productive.

About all it does is underscore, in printer's ink, their reputation as a very deliberative group. They are indeed.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

At this moment, the Republican Party is split into four factions:

1. There are those who still believe that Richard Nixon can make a come-back in 1964, provided he makes a lot of speeches between now and then;

2. The Rockefeller machine is in high gear operation; however, Nelson Rockefeller has to be re-elected Governor of New York State in 1962. This involves a very complex political situation, because the Democrats in New York City are split over the question of the leadership of Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany boss. Should Mayor Wagner be defeated in 1961, Rockefeller will be safer in 1962. Rockefeller, thus far, represents a New Deal liberalism, alien to the Republican Party. What will happen to his political posture should he face John Kennedy in 1964, it is difficult to say. Rockefeller may find no better excuse for running than that he agrees with Kennedy but is more able — a boast that is always suspect;

3. Senator Barry Goldwater has built an enormous following for himself, not only among Republicans but among no-party conservatives. An element of this following might be called McCarthyite. Goldwater is the first Republican to have cracked the intellectual hard shell of the universities; not even Robert A. Taft succeeded in doing that. This generation of youngsters knew not Roosevelt and are not influenced by the excitement of the 1930's;

A. There is a large element of older Republicans who have ceased to be partisans. They are Republicans because they are such, but they vote or do not vote depending upon whether the candidate is significant. Such Republicans fell away from Nixon because of his television speeches; they dislike Rockefeller because he does not belong; they are not sure that they understand Goldwater. In a word, they are very uncertain as to where to go and many of them join crackpot organizations as a demonstration of principle.

It will take the Republican Party more leadership than it now possesses to amalgamate all these different factions into a strong political party. No Republican program is presently possible. What does Senator Styles Bridges have in common with Senator Jacob Javits? Bridges moves within the margins of Republican tradition; Javits is an individualist who runs all over the map without a compass.

In a word, the Republican Party is now so split and riddled that it requires reorganization not only in ideas but in personnel. The great advantage of Robert A. Taft's leadership was that he managed to keep together those who called themselves Republicans. There is no one like Taft among Republicans today.

Perhaps the most surprising factor in this situation is the complete elimination of former President Eisenhower from even a semblance of leadership. He is not consulted by an appreciable element in the party. He exerts no influence upon any significant following among Republicans. He has served as President for eight years and has left a small mark on the sands of time. Of him, it can be said that he kept us out of war at what price! By 1964, Eisenhower is not likely to have the influence in the Republican Party that Herbert Hoover exercises now, nearly 30 years after he was defeated .

The Republicans do not have too much time. They are now depending on President Kennedy's failure in solving the problems of unemployment, of the value of the dollar, and in the conduct of the foreign policy. But what if President Kennedy should not fail? Having no program except another man's failure is like living in a dead man's shoes. A political party needs more than the negative attitude of hoping that the party in power will fail. If the Republicans could build a conservative program for the country, a logical, a philosophic concept of American life, it would have value, but a party without belief, without ideas, without aspirations except to get jobs for the politicians, is not good enough.

And there is so little time left. The United States needs two parties — a single party, long in power, is intolerable, an opposition party exists to oppose by proposing an alternative program. Have the Republicans an alternative program or what is sloganized as the New Frontier? During the last campaign, the Republican Platform was an absurd document which was not even supported by the candidates in their speeches. The party of Lincoln should have been able to do better than that.

Correct Size of Stocking Can Aid Foot Comfort

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A recent column suggesting that "Sensible Shoes Mean Less Foot Difficulty" has aroused the righteous wrath of an outspoken lady who wears a size 11 shoe with which she would like to practice drop-kicking on medical columnists and on the "men who design those blasted narrow-toe shoes."

But that's not all. "Even if we really get a pair of shoes we can wear, what about the stockings we wear under them?" she queries. "If a size 6 wears a 9 stocking, what size should an 11 wear? And where do I get them? I really want to know. I am desperate with bunions, corns and you name it. My feet hurt, not for the reason you mention but because I can't find stockings to fit. I had a $300 operation on one foot and just don't want to cramp that foot into a small stocking."

Dear lady, you've really got a point.

A local investigation of the stocking problem finds general agreement that (a) you should wear at least a 12 stocking; and (b) the largest stocking obtainable in our neck of the woods is an 11½ and there aren't too many of them.

I hope you realize this is none of my doing. Maybe some kind manufacturer of stockings will read of your plight and correct the present situation. Until then, I hope you won't "cut your foot down to size" as you threaten.

I wouldn't dare suggest you go stockingless.

IN THE FOLLOWING instance, too, I must bow to a correspondent's complaint.

"I am a registered nurse, a housewife and the mother of three very active children," writes Mrs. J. L. "Just how long should I air my bedding after their occupants have slept in them eight or nine hours, plus naps? Isn't the warm moist environment of the slept-in bed just the ideal place for all types of organisms to grow? Shouldn't the beds be aired and sunned several hours every day? Wouldn't it be better to have the house in a state of disarray than concentrate on keeping it looking neat by making the beds early in the day before I go on duty?"

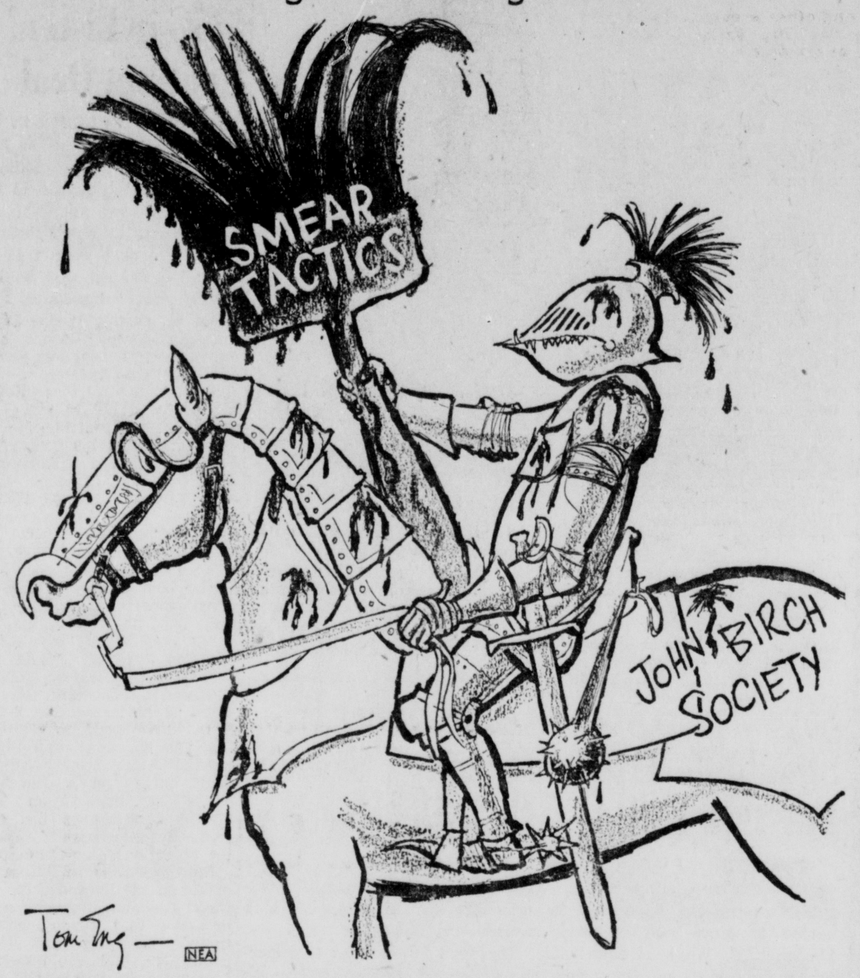

In your dilemma, dear lady, it's necessary to compromise. You surely can't go off to your duties and leave the house looking a mess. And those beds ought to be aired and sunned if it's at all possible. But you can't put fresh linens on more than once or twice a week if you're holding down a job and have to do your own laundry.

Maybe we shouldn't complain that the disarmament conferences are getting nowhere?

Knight in Shining Armor

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — John J. McCloy, head of the new U. S. Disarmament Administration, uses an analogy from the old frontier days to argue that "general and complete disarmament" as proposed by Soviet Russia is a complete fraud.

In the days when cattlemen and sheepmen carried guns, nothing delighted them more than to come to town on Saturday night and shoot up the place —or each other.

The real objectors were the bartenders who didn't like to have their bottles and expensive mirrors busted by stray bullets. The preventive was disarmament.

Persuading the cattlemen and sheepmen to park their guns outside was effective, however, ony when there were armed sheriffs to enforce the law and lock up anyone who didn't want to keep the peace.

This, McCoy maintains, is not "general and complete disarmament," which assumes the existence of a peaceful society. As long as it doesn't exist, an effectively armed police force stronger than the combatants will be required to keep order.

RUSSIA'S KHRUSHCHEV FIRST PROPOSED general and complete disarmament — "GCD" as it's now known to the trade —when he spoke before the U. N. General Assembly in New York, September 1959. Communist propaganda has been plugging this theme ever since, because it sounds good.

Khrushchev made his last pass at it in a speech to a farm audience in Siberia on the day that American-British-Russian test ban talks were resumed in Geneva. He said then that, "We will accept any conditions of control over disarmament if our disarmament proposals are accepted."

This bait has hooked a lot of gullible neutrals who think that controls over international disarmament can be set up as easily as signing a piece of paper in a high-domed palace.

Beating down this glib generality is one of the principal tasks in removing roadblocks to progress on genuine disarmament under previously agreed-to specific controls.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO THE U.N. Adlai Stevenson and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko have tentatively agreed that disarmament talks can be resumed before the next General Assembly in September. But there are still a lot of details to be worked out.

One new concession the Russians want is an enlarged disarmament commission. The last one had representatives from five Western and five Communist nations. The Russians have been proposing to add delegates from five neutral nations.

The odd 5-5 conference had about 150 people around the table by the time all the miltary, scientific and political advisers got together for a plenary session.

A 5-5-5 commission might draw over 200 experts and be so big it would be really unworkable. Also, the Western powers would be in a decided minority and the chances that the neutrals might combine with the Commies to support GCD would be tremendously increased.

As to how long disarmament negotiators will have to drag on, the present reading is that it will take considerably more time to find out whether the Russians are really sincere about wanting disarmament, or whether they're just propagandizing.

FROM AMERICAN AND ALLIED POINTS OF VIEW, this is more than a propaganda battle. There are impelling reasons for positive action. The chances for a nuclear accident are greater than ever before. The need to relieve tension and set up a peaceful society is the incentive for greater brain cudgeling in the State Department's new Disarmament Administration.

It has been expanded to about 80—double the former planning staff size. For its elaborate job of research, the Disarmament Administration is relying heavily on panel of political and exact scientists, engineers and military experts.

For instance, one of the fields on which increased attention is being focussed is the possibility of settling disputes by other means than the force of arms. If a substitute for war could be found through amendement of the United Nations Charter or establishment of a more effective World Court, the need for military power could be diminished and the prospects for disarmament improved.

U.S. Blockade of Cuba Seen If Reds Send More Arms

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—An air and sea blockade of Cuba may have to be imposed by the United States to prevent the landing of munitions and weapons of war by the Soviet government.

Not only is there evidence now that the Russian government has violated the Monroe Doctrine, but that it also has ignored the declaration of the Organization of American States which by resolution affirmed that same doctrine.

The resolution which was adopted at Caracas, Venezeuela, in 1954 declares "that the domination or control of the political institutions of any American state by the international Communist movement, extending to this hemisphere the political system of an extracontinental power, would constitute a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of the American states, endangering the peace of America, and would call for a meeting of consultation to consider the adoption of appropriate action in accordance with existing treaties."

Only U. S. Has the Power

Unfortunately, there isn't time to wait for a meeting of the Organization of American States now, and it so happens that only the United States has the air and sea power to thwart the Russian invasion of Cuban territory.

Dispatches in the last twenty-four hours have revealed that Communist-made MIG jet aircraft as well as Soviet tanks and cannon are actually being used by Castro's army. There is evidence also that Castro's government has been infiltrated by the Communists. Thus the world is witnessing a brazen attempt by the Soviet government to establish a foothold in Cuba and to extend its military domination to other Central and South American states.

President Kennedy would be following historic American policies in ordering that no further war supplies be permitting to land in Cuba. It was to thwart the landing of German munitions in Mexico in 1914 that President Wilson ordered the United States Navy to seize the port of Vera Cruz. Also, on Feb. 24, 1960, President Eisenhower, in addressing the Brazilian Congress, said:

"But we would consider it intervention in the internal affairs of an American state if any power, whether by invasion, coercion or subversion, succeeded in denying freedom of choice to the people of any of our sister republics."

Kennedy Statement

President Kennedy, in his latest message to Nikita Khruschev, says:

"I have previously stated and I repeat now that the United States intends no military intervention in Cuba. In the event of any military intervention by outside force, we will immediately honor our obligations under the inter-American system to protect this hemisphere against external aggression."

This is a warning that unmistakably outlines America's determination to use military power to prevent any further encroachment on Cuban territory. To effectuate such a decision, it is necessary to cut off the landing of any more military weapons or equipment by the Russians. The most practical way to do this is to intercept any planes that may be headed for Cuba and to require any ships that may be destined for Cuban ports to be searched. If they contain munitions, they would be asked to return to their port of origin.

The United States government believes in the right of every people to choose their own rulers when, as in the case of the Castro regime, no elections have been held and a dictatorship has assumed power, there can be no indifference to the acts of a European government which connives with and in effect controls the local dictatorship.

A Struggle of Factions

It is also to be noted that the United States has formally severed diplomatic relations with the Castro government. This means that the Castro regime no longer is recognized as the constituted government of Cuba. It means also that the United States regards what is happening in Cuba as a struggle between two factions, one of which has been guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, not only against the people of Cuba but against the citizens of foreign countries. For any European government to take sides and send military equipment and officers and pilots from its own or satellite governments to carry on a war against the Cuban people is a cause for deep concern by the American government.

Unless Soviet Premier Khrushchev heeds the warning in the message sent by President Kennedy on Tuesday night of this week, the Kremlin can expect a blockade to be imposed against the ships of all nations which may be suspected of carrying munitions of war or military men to assist in the waging of war against the democratic aspirations of the Cuban people.

Just how far formal secondary education was given to young ladies in Kingston is interesting. This is from the first annual report of the Kingston Board of Education, dated 1864 and printed by P. Harlow in book form. It is loaned to me by Mrs. Van Dyck Basten.

This concerns the Kingston Academy. The Academy in its organization and early progress was confined entirely to the instruction of young men. Young ladies were not allowed to participate in its benefits. Shortly after its incorporation, and during the administration of Mr. Smith, (no date given) three young ladies, one of whom was alive in 1864, during the printing of the above book, were permitted to receive evening lessons in geography from the principal, and have the use of the maps and globes.

In 1809, it appears from an entry in the minutes, that some young ladies had been allowed admission into the Academy, and their rate of tuition was established at $10. At the semi-annual meeting in May 1809, it was resolved, that the principal of the Academy have the right of appointing one of the young ladies, his scholar, as a teacher to the females under his care; that the teacher shall not be charged anything for tuition. (In other words be a sort of monitor.)

At a special meeting held December, 1810, the board confirmed an agreement made with Miss Wells, a female teacher, and resolved that the school for females be continued; and a committee was appointed to procure a female teacher capable of teaching painting, embroidery, and if possible, other fine arts. A Miss Paine was employed as instructress. But, at a special meeting, of Jan. 29th, 1812, the female department was dropped.

With present day compulsory education for boy sand girls one can hardly imagine in the early 1800's that a young lady was lucky if she was allowed to study in our Kingston Academy. June 27th, 1817 the trustees of Kingston Academy decided they would open an upper room to young ladies who had a sincere desire to study higher branches of the English language, etc.

Many changes were made in the Academy, and the Rev. Daniel Parker was appointed principal on August 14, 1823 at the salary of $300 per year, in quarterly installments. In addition he received the sum apportioned to the Academy by the Regents of the University. He was also to receive the tuition money, which however, he had to collect at his own risk and responsibility. The Rev. Mr. Parker was to have the exclusive use of the entire building except one room.

The Rev. Mr. Parker immediately opened the Kingston Academy to both girls and boys. Somehow the trustees did not like this arrangement either and soon appointed other principals and made other changes. At a trustee meeting held on March 27, 1830, they decided to build a new academy of brick on the triangular (we now know as Academy Green.) The old academy they sold for $801. The famous red brick Kingsotn Academy structure cost them only $3,325 to build. May 1, 1830 an aappropriation was made for it of $3,300. That was some 130 years ago. I wonder how much such a substantial, brick and stone building, especially a school, would cost the taxpayers today.

LONG MORTGAGES

Dispute is swirling around President Kennedy's proposal to buck up the $9,000-to-$15,000 home market with 40-year mortgages to be made available without any down payment.

The National Association of Home Builders, led by E. J. Burke Jr., its current president, favors the plan as likely to provide a sharp spur to private home building.

The American Bankers Assn. joins the ranks of the dissenters, saying the 40-year plan means mortgages that may outlast the houses and that, in any event, they will cost buyers excessive amounts of interest.

Battle lines in and out of Congress seem to be shaping up behind those positions.

Two arguments made for the longer term by both builders and some government housing officials:

The stretch-out will bring monthly out-of-pocket payments—the factor of prime concern to today's prospective customers—down to levels competitive with rents they now pay for old, cramped, often deteriorating housing.

The "average life of the loan" on 20-year mortgages has been less than 10 years. Experience with the now heavily prevalent 30-year mortgages is insufficient, but with both these and the projected 40-year mortgages the average life of the loan is not expected to be much more than 10 to 12 years.

From this it is argued that the total interest cost and the threat of home deterioration under the 40-year plan are not serious problems.

Critics answering the first point say monthly outlay on a $15,000 house under the 40-year plan and under a 30-year mortgage at 5½ per cent interest, with $600 down, would not be vastly different.

In the former case, payments per month over the full 40 years would be $77.40, in the latter $81.79. But total interest charges in the former instance would be some $22,000, against $15,000 on the 30-year plan.

Opponents note also that fairly low "life of the loan" results from the fact that most FHA-insured homes have their mortgages prepaid through resale.

That resale, frequently for prices that allow the seller to buy a bigger and even costlier house, has been aided in the postwar era by a general atmosphere of high employment, high wages and rising real estate values.

It is argued there is no guarantee these conditions will continue indefinitely, and that 40-year mortgagees thus may find themselves paying on such loans for a longer time.

Congressional soundings indicate the 40-year plan may win a test. But the feeling is obviously widespread that this new move, if it comes, will be to ground that could prove very shaky.

BY VOLUMES

You get this all the time about the United States Senate being the greatest deliberative body in the world. When government record keepers tot up the doings on Capitol Hill, you begin to grasp what this means.

Up to April this year, for instance, the House had met 48 days but the Senate only 42. Yet our distinguished senators in that shorter span managed to outtalk their House colleagues by almost 100 hours, and filled nearly twice as many pages of the Congressional Record.

Since the two houses stand in almost a dead heat in the number of bills and resolutions passed so far, the senators can hardly argue that their extra verbiage is especially productive.

About all it does is underscore, in printer's ink, their reputation as a very deliberative group. They are indeed.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

At this moment, the Republican Party is split into four factions:

1. There are those who still believe that Richard Nixon can make a come-back in 1964, provided he makes a lot of speeches between now and then;

2. The Rockefeller machine is in high gear operation; however, Nelson Rockefeller has to be re-elected Governor of New York State in 1962. This involves a very complex political situation, because the Democrats in New York City are split over the question of the leadership of Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany boss. Should Mayor Wagner be defeated in 1961, Rockefeller will be safer in 1962. Rockefeller, thus far, represents a New Deal liberalism, alien to the Republican Party. What will happen to his political posture should he face John Kennedy in 1964, it is difficult to say. Rockefeller may find no better excuse for running than that he agrees with Kennedy but is more able — a boast that is always suspect;

3. Senator Barry Goldwater has built an enormous following for himself, not only among Republicans but among no-party conservatives. An element of this following might be called McCarthyite. Goldwater is the first Republican to have cracked the intellectual hard shell of the universities; not even Robert A. Taft succeeded in doing that. This generation of youngsters knew not Roosevelt and are not influenced by the excitement of the 1930's;

A. There is a large element of older Republicans who have ceased to be partisans. They are Republicans because they are such, but they vote or do not vote depending upon whether the candidate is significant. Such Republicans fell away from Nixon because of his television speeches; they dislike Rockefeller because he does not belong; they are not sure that they understand Goldwater. In a word, they are very uncertain as to where to go and many of them join crackpot organizations as a demonstration of principle.

It will take the Republican Party more leadership than it now possesses to amalgamate all these different factions into a strong political party. No Republican program is presently possible. What does Senator Styles Bridges have in common with Senator Jacob Javits? Bridges moves within the margins of Republican tradition; Javits is an individualist who runs all over the map without a compass.

In a word, the Republican Party is now so split and riddled that it requires reorganization not only in ideas but in personnel. The great advantage of Robert A. Taft's leadership was that he managed to keep together those who called themselves Republicans. There is no one like Taft among Republicans today.

Perhaps the most surprising factor in this situation is the complete elimination of former President Eisenhower from even a semblance of leadership. He is not consulted by an appreciable element in the party. He exerts no influence upon any significant following among Republicans. He has served as President for eight years and has left a small mark on the sands of time. Of him, it can be said that he kept us out of war at what price! By 1964, Eisenhower is not likely to have the influence in the Republican Party that Herbert Hoover exercises now, nearly 30 years after he was defeated.

The Republicans do not have too much time. They are now depending on President Kennedy's failure in solving the problems of unemployment, of the value of the dollar, and in the conduct of the foreign policy. But what if President Kennedy should not fail? Having no program except another man's failure is like living in a dead man's shoes. A political party needs more than the negative attitude of hoping that the party in power will fail. If the Republicans could build a conservative program for the country, a logical, a philosophic concept of American life, it would have value, but a party without belief, without ideas, without aspirations except to get jobs for the politicians, is not good enough.

And there is so little time left. The United States needs two parties — a single party, long in power, is intolerable, an opposition party exists to oppose by proposing an alternative program. Have the Republicans an alternative program to what is sloganized as the New Frontier? During the last campaign, the Republican Platform was an absurd document which was not even supported by the candidates in their speeches. The party of Lincoln should have been able to do better than that.

Correct Size of Stocking Can Aid Foot Comfort

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A recent column suggesting that "Sensible Shoes Mean Less Foot Difficulty" has aroused the righteous wrath of an outspoken lady who wears a size 11 shoe with which she would like to practice drop-kicking on medical columnists and on the "men who design those blasted narrow-toe shoes."

But that's not all. "Even if we really get a pair of shoes we can wear, what about the stockings we wear under them?" she queries. "If a size 6 wears a 9 stocking, what size should an 11 wear? And where do I get them? I really want to know. I am desperate with bunions, corns and you name it. My feet hurt, not for the reason you mention but because I can't find stockings to fit. I had a $300 operation on one foot and just don't want to cramp that foot into a small stocking."

Dear lady, you've really got a point.

A local investigation of the stocking problem finds general agreement that (a) you should wear at least a 12 stocking; and (b) the largest stocking obtainable in our neck of the woods is an 11½ and there aren't too many of them.

I hope you realize this is none of my doing. Maybe some kind manufacturer of stockings will read of your plight and correct the present situation. Until then, I hope you won't "cut your foot down to size" as you threaten.

I wouldn't dare suggest you go stockingless.

IN THE FOLLOWING instance, too, I must bow to a correspondent's complaint.

"I am a registered nurse, a housewife and the mother of three very active children," writes Mrs. J. L. "Just how long should I air my bedding after their occupants have slept in them eight or nine hours, plus naps? Isn't the warm moist environment of the slept-in bed just the ideal place for all types of organisms to grow? Shouldn't the beds be aired and sunned several hours every day? Wouldn't it be better to have the house in a state of disarray than concentrate on keeping it looking neat by making the beds early in the day before I go on duty?"

In your dilemma, dear lady, it's necessary to compromise. You surely can't go off to your duties and leave the house looking a mess. And those beds ought to be aired and sunned if it's at all possible. But you can't put fresh linens on more than once or twice a week if you're holding down a job and have to do your own laundry.

Maybe we shouldn't complain that the disarmament conferences are getting nowhere?

Knight in Shining Armor

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — John J. McCloy, head of the new U. S. Disarmament Administration, uses an analogy from the old frontier days to argue that "general and complete disarmament" as proposed by Soviet Russia is a complete fraud.

In the days when cattlemen and sheepmen carried guns, nothing delighted them more than to come to town on Saturday night and shoot up the place —or each other.

The real objectors were the bartenders who didn't like to have their bottles and expensive mirrors busted by stray bullets. The preventive was disarmament.

Persuading the cattlemen and sheepmen to park their guns outside was effective, however, ony when there were armed sheriffs to enforce the law and lock up anyone who didn't want to keep the peace.

This, McCoy maintains, is not "general and complete disarmament," which assumes the existence of a peaceful society. As long as it doesn't exist, an effectively armed police force stronger than the combatants will be required to keep order.

RUSSIA'S KHRUSHCHEV FIRST PROPOSED general and complete disarmament — "GCD" as it's now known to the trade —when he spoke before the U. N. General Assembly in New York, September 1959. Communist propaganda has been plugging this theme ever since, because it sounds good.

Khrushchev made his last pass at it in a speech to a farm audience in Siberia on the day that American-British-Russian test ban talks were resumed in Geneva. He said then that, "We will accept any conditions of control over disarmament if our disarmament proposals are accepted."

This bait has hooked a lot of gullible neutrals who think that controls over international disarmament can be set up as easily as signing a piece of paper in a high-domed palace.

Beating down this glib generality is one of the principal tasks in removing roadblocks to progress on genuine disarmament under previously agreed-to specific controls.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO THE U.N. Adlai Stevenson and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko have tentatively agreed that disarmament talks can be resumed before the next General Assembly in September. But there are still a lot of details to be worked out.

One new concession the Russians want is an enlarged disarmament commission. The last one had representatives from five Western and five Communist nations. The Russians have been proposing to add delegates from five neutral nations.

The odd 5-5 conference had about 150 people around the table by the time all the miltary, scientific and political advisers got together for a plenary session.

The Rev. Mr. Parker immediately opened the Kingston Academy to both girls and boys. Somehow the trustees did not like this arrangement either and soon appointed other principals and made other changes. At a trustee meeting held on March 27, 1830, they decided to build a new academy of brick on the triangular (we now know as Academy Green.) The old academy they sold for $801. The famous red brick Kingsotn Academy structure cost them only $3,325 to build. May 1, 1830 an aappropriation was made for it of $3,300. That was some 130 years ago. I wonder how much such a substantial, brick and stone building, especially a school, would cost the taxpayers today.

Gregory Looks Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—Producer Paul Gregory is making theater plans well in advance. He has signed Joan Fontaine and Paul Lucas to star in a show that goes into production in August, 1962. The show is to head for Broadway after a 20-week tour. The bill consists of two works by Bernard Shaw — "The Great Catherine," never previously done in this country; and a trimmed-down version of "Captain Brassbound's Conversion."

CRASH-IFIED ADVERTISEMENT — This general store in Lawrenceville, Ill., makes people believe it when it says "Drive in." The car, which appears to have crashed through the side of the store, has been cut in half and placed against the building with pieces of "debris" piled on it. Clay Childress, operator of the store, says it's a secret how he obtained the 000-000 license plate.

Atomic Weapons Research Called Big U.S. Problem

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Weapons research continues to be this nation's most important problem in the nuclear field, an atomic energy commissioner says.

Speaking at the dedication of the $2.2 million New York Nuclear Research Center at the University of Buffalo, Robert E. Wilson said:

"The number one problem of the commission...is the development and production of atomic and thermonuclear weapons."

He said significant advances in the peaceful use of atomic energy were being made, but said that many of them were the result of weapons research.

"If we had not developed the remarkable process for the production and separation of fissionable materials on a large scale, we would today have very few of the attractive possibilities ...which have come, largely as by-products, from the efforts of this group of (weapons) scientists," Wilson said in the speech Wednesday night.

Gov. Rockefeller was to join the formal dedication of the center on the university campus this afternoon.

Governor Signs For Westchester Route of 502 Road

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has signed a bill designating the general route of Interstate Highway 502 in Westchester County.

The State Public Works Department said Wednesday, however, that the measure left unanswered the controversial question of the exact alignment of the highway.

The measure provides that Route 502, also known as State Route 87, extends from the Major Deegan Expressway at the New York City-Westchester line northerly through Yonkers to the State Thruway at Elmsford north to Route 503 at Brewster.

This route would bring the highway through a small sector of Fairfield County, Conn. The bill permits the state to make arrangements with Connecticut for construction of the segment running through that state.

The public works spokesman said the exact route through Westchester still was under study, although it would be through the eastern part of that county.

There has been continuing debate in Westchester over the alignment of the highway.

The original proposal of the Public Works Department called for a route through the Chestnut Ridge area of Westchester. Opponents claimed this would bring it through several private estates and golf courses.

The department said that despite approval of the legislation, no final decision had been made and the bill signed by the governor merely provided authorization for the department to make a final choice.

Auto Accidents Cost Last Year Was $586 Million

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Automobile accidents last year in New York State cost $586 million, based on wage laws, medical expenses, overhead cost of insurance and property damage.

The value of 2,088 lives lost in the crashes was not included, the Motor Vehicle Department said Wednesday.

The cost of the 323,866 motor vehicle accidents in the state in 1960 was $16 million less than in 1959, when 330,085 accidents occurred.

156th Artillery Dinner Speaker Warns of Threat

Lieut. Col. Raymond F. Joyce Jr., assistant operations and training officer, Headquarters New York Army National Guard, Albany, warned "all Americans" in his talk Wednesday evening before nearly 100 officers and non-commisioned officers of the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, "to be alert to Communist tactics — America's best defense lies in the alertness of its patriotic citizens."

Col. Joyce was the guest speaker at the artillerymen's regular dinner and school held at the state armory here. He pointed out, "we should make no mistake about Communism. It is like a cancer in our midst and its success is based upon the theory of 'protracted conflict' — annihilation of the free world over a period of time — while avoiding its overwhelming retaliation." Col. Joyce said, "most Americans are not convinced that we are at war with Communism, even though its program was clearly stated as long ago as 1932. With the Communists in control of more than one-third of the earth and a billion or more people in its grip —the situation we face in the United States and elsewhere is one of survival. The next 10 years will be our most difficult. We are involved in a vicious, conclusive struggle."

"Be informed and be ready and willing to act," he urged his listeners," and make known your patriotic views as you become informed and interested in the American foreign policy. Know your teachers who teach your children, vote intelligently, assert your loyalty. Beware of the many films, literature and other entertainment media which employ social and moral depravity as their themes. This is a subtle form of subversion with which the Communists aim to weaken our moral fibre. A free America is a never ending responsibility — of every American . . . And with all, pray to God . . . for the fate of the world will be decided by the Creator."

Robert R. Anderson, Sawkill, "ham" radio operator and instructor, was honored with the presentation of a framed "Guardsman Award" in recognition of his patriotic service to the National Guard. The certificate was signed by Major General A. C. O'Hara, commander of the New York Army National Guard and Major General D. W. McGowan, chief of the National Guard Bureau. It was presented by Major Frank Fabbie, battalion executive officer. Anderson accepted stating "this is a unexpected surprise and I am deeply grateful and honored."

Cuban Plane Detained

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — A Cubana airliner en route from Madrid to Havana made an unauthorized landing at a U.S. Air Force base here today and was detained by military authorities.

A statement issued by Kindley Air Force Base said the liner lacked insurance coverage required for landing at a United States military field.

The base reported that 13 crewmen and 8 passengers were aboard and that accommodations had been provided for them at the base.

Cuba Claims . . .

communique issued Wednesday night in New York.

The rebel command now appeared to be anticipating a mounting guerrilla campaign which they hoped would steadily attract popular support within Cuba, much in the manner of Castro's guerrilla campaign from the mountains of Oriente Province that ultimately brought the downfall of Fulgencio Batista.

Admits Tragic Losses

The rebel council admitted "tragic losses" but said they occurred among a small holding force whose delaying action enabled the bulk of the rebel force to escape to the mountains.

Castro firing squads continued their work. The Cuban radio said seven more men were executed, including Humberto Sori Marin, a former major in Castro's revolutionary force and his former minister of agriculture.

Widespread arrests throughout Cuba were reported today by the Havana correspondent of the Communist Yugoslav paper Politika. He claimed Castro's security police smashed all attempts by Cubans inside the island to aid the invaders with a network of informers and "committees of alertness."

"The committees of alertness formed in houses and blocks have the duty to report everything and every suspicious man to the security police," the Politika correspondent reported.

3 Britons Jailed

"Based on their denunciations, not only innumerable arrests took place, but they made it possible for the security service to prevent cooperation between interior counterrevolutionaries with those who disembarked."

The British Foreign Office announced in London that three Britons—one an information officer in the British Embassy—were in jail. A British woman who had been jailed was released Monday and placed under a guard in a hospital.

There was no word of 20 Americans reported under arrest.

Associated Press correspondent Bem Price, in a dispatch from the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, said anti-Castro Cubans in Oriente Province are fearful that the rebels waited too long to strike and thus allowed Castro to arrest or scatter leaders who might have been rallying points for an uprising.

Price quoted an American source familiar with the activities of Cubans in Oriente as saying the population hopes the revolt against Castro will succeed "but they are doing nothing until they have a better idea of what is happening."

Castro Whereabouts Mystery

The whereabouts of Castro was a mystery. Although a prolific speaker with a penchant for the limelight, he has not been heard over the Cuban radio or seen on television since the insurgents invaded Cuba Monday.

Raul Castro, the prime minister's brother and minister of the armed forces, was reported in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province where he has directed the campaign against rebels in the hills.

President Kennedy called a full cabinet meeting today in Washington and planned to discuss the explosive Cuban situation publicly in a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors—the same group Castro told two years ago "we are not Communists."

A long editorial in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ, attacked what it called "Kennedy's big stick policy" toward Cuba and repeated the warning made by the Soviet government Tuesday that U. S. support of the Cuban rebels "may jeopardize the peaceful life of the United States itself."

20 Americans; Three Newsmen Arrested in Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Swiss government has reported that about 20 Americans have been arrested in Havana, State Department officials said today.

Three of the 20 were newsmen, the report said, but it did not give their names.

Earlier reports from other quarters had said that Robert Berrellez of The Associated Press and Henry Raymont of United Press International had been placed under arrest.

The Swiss also reported a rumor—not confirmed—that the pro - Communist Castro regime was preparing to round up all Americans in Cuba for questioning.

The word was received from the Swiss Embassy in Havana by way of Bern. It broke what had been described as a communications blackout in diplomatic contact with the Cuban capital since the fighting started early this week.

The Swiss Embassy is handling U. S. interests in Cuba because the United States has broken diplomatic ties with the Castro government.

The United States has asked the Swiss to tell the Castro regime to take every precaution for the safety of Americans in Cuba. Some 1,200 U. S. citizens are said to be in Cuba, many of them longtime residents there.

To Discuss Feed Emergency Plans Tonight at Parley

A meeting will be held at the Shawangunk Reformed Church Hall, Bruynswick, at 7:30 p. m. today at which time the one-year emergency feed grain program will be discussed.

The program is voluntary and offers all producers of field corn (husking and silage) an opportunity to work together with their government in improving the feed grain situation. It provides for the reduction of corn acreage from the 1959-60 base on individual farms. Farmers who make the reductions will receive payments for diverting the former grain acreage to conservation uses.

The discussion tonight is sponsored by the Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

NORTH BEND, Ore. (AP)—The Rev. and Mrs. William Walker filed their federal income tax return in proper form—but sent only 45 per cent of the money due. They estimated the 55 per cent they did not remit represented money for future or past wars.

In Portland, Internal Revenue Service officials said the full tax would be collected.

Robert Christian Genninger, 19, Saugerties, charged with burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and second degree grand larceny growing out of entrance to the Saugerties Diner, January 23, 1961, was given 78 days in the county jail on a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. He was granted credit for time served. Other charges were dismissed. John Davis Barris charged with the same offense had his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute. Wari Ingalsbe Jr., appeared for defendants.

Robert Hendrickson, against whom two indictments have been filed, was in court for assignment of new counsel. His former counsel withdrew and Thomas Saccoman was assigned by Judge Mino. Hendrickson is charged with entrance to the Grand Union Market in New Paltz on November 2, 1960, in one bill and with entrance to the William Schmershal premises in Saugerties on March 8, 1961. Establishment of a concentrated downtown shopping district and a Rondout Creek area museum were among urban renewal proposals in a committee report given at a Wednesday night meeting of the Rondout Area Business Men's Association in Ray's Riverside Rest, Ferry Street.

Reactions and suggestions from business men in the area for which urban renewal is being compiled by the committee and periodical reports will be given as planning progresses.

On the committee headed by Raymond P. Quill are: Marvin Millens, Morris Tucker, Alfred Radel, Walter Bruchholz, and Benjamin Magaldino.

Bars Gleason Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Wiliam C. Hecht, Jr., today barred the telecasting Friday night of the taped Jackie Gleason "Million-Dollar Incident" program as long as it includes the "name or characterization" of the comedian's former manager, George (Bullets) Durgom.

Justice Hecht said that while he was sympathetic to the problems of the Columbia Broadcasting System it would be a clear violation of Durgom's civil rights to deny the injunction. CBS said it would lose $500,000 if the show was canceled.

Group Seen Favoring End Of Rebel Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Some U. N. delegates expressed belief the General Assembly's political committee would vote approval today on a Mexican resolution calling for an end to all aid to the Cuban rebels.

It was generally expected the 99-nation committee would also approve a seven-nation Latin-American resolution asking the countries of the Americas to help achieve a peaceful settlement between Cuba and the United States.

But there was some doubt that either of the two resolutions could get the two-thirds vote needed to guarantee final approval later in the assembly. Only a simple majority is required for committee passage.

Delegates generally saw no possibility that the Soviet Union could put through its proposal that the assembly condemn the United States for aggression on the ground that the anti-Castro rebels were trained and armed on U. S. soil for Monday's invasion of Cuba.

25-30 Margin

Senate to Vote Wage Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate is expected to pass President Kennedy's minimum wage bill today by a margin of 25 to 30 votes.

With Kennedy as floor manager, the Senate approved a similar measure last August 62 to 34. Administration lieutenants expect a similar margin this time.

Action on all amendments was completed late Wednesday after backers of the President's bill had succeeded in beating down all efforts to reduce the measure's provisions.

But Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana delayed the final hour of debate and vote until today after several senators said Wednesday night they were anxious to get away for speaking engagements.

With no further changes possible, the Senate is certain to pass the legislation in the form Kennedy recommended it.

This calls for an increase in the $1 an hour wage floor to $1.25 by 1963 and coverage of 4 million more employes under the wages and hours act. Most of these workers would be in retail stores, service establishments and construction jobs.

It then will be up to the administration to win the broadest measure it can in a Senate-House conference. The House passed a much narrower bill, providing for a $1.15 minimum and coverage of 1.2 million additional workers.

Kennedy Popular But Not Program Is Nixon's View

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said today he finds a great deal of popular support for President Kennedy as an individual. But he said he finds "very little interest in and virtually no support for his program."

The former vice president told a news conference he believes there is little support "for a program as far to the left as the Kennedy economic program."

Nixon, narrowly defeated by Kennedy for the presidency in last November's election, declined to grade the first 90 days of the new Democratic administration but said he would do so in a cross-country speaking tour starting next month.

Pope Brothers Plan to Eliminate Interest Conflict

Anthony Pope, president of Colonial Sand & Stone Co., Inc., which owns Hudson Cement Corp., plant in the steep rocks section of Kingston said today, he and his brother, Fortune, executive vice president of the firm, plan to eliminate a possible source of conflict of interest by the end of the year, The Wall Street Journal reported today.

Pope told the annual meeting of the firm, he and his brother expect either to consolidate into Colonial two companies they own or divest themselves of their holdings in the two concerns. The two companies, Empire Sand and Stone Corp., and Colonial Blue Diamond Mortar Corp., do business with Colonial Sand, which is 66 per cent owned by the Pope brothers, their families and a foundation set up by the Pope family.

The disclosure came in reply to a question from a shareholder, who suggested the recent indictment of the Pope brothers on charges of violating U. S. securities laws, "perhaps" stemmed from similar relationships between Colonial Sand and other companies owned by the Pope brothers.

The Pope brothers were recently fined $25,000 each in Federal Court and given one-year suspended sentences after pleading guilty to charges of having filed proxy material containing misleading statements, the Wall Street Journal reported

Both were reelected directors of the firm at the election which followed.

156th Artillery Dinner Speaker Warns of Threat

Lieut. Col. Raymond F. Joyce Jr., assistant operations and training officer, Headquarters New York Army National Guard, Albany, warned "all Americans" in his talk Wednesday evening before nearly 100 officers and non-commisioned officers of the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, "to be alert to Communist tactics — America's best defense lies in the alertness of its patriotic citizens."

Col. Joyce was the guest speaker at the artillerymen's regular dinner and school held at the state armory here. He pointed out, "we should make no mistake about Communism. It is like a cancer in our midst and its success is based upon the theory of 'protracted conflict' — annihilation of the free world over a period of time — while avoiding its overwhelming retaliation." Col. Joyce said, "most Americans are not convinced that we are at war with Communism, even though its program was clearly stated as long ago as 1932. With the Communists in control of more than one-third of the earth and a billion or more people in its grip —the situation we face in the United States and elsewhere is one of survival. The next 10 years will be our most difficult. We are involved in a vicious, conclusive struggle."

"Be informed and be ready and willing to act," he urged his listeners," and make known your patriotic views as you become informed and interested in the American foreign policy. Know your teachers who teach your children, vote intelligently, assert your loyalty. Beware of the many films, literature and other entertainment media which employ social and moral depravity as their themes. This is a subtle form of subversion with which the Communists aim to weaken our moral fibre. A free America is a never ending responsibility — of every American . . . And with all, pray to God . . . for the fate of the world will be decided by the Creator."

Robert R. Anderson, Sawkill, "ham" radio operator and instructor, was honored with the presentation of a framed "Guardsman Award" in recognition of his patriotic service to the National Guard. The certificate was signed by Major General A. C. O'Hara, commander of the New York Army National Guard and Major General D. W. McGowan, chief of the National Guard Bureau. It was presented by Major Frank Fabbie, battalion executive officer. Anderson accepted stating "this is a unexpected surprise and I am deeply grateful and honored."

Cuban Plane Detained

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — A Cubana airliner en route from Madrid to Havana made an unauthorized landing at a U.S. Air Force base here today and was detained by military authorities.

A statement issued by Kindley Air Force Base said the liner lacked insurance coverage required for landing at a United States military field.

The base reported that 13 crewmen and 8 passengers were aboard and that accommodations had been provided for them at the base.

Cuba Claims . . .

communique issued Wednesday night in New York.

The rebel command now appeared to be anticipating a mounting guerrilla campaign which they hoped would steadily attract popular support within Cuba, much in the manner of Castro's guerrilla campaign from the mountains of Oriente Province that ultimately brought the downfall of Fulgencio Batista.

Admits Tragic Losses

The rebel council admitted "tragic losses" but said they occurred among a small holding force whose delaying action enabled the bulk of the rebel force to escape to the mountains.

Castro firing squads continued their work. The Cuban radio said seven more men were executed, including Humberto Sori Marin, a former major in Castro's revolutionary force and his former minister of agriculture.

Widespread arrests throughout Cuba were reported today by the Havana correspondent of the Communist Yugoslav paper Politika. He claimed Castro's security police smashed all attempts by Cubans inside the island to aid the invaders with a network of informers and "committees of alertness."

"The committees of alertness formed in houses and blocks have the duty to report everything and every suspicious man to the security police," the Politika correspondent reported.

3 Britons Jailed

"Based on their denunciations, not only innumerable arrests took place, but they made it possible for the security service to prevent cooperation between interior counterrevolutionaries with those who disembarked."

The British Foreign Office announced in London that three Britons—one an information officer in the British Embassy—were in jail. A British woman who had been jailed was released Monday and placed under a guard in a hospital.

There was no word of 20 Americans reported under arrest.

Associated Press correspondent Bem Price, in a dispatch from the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, said anti-Castro Cubans in Oriente Province are fearful that the rebels waited too long to strike and thus allowed Castro to arrest or scatter leaders who might have been rallying points for an uprising.

Price quoted an American source familiar with the activities of Cubans in Oriente as saying the population hopes the revolt against Castro will succeed "but they are doing nothing until they have a better idea of what is happening."

NORTH BEND, Ore. (AP)—The Rev. and Mrs. William Walker filed their federal income tax return in proper form—but sent only 45 per cent of the money due. They estimated the 55 per cent they did not remit represented money for future or past wars.

In Portland, Internal Revenue Service officials said the full tax would be collected.

Criminal Cases Up Before Judge Mino on Wednesday

Several criminal matters were disposed of before County Judge Raymond J. Mino Wednesday afternoon and several other criminal matters were adjourned until Monday at 10 a. m.

Among the matters disposed of on application of District Attorney David W. Corwin were:

Alton O'Neil, 31, Milton, charged with burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and petit larceny, alleged to have been committed on February 8, 1961. A plea of guilty to unlawful entry was accepted. Robert MacKinnon appeared for O'Neill and on his motion the other counts of the indictment were dismissed. A nine-month jail sentence was imposed. Credit for time served was allowed.

Willie Lee Williams, 42, Milton, jointly indicted with O'Neil, received a like sentence and was allowed credit for time served. Robert MacKinnon also appeared for Williams.

Robert Christian Genninger, 19, Saugerties, charged with burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and second degree grand larceny growing out of entrance to the Saugerties Diner, January 23, 1961, was given 78 days in the county jail on a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. He was granted credit for time served. Other charges were dismissed. John Davis Barris charged with the same offense had his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute. Ward Ingalsbe Jr., appeared for defendants.

Robert Hendrickson, against whom two indictments have been filed, was in court for assignment of new counsel. His former counsel withdrew and Thomas Saccoman was assigned by Judge Mino. Hendrickson is charged with entrance to the Grand Union Market in New Paltz on November 2, 1960, in one bill and with entrance to the William Schmershal premises in Saugerties on March 8, 1961. The matter was adjourned to April 24 at 2 p. m. Indicted with Henderson for the New Paltz entrance is also Moses Harrel and for the Saugerties charge is Bernard Ferraro. The Ferraro case was adjourned to April 24, at 10 a. m. on motion of Hubert Richter, counsel for Ferraro.

Robert Jay McCandless and John Ellsworth McCandless, represented by Richard Griggs, had their cases adjourned to April 25 at 10 a. m. They are charged with robbery, assault and grand larceny arising out of the alleged robbing of an Ellenville woman on January 21, 1961.

The case of LeRoy Hydrick, second degree grand larceny, was adjourned to April 24 at 2 p. m.

Robert Wesley Warren, 17, Ellenville, charged with first degree grand larceny, will have his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute. Alex Nirenberg appeared for defendant.

The first degree manslaughter charge against Helen Mae Brinkman was postponed until April 24, at 2 p. m. on application of her counsel, Sherwood E. Davis. Mrs. Brinkman is charged with the death of her infant daughter at her Chichester home.

DowntownBuying District Major Topic at Meeting

Establishment of a concentrated downtown shopping district and a Rondout Creek area museum were among urban renewal proposals in a committee report given at a Wednesday night meeting of the Rondout Area Business Men's Association in Ray's Riverside Rest, Ferry Street.

The merchants' special urban renewal committee also proposed establishment of downtown dock facilities and erection of street canopies in the rehabilitated commercial areas.

Reactions and suggestions from business men in the area for which urban renewal is being compiled by the committee and periodical reports will be given as planning progresses.

On the committee headed by Raymond P. Quill are: Marvin Millens, Morris Tucker, Alfred Radel, Walter Bruchholz, and Benjamin Magaldino.

Apple Importance To State Subject At Lions Meeting

The importance of apple development in New York State and Ulster county, which has pioneered in controlled atmosphere storage, was emphasized by Lamonte Marvin of Bearsville, manager of the New York and New England Apple Institute, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday.

Marvin is a professional advisor to the board of directors of the apple institute. He was at one time the advertising manager for the Florida Citrus Commission. He is the father of Lee Marvin of television fame.

Bars Gleason Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Wiliam C. Hecht, Jr., today barred the telecasting Friday night of the taped Jackie Gleason "Million-Dollar Incident" program as long as it includes the "name or characterization" of the comedian's former manager, George (Bullets) Durgom.

Justice Hecht said that while he was sympathetic to the problems of the Columbia Broadcasting System it would be a clear violation of Durgom's civil rights to deny the injunction. CBS said it would lose $500,000 if the show was canceled.

Group Seen Favoring End Of Rebel Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Some U. N. delegates expressed belief the General Assembly's political committee would vote approval today on a Mexican resolution calling for an end to all aid to the Cuban rebels.

It was generally expected the 99-nation committee would also approve a seven-nation Latin-American resolution asking the countries of the Americas to help achieve a peaceful settlement between Cuba and the United States.

But there was some doubt that either of the two resolutions could get the two-thirds vote needed to guarantee final approval later in the assembly. Only a simple majority is required for committee passage.

Delegates generally saw no possibility that the Soviet Union could put through its proposal that the assembly condemn the United States for aggression on the ground that the anti-Castro rebels were trained and armed on U. S. soil for Monday's invasion of Cuba.

25-30 Margin

Senate to Vote Wage Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate is expected to pass President Kennedy's minimum wage bill today by a margin of 25 to 30 votes.

With Kennedy as floor manager, the Senate approved a similar measure last August 62 to 34. Administration lieutenants expect a similar margin this time.

Action on all amendments was completed late Wednesday after backers of the President's bill had succeeded in beating down all efforts to reduce the measure's provisions.

But Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana delayed the final hour of debate and vote until today after several senators said Wednesday night they were anxious to get away for speaking engagements.

With no further changes possible, the Senate is certain to pass the legislation in the form Kennedy recommended it.

This calls for an increase in the $1 an hour wage floor to $1.25 by 1963 and coverage of 4 million more employes under the wages and hours act. Most of these workers would be in retail stores, service establishments and construction jobs.

It then will be up to the administration to win the broadest measure it can in a Senate-House conference. The House passed a much narrower bill, providing for a $1.15 minimum and coverage of 1.2 million additional workers.

Kennedy Popular But Not Program Is Nixon's View

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said today he finds a great deal of popular support for President Kennedy as an individual. But he said he finds "very little interest in and virtually no support for his program."

The former vice president told a news conference he believes there is little support "for a program as far to the left as the Kennedy economic program."

Nixon, narrowly defeated by Kennedy for the presidency in last November's election, declined to grade the first 90 days of the new Democratic administration but said he would do so in a cross-country speaking tour starting next month.

Resident Accused Of Theft at Store

Accused of taking a package of cheese valued at 43 cents from a counter at the Grand Union Store on Albany Avenue today, Richard Cook, 62, of Lake Road, Kingston, was booked on a petty larceny charge.

Police said Cook was released in $25 bail pending arraignment before City Judge Aaron E. Klein at 9 a. m. Friday. The arrest was made by Security Officer James R. Powers of Poughkeepsie.

Pope Brothers Plan to Eliminate Interest Conflict

Anthony Pope, president of Colonial Sand & Stone Co., Inc., which owns Hudson Cement Corp., plant in the steep rocks section of Kingston said today, he and his brother, Fortune, executive vice president of the firm, plan to eliminate a possible source of conflict of interest by the end of the year, The Wall Street Journal reported today.

Pope told the annual meeting of the firm, he and his brother expect either to consolidate into Colonial two companies they own or divest themselves of their holdings in the two concerns. The two companies, Empire Sand and Stone Corp., and Colonial Blue Diamond Mortar Corp., do business with Colonial Sand, which is 66 per cent owned by the Pope brothers, their families and a foundation set up by the Pope family.

The disclosure came in reply to a question from a shareholder, who suggested the recent indictment of the Pope brothers on charges of violating U. S. securities laws, "perhaps" stemmed from similar relationships between Colonial Sand and other companies owned by the Pope brothers.

The Pope brothers were recently fined $25,000 each in Federal Court and given one-year suspended sentences after pleading guilty to charges of having filed proxy material containing misleading statements, the Wall Street Journal reported

Both were reelected directors of the firm at the election which followed.

Will Go Anywhere To Advise Laos: U.S.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Brig. Gen. Andrew Jackson Boyle, commander of the new U. S. Military Assistance and Advisory Group here, said today his men will go wherever necessary—including to frontline action — to advise the Laotian army in its critical fight with pro-Communist rebels.

The changeover from the ostensibly civilian-run programs evaluation office to a full - fledged military advisory group came today with little more fanfare than Boyle appearing in a crisp khaki uniform instead of his usual sport shirt.

Only a few of the 300-man group turned up wearing uniforms, which were airlifted in. The rest had their uniforms at tailors for alterations.

"I forgot how to salute," one private said.

Gen. Boyle, a youthful looking 49-year-old West Point graduate from Culpeper, Va., says he hopes the impact of the change-over will be more than uniform deep, and that sight of Americans in uniform will reassure uneasy frontline troops of the Laos army.

MANILA (AP) — Against a background of civil war in Laos South Viet Nam, the Southeast and Communist terrorism in South Viet Nam, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization is holding its biggest military exercise.

U. S. Marines, Britons, Australians, Thais and Filipinos—6,000 combat troops—are moving in 40 ships toward a mock assault of beaches in British North Borneo.

Just last February, the United States conducted a huge military exercise off Southeast Asia. Thousands of soldiers from as far away as the eastern United States were airlifted to the Philippines for maneuvers.

Work Law Now

the closing days of the annual, 30-day bill signing period

He has until Monday midnight to complete action on the 1,294 bills passed by the 1961 Legislature.

Action on Other Bills

This was Rockefeller's action on other bills:

Public Authorities—Signed a bill requiring public authorities to submit more detailed financial information to the governor and Legislature. Another measure sets up provisions under which authority members may be removed on grounds of inefficiency, neglect of duty or misconduct. At present, removal of an authority member usually requires court action

The measures were approved amidst growing complaints that authorities, which are agencies created by the Legislature to do a specific job, have grown too powerful and free from voter control.

A chief target of legislative critics, the Port of New York Authority, was not affected by the legislative action, however.

Legal Notices—Approved a bill providing that cities under 30,000 population will have to publish legal notices of traffic-law changes in one newspaper published or having a general circulation within the city, instead of in three papers circulating in that city.

Killed on Way to Wife

INLET, N. Y. (AP) — Donald Rushlaw, 31, of Saranac Lake, enroute to Utica to meet his wife Wednesday night, was killed when his automobile struck two guard posts beside Route 28 near this Adirondack community.

Rushlaw's wife, Betty, had been in a hospital in Utica, and he had planned to drive her home.

Israel Flexes Its Muscles on 13th Anniversary Fete

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel celebrated its 13th anniversary as a nation today with a parade of military might in Jerusalem, including tanks and heavy arms brought into the city in defiance of the U.N. Security Council.

An estimated 250,000 people applauded and cheered as column after column of tanks, heavy artillery, antitank missiles and other weapons rolled past.

Jordan had charged that bringing heavy arms into Jerusalem violated the Palestine armistice agreement since Jerusalem is in the demilitarized zone.

Solar Energy Topic at Rotary

The ice caves in the Township of Rosendale, which are being used in the production of mushrooms and in the refrigeration of Ulster County sweet corn, may be further utilized in creating solar energy, Engineer Paul Sturges of Stone Ridge told members of Kingston Rotary Club at their luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

Harnessing the sun with the natural elements of the caves for the newest source of energy was explained in detail by the speaker. Graphs, also pictures of the caves were shown. The geo-solar source of energy, which current-tion, is the most advanced in the long history of energy produtions, which has made use of coal, petroleum, natural gas and nuclear sources.

He explained that the ice caves in this area are part of the mines from which limestone was taken for the production of Rosendale cement, which has been used since the early 1800's.

President-elect Grover announced that the dedication of the Meditation Room in the Kingston Hospital will take place May 24. This is a Kingston Rotary project. It is expected the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, who was a member of this committee, will be the speaker at the dedicatory exercises.

Following the luncheon, members of Rotary proceeded in a body to the Conner Funeral Home, where they paid their respects to the memory of the late Rotarian John Saxe.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly with a tendency toward the downside as trading slackened early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .20 at 243.50 with industrials down .80, rails down .10 and utilities up .20.

Gains and losses of key stocks were narrow, most of them within a 1-point range. Wider advances of a few selected issues which responded to speculative demand were highlights, but even in this group early gains were cut.

Some of the aircraft-missiles and electronics continued to make strides but there was little group leadership displayed in other sections of the list.

Polaroid cut an early 7-point advance to about 3. Gains of 4 points or better were made by Zenith, Litton Industries and Revlon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.30 at 684.91.

Nixon May Give GOP Plans Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans get a chance today to try to pump Richard M. Nixon about his political plans.

But some of them said they don't expect to learn whether he will run for governor of California next year. Nixon, the Republican's 1960 presidential candidate, meets GOP congressional leaders today.

In his first public appearance in Washington since President Kennedy took office, Nixon announced he would hold a news conference after the meeting but wouldn't answer any questions on "pending issues."

He said he wants to save such answers for a speaking tour beginning next month.

Expect . . .

Caunitz said reservation for a 50,000 to 60,00 square foot area has been made for the Newberry firm.

To Park 2,000 Cars

A survey of the 40-acre tract has been completed and based in this survey plans for the shopping center are now being developed. Provision will be made for parking of at least 2,000 cars and there will also be provision for additional parking in the event of future expansion of the center.

Present plans call for a covered center mall, attractively landscaped, upon which the smaller stores in the shopping center will face.

Among the engineering problems which will be worked out by Brinnier and Larios in connection with city officials is that of putting in a sewage and drainage pumping system since the area lies below exisiting levels.

Caunitz said today that financial arrangements have been worked out by Muradin for the project which it is estimated will cost in excess of $1,500,000. The opening date is aimed at June 1, 1962, Caunitz said.

Muradin is now erecting three shopping centers in Massachusetts and one at Bangor, Me.

Tax Program . . .

to stir controversy aplenty. However, there could be little argument over Kennedy's main objectives: to stimulate the economy, make U.S. business more competitive with fast-stepping foreign competition, and reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit.

Expansion Key Item

The key item, and perhaps the most controversial, was the proposed tax incentive for business expansion and modernization. In essence, Kennedy would permit companies to subtract from their tax bills an amount equal to part of their annual investment in new or improved facilities.

Many businessmen already have indicated opposition to this "tax credit" idea. Some have said they would rather be allowed to increase their depreciation allowances; that is, the amount they can set aside, free from tax, to offset the inevitable aging of new or improved facilities which must eventually be replaced.

Chamber Warns Consumers About Signing Contract

Inquiries as to how to void contracts after being signed for the purchase of a wide variety of items continue to come in at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce has issued numerous warnings about not signing anything before being absolutely sure what it is and that you realize the obligations to which it commits the individual.

The State Attorney General has released a leaflet on the subject calling the attention of consumers to 10 points to be considered.

In releasing this information today Chamber Manager, Albert Kurdt said that most of the calls involve direct selling efforts. The salesmen are well trained and it behooves the customer to make sure they want the item under consideration, that it is being offered at competitive price and not be mislead by emphasis on the small weekly payment gimmick. Kurdt remarked, "52 time $5 is still $260," and in two years its $520.

Quick In-and-Out Trades Risky for Most Investors

Q) "We have a broker who seems to buy and sell rather frequently. He says it is better to turn your money over ten times a year and take a small profit each time. Is he right?" J. M.

A) In theory, the practice of rapid turnover of capital to make quick profits appears very attractive. In application, it gives a sense of action and, if a few well-timed choices happen to be made, you will get the impression that beating the market is a fairly simple business. Nothing could be further from the truth.

In a strong market when nearly all stocks are moving ahead, trading quickly in and out for a few points profit may work out and make both you and your broker look pretty good.

In a dull or a churning market it is a far different story. Your capital will probably be eaten up by brokerage commissions and strings of unprofitable transactions. Trading in and out is done, but I suggest it be left to the professionals.

Q) "I'm a farmer and have noticed the fast growth of Tractor Supply stores. A new one near my town is doing an excellent business. The stock seems to be at an all-time high. Would you recommend it for growth at its present high price?" H. L.

A) Yes. Looking back over my record of this column, I find I've recommended Tractor Supply seven times over the past 12 months. I now run my score up to eight.

This company combines two types of operations that have built-in growth—replacements parts for farm machinery, and mail order business. Earnings have risen steadily over the past seven years, which included two recessions. Shares are expected to be split May 24, which will bring them down to a more popular price level. They sell for about 27 times my conservative estimate of 1961 earnings, a ratio that is not out of line with similar fast-growth situations.

Israel Flexes Its Muscles on 13th Anniversary Fete

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel celebrated its 13th anniversary as a nation today with a parade of military might in Jerusalem, including tanks and heavy arms brought into the city in defiance of the U.N. Security Council.

An estimated 250,000 people applauded and cheered as column after column of tanks, heavy artillery, antitank missiles and other weapons rolled past.

Jordan had charged that bringing heavy arms into Jerusalem violated the Palestine armistice agreement since Jerusalem is in the demilitarized zone.

Solar Energy Topic at Rotary

The ice caves in the Township of Rosendale, which are being used in the production of mushrooms and in the refrigeration of Ulster County sweet corn, may be further utilized in creating solar energy, Engineer Paul Sturges of Stone Ridge told members of Kingston Rotary Club at their luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

Harnessing the sun with the natural elements of the caves for the newest source of energy was explained in detail by the speaker. Graphs, also pictures of the caves were shown. The geo-solar source of energy, which current-tion, is the most advanced in the long history of energy produtions, which has made use of coal, petroleum, natural gas and nuclear sources.

He explained that the ice caves in this area are part of the mines from which limestone was taken for the production of Rosendale cement, which has been used since the early 1800's.

President-elect Grover announced that the dedication of the Meditation Room in the Kingston Hospital will take place May 24. This is a Kingston Rotary project. It is expected the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, who was a member of this committee, will be the speaker at the dedicatory exercises.

Following the luncheon, members of Rotary proceeded in a body to the Conner Funeral Home, where they paid their respects to the memory of the late Rotarian John Saxe.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly with a tendency toward the downside as trading slackened early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .20 at 243.50 with industrials down .80, rails down .10 and utilities up .20.

Gains and losses of key stocks were narrow, most of them within a 1-point range. Wider advances of a few selected issues which responded to speculative demand were highlights, but even in this group early gains were cut.

Some of the aircraft-missiles and electronics continued to make strides but there was little group leadership displayed in other sections of the list.

Polaroid cut an early 7-point advance to about 3. Gains of 4 points or better were made by Zenith, Litton Industries and Revlon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.30 at 684.91.

Nixon May Give GOP Plans Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans get a chance today to try to pump Richard M. Nixon about his political plans.

But some of them said they don't expect to learn whether he will run for governor of California next year. Nixon, the Republican's 1960 presidential candidate, meets GOP congressional leaders today.

In his first public appearance in Washington since President Kennedy took office, Nixon announced he would hold a news conference after the meeting but wouldn't answer any questions on "pending issues."

He said he wants to save such answers for a speaking tour beginning next month.

Caunitz said reservation for a 50,000 to 60,00 square foot area has been made for the Newberry firm.

To Park 2,000 Cars

A survey of the 40-acre tract has been completed and based in this survey plans for the shopping center are now being developed. Provision will be made for parking of at least 2,000 cars and there will also be provision for additional parking in the event of future expansion of the center.

Present plans call for a covered center mall, attractively landscaped, upon which the smaller stores in the shopping center will face.

Among the engineering problems which will be worked out by Brinnier and Larios in connection with city officials is that of putting in a sewage and drainage pumping system since the area lies below exisiting levels.

Caunitz said today that financial arrangements have been worked out by Muradin for the project which it is estimated will cost in excess of $1,500,000. The opening date is aimed at June 1, 1962, Caunitz said.

Muradin is now erecting three shopping centers in Massachusetts and one at Bangor, Me.

Tax Program . . .

to stir controversy aplenty. However, there could be little argument over Kennedy's main objectives: to stimulate the economy, make U.S. business more competitive with fast-stepping foreign competition, and reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit.

Expansion Key Item

The key item, and perhaps the most controversial, was the proposed tax incentive for business expansion and modernization. In essence, Kennedy would permit companies to subtract from their tax bills an amount equal to part of their annual investment in new or improved facilities.

Many businessmen already have indicated opposition to this "tax credit" idea. Some have said they would rather be allowed to increase their depreciation allowances; that is, the amount they can set aside, free from tax, to offset the inevitable aging of new or improved facilities which must eventually be replaced.

Chamber Warns Consumers About Signing Contract

Inquiries as to how to void contracts after being signed for the purchase of a wide variety of items continue to come in at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce has issued numerous warnings about not signing anything before being absolutely sure what it is and that you realize the obligations to which it commits the individual.

The State Attorney General has released a leaflet on the subject calling the attention of consumers to 10 points to be considered.

In releasing this information today Chamber Manager, Albert Kurdt said that most of the calls involve direct selling efforts. The salesmen are well trained and it behooves the customer to make sure they want the item under consideration, that it is being offered at competitive price and not be mislead by emphasis on the small weekly payment gimmick. Kurdt remarked, "52 time $5 is still $260," and in two years its $520.

Quick In-and-Out Trades Risky for Most Investors

Q) "We have a broker who seems to buy and sell rather frequently. He says it is better to turn your money over ten times a year and take a small profit each time. Is he right?" J. M.

A) In theory, the practice of rapid turnover of capital to make quick profits appears very attractive. In application, it gives a sense of action and, if a few well-timed choices happen to be made, you will get the impression that beating the market is a fairly simple business. Nothing could be further from the truth.

In a strong market when nearly all stocks are moving ahead, trading quickly in and out for a few points profit may work out and make both you and your broker look pretty good.

In a dull or a churning market it is a far different story. Your capital will probably be eaten up by brokerage commissions and strings of unprofitable transactions. Trading in and out is done, but I suggest it be left to the professionals.

Q) "I'm a farmer and have noticed the fast growth of Tractor Supply stores. A new one near my town is doing an excellent business. The stock seems to be at an all-time high. Would you recommend it for growth at its present high price?" H. L.

A) Yes. Looking back over my record of this column, I find I've recommended Tractor Supply seven times over the past 12 months. I now run my score up to eight.

This company combines two types of operations that have built-in growth—replacement parts for farm machinery, and mail order business. Earnings have risen steadily over the past seven years, which included two recessions. Shares are expected to be split May 24, which will bring them down to a more popular price level. They sell for about 27 times my conservative estimate of 1961 earnings, a ratio that is not out of line with similar fast-growth situations.

Kalish served as co-chairmen of last year's successful initial gifts campaign.

15 Others Killed

GI Is Critical, Lone Survivor of Hong Kong Crash

HONG KONG (AP) — A U.S. serviceman, survivor of an air Force plane crash that killed 15 others, was in criticial condition today.

The U.S. command on Formosa identified him as Airman Richard W. Ferron, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferron of Westbrook, Maine.

The plane, a twin-engine C47, was returning service personnel and dependents to Formosa from a vacation in Hong Kong when it struck a fog-shrouded mountain Wednesday in this British crown colony. Passengers included three women and a child.

Doctors at the British Military Hospital here gave the airman only a 50-50 chance to put through. They said he was suffering from skull fractures, a broken arm, shock and exposure.

British mountaineers, who scaled the slippery 1,400-foot slope to reach the wreckage, brought the bodies down today.

The plane was smashed to bits on the mountainside minutes after takeoff from the Hong Kong airport.

Eleven bodies were identified but four others were charred and will have to be flown home for identification.

Roadblocks Face Admission of 2 As U.N. Members

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly has declared Mauritania and Communist Outer Mongolia qualified for U.N. membership but neither is likely to be admitted soon.

Roadblocks remain in the Security Council despite the assembly's approval 48-13 of a resolution saying both countries should be admitted. The council must approve all members before they can be admitted.

The Soviet Union last Dec. 4 vetoed Mauritania's application for a seat in the assembly after the council refused to consider at the same time Outer Mongolia's application, which was vetoed in 1955 by Nationalist China.

Eleven African countries — all former French colonies like Mauritania—introduced the new resolution in the General Assembly to endorse Mauritania alone. The Soviet Union tacked on an amendment endorsing Outer Mongolia.

Says Minority Halts Dental Protection

DENVER (AP) — A New York health official says fear tactics of a vocal minority are preventing millions of Americans from getting dental protection provided by fluoridated water.

Dr. David Asst, dental health director for New York State, said the practice is in use in about 2,000 cities serving 41 million Americans yet "millions of others aren't getting the tooth protection they should have."

"There is a very vocal minority which has planted the seeds of fear about adding anything to their drinking water," he said.

"The food faddists and certain religious groups go out of their way to ascribe diabetes, cancer and other diseases to the treatment of water. Members of the dental and medical professions won't stoop to their tactics to fight back."

Dr. Ast addressed the American Association of Orthodontists' convention Wednesday.

'My Fair Kwamina'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sally Ann Howes, last seen on Broadway in the title role of "My Fair Lady," is to perform next in an African musical drama, "Kawamina." Producer Alfred de Liagre Jr. has scheduled the staging for October under Tony Richardson's diction. The book is by Robert Alan Aurthur, the score by Richard Adler, Miss Howes' husband. The story concerns a young English girl who weds a leader of an emergent nation of the Dark Continent.

Innocent, Zealot Witnesses Say of Coast Defendant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert J. Meisenbach, 23, accused of beating a policeman in last May's City Hall rioting, was painted Wednesday both as an innocent by-stander and a club-swinging zealot.

The descriptions emerged in the first day of questioning in Meisenbach's assault trial before Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth. The incident occurred at the height of student demonstrations against a House Committee on Un-American Activities hearing at the City Hall.

Defense attorney Jack Berman declared photographs he introduced as evidence proved that Meisenbach stood idly smoking a pipe some 40 feet away from the spot where police officer Ralph E. Schaumleffel, 33, said he was slugged with his own billy club.

Schaumleffel, under questioning by Walter E. Giubbini, assistant district attorney, declared, however, that Meisenbach clubbed him as he, the patrolman, fell under the onslaught of charging students and adults.

Meisenbach, a University of California senior, is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Berman further said Meisenbach was rendered almost blind when he removed his glasses after water from fire hoses turned on the demonstrators caused them to fog.

One photograph shows Meisenbach on the floor, glasses in his hand.

15 Others Killed

GI Is Critical, Lone Survivor of Hong Kong Crash

HONG KONG (AP) — A U.S. serviceman, survivor of an air Force plane crash that killed 15 others, was in criticial condition today.

The U.S. command on Formosa identified him as Airman Richard W. Ferron, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferron of Westbrook, Maine.

The plane, a twin-engine C47, was returning service personnel and dependents to Formosa from a vacation in Hong Kong when it struck a fog-shrouded mountain Wednesday in this British crown colony. Passengers included three women and a child.

Doctors at the British Military Hospital here gave the airman only a 50-50 chance to put through. They said he was suffering from skull fractures, a broken arm, shock and exposure.

British mountaineers, who scaled the slippery 1,400-foot slope to reach the wreckage, brought the bodies down today.

The plane was smashed to bits on the mountainside minutes after takeoff from the Hong Kong airport.

Eleven bodies were identified but four others were charred and will have to be flown home for identification.

Roadblocks Face Admission of 2 As U.N. Members

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly has declared Mauritania and Communist Outer Mongolia qualified for U.N. membership but neither is likely to be admitted soon.

Roadblocks remain in the Security Council despite the assembly's approval 48-13 of a resolution saying both countries should be admitted. The council must approve all members before they can be admitted.

The Soviet Union last Dec. 4 vetoed Mauritania's application for a seat in the assembly after the council refused to consider at the same time Outer Mongolia's application, which was vetoed in 1955 by Nationalist China.

Eleven African countries — all former French colonies like Mauritania—introduced the new resolution in the General Assembly to endorse Mauritania alone. The Soviet Union tacked on an amendment endorsing Outer Mongolia.

WARWICK, N. Y. (AP)—Gerald H. Decker, 20, of this Orange County community, was killed today when his automobile hit a tree.

Says Minority Halts Dental Protection

DENVER (AP) — A New York health official says fear tactics of a vocal minority are preventing millions of Americans from getting dental protection provided by fluoridated water.

Dr. David Asst, dental health director for New York State, said the practice is in use in about 2,000 cities serving 41 million Americans yet "millions of others aren't getting the tooth protection they should have."

"There is a very vocal minority which has planted the seeds of fear about adding anything to their drinking water," he said.

"The food faddists and certain religious groups go out of their way to ascribe diabetes, cancer and other diseases to the treatment of water. Members of the dental and medical professions won't stoop to their tactics to fight back."

Dr. Ast addressed the American Association of Orthodontists' convention Wednesday.

'My Fair Kwamina'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sally Ann Howes, last seen on Broadway in the title role of "My Fair Lady," is to perform next in an African musical drama, "Kawamina." Producer Alfred de Liagre Jr. has scheduled the staging for October under Tony Richardson's diction. The book is by Robert Alan Aurthur, the score by Richard Adler, Miss Howes' husband. The story concerns a young English girl who weds a leader of an emergent nation of the Dark Continent.

Innocent, Zealot Witnesses Say of Coast Defendant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert J. Meisenbach, 23, accused of beating a policeman in last May's City Hall rioting, was painted Wednesday both as an innocent by-stander and a club-swinging zealot.

The descriptions emerged in the first day of questioning in Meisenbach's assault trial before Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth. The incident occurred at the height of student demonstrations against a House Committee on Un-American Activities hearing at the City Hall.

Defense attorney Jack Berman declared photographs he introduced as evidence proved that Meisenbach stood idly smoking a pipe some 40 feet away from the spot where police officer Ralph E. Schaumleffel, 33, said he was slugged with his own billy club.

Schaumleffel, under questioning by Walter E. Giubbini, assistant district attorney, declared, however, that Meisenbach clubbed him as he, the patrolman, fell under the onslaught of charging students and adults.

Meisenbach, a University of California senior, is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Berman further said Meisenbach was rendered almost blind when he removed his glasses after water from fire hoses turned on the demonstrators caused them to fog.

One photograph shows Meisenbach on the floor, glasses in his hand.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Those commercials-filled moments between TV programs may soon be even longer and more commercials-filled than ever.

The American Broadcasting Company has decided to expand its "station breaks" between programs next season from 30 to 42 seconds. If it goes through with its plans, the other two competitive networks will be forced to follow suit.

Meanwhile, the expansion is causing a fierce behind-the-scenes controversy, particularly by sponsors of network programs, who feel it is done at their expense.

In theory, station breaks are designed to give local broadcasting stations an opportunity to identify themselves between programs.

In practice, most stations use a few seconds to flash their call letters on the home screens—and devote the rest of the time to profitable local commercials. And although the television code of the National Association of Broadcasters, to which most subscribe, states specifically that station breaks shall include "not more than two announcements," they are often jammed with three short commercials, a frowned-upon practice called "triple-spotting."

Network advertisers deplore the plan because they figure the extra seconds will be taken from their programs. Oliver Treyz, president of ABC, defends it on the ground it will provide extra revenue for local stations.

Nobody has asked the viewers who they feel about further commercial encroachment on their "free" TV, but it wouldn't be hard to guess their answer.

Broderick Crawford who has been away from television since the end of his syndicated "Highway Patrol" series a couple of seasons back, returns next season with a new action series, "King of Diamonds," playing a security man for the jewel industry.

Darryl Hickman, one of the stars of NBC's "The Americans" wrote the script for Sunday night's Loretta Young Show.

Recommended tonight: "Highlights of the 1961 Circus," CBS, 8-9 (Eastern Standard Time)—Arthur Godfrey is ringmaster. "Salute to Spring," ABC, 8:30-9:30—a Pat Boone special; Ernie Kovacs Special, ABC, 10:30-11.

J. H. Brennan Dies

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph H. Brennan, award-winning chief metallurgist at the Union Carbide Metals Co., died Wednesday in Mount St. Mary's Hospital after a brief illness. He was 58.

Brennan, a fellow in the Institute of Chemistry and a member of the Society of Chemical Industries of London, England, and the American Society of Metals, was a pioneer in the field of ferro-alloy production.

Sees U. S. Taking Blame if Attack On Castro Fails

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—Anti-Castro Cubans in Oriente Province are reported fearful that rebel invaders waited too long to strike, that the Fidel Castro government had enough time to round up the potential leaders of the uprising on which the invaders count.

An American source thoroughly familiar with the activities of Cubans in this eastern end of the island where Fidel Castro started his revolution said the population hopes the counterrevolution will succeed.

Doing Nothing Now

"But they are doing nothing until they have a better idea of what is happening," the source continued.

"If the counterrevolution fails, the failure will be blamed on the United States and nothing the United States can say or do will persuade them that our help and sympathy is worthwhile for years to come."

The source gave this assessment of the situation in Oriente, Cuba's largest and most populous province:

For a public uprising, the people need a rallying point. But Castro's government has had time to arrest or scatter those who might have served as leaders. An uprising around the province's cities especially Santiago or Guantanamo City, would be extremely difficult.

"I would guess," the source said, "that Castro and company feel they can control this thing."

Much of the actual power in the region apparently is exercised by youths who have been given forced indoctrination and armed with rifles and submachineguns. They reportedly make up most of the night patrols that roam the area and they have no hesitation in pushing their elders around.

Hundreds of Roman Catholic priests throughout the eastern end of the island have been arrested or subjected to humiliations of one sort or another.

These attacks on the priests, together with assorted inconveniences, have created considerable resentment against the Castro government.

While there is apparently plenty of food and medicine in Cuba, transportation has been so bungled by innumerable militia road blocks that local shortages exist.

The women have been unable to get cosmetics. They have had to cook with a foul-smelling Soviet lard. Soap and detergents are nonexistent. While these seem little things, they may be the stuff of which revolutions and counterrevolutions are made.

Antibiotics first were made available for clinical use in the U.S. in 1940, when penicillin was produced commercially.

MODEL FLY—Drosophila is his scientific name (fruit fly to you). Earl Wilson and Susan Marsh put finishing touches on huge model fly in their London studio. It will "grace" British display, International Labor Exhibition, Turin, Italy.

Governor Vetoes Bill Exempting Farm Truckmen

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has vetoed a bill that would have exempted drivers of farm trucks weighing from 1½ to 2 tons from a state law requiring special licenses for drivers of heavy trucks.

The law was passed after several accidents involving tractor-trailer trucks.

To qualify for the special licenses, drivers must either have experience in the vehicles for which they seek operator's permits or prove through road tests their ability to drive them.

The governor vetoed last year a similar measure, which would have exempted drivers of the 1½-to-2 ton trucks.

He restated in his veto message announced today his view that exemption of the larger farm vehicles "is not in the overall public interest."

The governor also vetoed a measure that would have required a driver involved in an accident to stop and exhibit his operator's license at the scene of the accident.

The governor cited several technical flaws in the bill and said that, while the measure releated to imporant protections for those using the highways, "in its present form it cannot be approved."

In another motor vehicle development, the State Motor Vehicle Department reported Wednesday that the cost of highway accidents in New York State last year was $16 million less than the previous year.

There were 323,866 accidents in the state in 1960. The cost of insurance payments, property damage, medical expense and lost wages totaled $586,231,400.

In the previous year, there were 330,085 accidents and the cost was $602,803,400.

Dies of Injuries

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—William H. Mortimer, 25, of nearby Brockport, died Wednesday night in Strong Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered Saturday when his automobile went off a county road and overturned.

U.S. Could Win But Losses Would Be Heavy

Soviet, Chinese Submarine Fleets Problem for Navy Defending Coasts

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red China's growing submarine fleet —it is believed to total more than 20 long-range, modern craft—has added a new dimension to the navy's man-size problem of defending this country's shipping lanes and coasts.

But the big menace is posed by an estimated 400 Soviet submarines, most of them advanced, far-ranging types and some capable of firing missiles, although apparently not as deep-striking as the U.S. Polaris rocket with its 1,200-mile reach.

Rear Adm. Lloyd M. Mustin, the Navy's antisubmarine warfare chief, said in an interview that as things stand "we could win" any test of strength with the Communist bloc sub fleet—but not without losses.

Others Have Doubt

There are others in the Navy, and outside, who contend there is ground for doubt about present U.S. capability in this field.

U.S. Navy officials are operating on the assumption the U.S.S.R. soon will have nuclear-powered subs—if it doesn't have them already.

So far, none have been spotted, but officials speculated the Soviets may be holding them from view while working out remaining bugs.

The advent of Soviet nuclear subs will multiply demands on U.S. anti-submarine forces, some say by as much as 5 or 10 times.

This is because atomic-propelled undersea craft can stay submerged indefinitely, thus defying surface and air detection. They can travel underwater at more than 20 knots, as compared with 5 or 6 knots of conventional subs.

If and when the Soviets muster 20 or more nuclear subs, the problem of coping with them may take on critical proportions, officials said.

However, "We know what to do about it," Mustin said, claiming the U.S. Navy has the techniques and weapons in quality.

The question, in the admiral's view, is quantity.

Over-all, the Communist bloc has about 450 submarines. The United States has more than 100. Of these, 17 are nuclear-powered. In addition, Britain and other nations friendly to the United States have about 100 subs. None are nuclear, although Britain is building its first.

About 75 per cent of the Soviet subs have been built since 1950. Mustin said the reason the number stays at around 400 is that as new boats join the Red fleet, older ones are retired.

Plans to Build 13

For the coming fiscal year, President Kennedy's budget calls for funds to construct 13 subs—10 of them missile-firing Polaris craft. All would be atomic.

Navy antisubmarine warfare specialists indicate they do not yet regard the Communist Chinese sub threat as serious.

They stress it takes more than the subs alone—that it takes a high degree of skill in the complicated technique of undersea warfare. So far U.S. experts do not believe the Chinese have undertaken any effective operational sub training program.

Could Team Up

About 100 Soviet submarines are based in Far Eastern waters and conceivably could team with the Red Chinese, if the need arose.

Mustin said that in Soviet submarine operations "geography is against them."

He noted the Soviet Union's main access to the North Atlantic is from bases in the far north, on the Kola Peninsula near Finland.

Narrow outlets from the Baltic and the Black Sea could easily be stopped up and a Communist sub base in Albania would be highly vulnerable.

In the Pacific, chief Soviet sub bases are in southern Siberia and the lower Kamtchatka Peninsula above Japan.

Granting conventional subs a maximum practical operational range of 5,000 miles, Mustin said this would permit effective use of Soviet undersea craft as far south as the bulge of Brazil in the Atlantic and the Panama Canal in the Pacific.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—For stockholders of more than half the companies reporting earnings, first-quarter results are disappointing. Earnings are averaging 6 per cent below the first three months of 1960. And the decline may be more than that when all the tallies are in.

Brilliant Exceptions

There are many brilliant exceptions—companies reporting record sales and profits. And the guessing is that the April-June quarter will see earnings making a much happier showing, whether on a basis of actual returns or of comparison with year-ago figures.

Of the first 175 companies to report, 95 show declines from their net income in January-March 1960. This year 21 report a net loss, against 10 a year ago. The combined earnings come to $796,620,000 off 6.3 per cent from the $851,005,000 the same firms made in the 1960 first quarter.

But there's a joker in those figures. That is American Telephone & Telegraph, whose record 1961 first quarter profit of $304 million is 7.3 per cent better than a year ago. Disregard giant AT&T and the remaining 174 have earnings of $492,602,000 or down 13.2 per cent from the previous year.

Rarely have the variations in the returns been so wide. International Business Machines reports a gain of 38.7 per cent. General Electric is off 20 per cent, Du Pont down 11.7 per cent, and Celanese behind by 36 per cent.

Often specific conditions affect individual companies within the same industry. Goodrich trails 1960 by 36.5 per cent and U.S. Rubber and General Tire also report declines, but Firestone has an increase.

Deere & Co. looks better this year than last, while International Harvester profits are sharply lower. Scott Paper is in the plus column, while West Virginia Pulp & Paper and Rayonier are in the minus.

Safeway and National Tea are ahead of a year ago, but the Kroger grocery chain is behind. In the drug field, Pfizer is up; Parke, Davis down.

Sometimes industry patterns prevail.

Many other chemicals are off along with Du Pont—Allied Chemical, American Cyanamid, Dow Monsanto, Rohm & Haas. J. P. Stevens and some other textiles are down.

Most utilities maintain their fairly regular year-to-year gains. Rails are badly hit. Steels had a bad production quarter compared with early 1960 when output was still mostly booming, and steel stockholders are prepared for the sobering news.

Many of the companies reporting so far have first quarters ending before the calendar cutoff of March 31. And a majority of companies are still to report.

But if the trend of 6 per cent or more down from early 1960 continues, it will compare with a gain of 5.5 per cent in the 1960 first quarter over the 1959 one, which itself was up a whopping 54 per cent from the opening months of depressed 1958.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The slow retreat is a legislative as well as a military maneuver.

This was demonstrated this week in the further easing of a law passed to keep government employes from part-time jobs or other business association with race tracks and affiliated enterprises.

The law was passed originally in 1954 as part of a broad state program to regulate harness racing. Investigations had shown widespread racketeering in the sport.

Originally, the statute prohibited state and local-government officers and employes from holding jobs with corporations or associations that:

Conducted pari-mutuel racing; conducted any business at race tracks; leased a track to someone else for racing; participated in the management of a track.

In signing the bill, along with several other measures to control harness racing, former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said the legislation was designed to "meet a unique situation which does not exist elsewhere in government."

The same series of bills authorized local governments to allow employes making under $5,000 to take jobs at tracks.

In 1957, the salary level was raised to $6,000.

In 1958, race-track employment was opened to state employes up to that salary level.

This year, the Legislature raised the salary limit to $7,500 for local and state government workers, thus opening the employment to additional workers. Law-enforcement employes still are excluded, however.

Gov. Rockefeller said in approving the bill he was going along with established policy of allowing public employes to hold the track jobs.

In Other Fields, Too

The slow retreat is seen in other fields.

Each year, the Legislature's fiscal committees solemnly announce cuts in the state budget submitted by the governor.

The lawmakers then add to the budget through spending bills and the deficiency budget. More is added the following session in the supplemental budget.

Thus, state spending usually winds up considerably above the reduced figure announced by the fiscal committees, and often higher than that suggested by the governor in the first place.

The governor sometimes is drawn into a slow retreat. A year ago, Rockefeller announced that the Woman's Relief Corps Home at Oxford, for incapacitated veterans, their wives and widows, would be closed as an economy move.

After opposition from legislators from the area, Rockefeller compromised, agreed to keep the home open provided there were no further admissions, so it would be closed eventually.

A bill to that effect was passed last year.

Sullivan Hotel Show Is Slated At Monticello

The 1961 edition of the Sullivan County Hotel Show will be held May 9, 10 and 11 at Monticello Raceway.

Invitations were mailed this week to operators of hotels, motels, restaurants, tourist homes, camps and many others in allied industries.

The show is held a week later than usual this year to avoid conflict of dates with annual school board meetings.

The showing of automobiles and trucks, and new models in several of the auto industry's outstanding lines will be shown again. The display was one of the 1960 innovations that proved successful.

Wolf Olkin, of Liberty, is chairman of the show. Ben Kaplain, executive secretary of the hotel association, is show manager.

The committee anticipates a large turnout of residents from Hudson Valley counties including, Greene, Ulster and Delaware.

A feature of the event will be the exhibit of the Corning Glass Center with its live demonstration of the art of glass blowing.

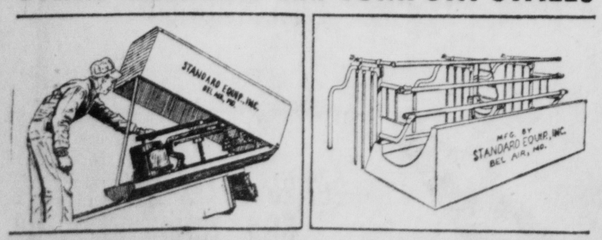

Admission to the show is limited to persons in the food and lodging industry, who present business cards or other proof of identification. Children will not be admitted.

The showing starts at 7 p. m. and closes at midnight.

After opposition from legislators from the area, Rockefeller compromised, agreed to keep the home open provided there were no further admissions, so it would be closed eventually.

A bill to that effect was passed last year.

Sullivan Hotel Show Is Slated At Monticello

The 1961 edition of the Sullivan County Hotel Show will be held May 9, 10 and 11 at Monticello Raceway.

Invitations were mailed this week to operators of hotels, motels, restaurants, tourist homes, camps and many others in allied industries.

The show is held a week later than usual this year to avoid conflict of dates with annual school board meetings.

The showing of automobiles and trucks, and new models in several of the auto industry's outstanding lines will be shown again. The display was one of the 1960 innovations that proved successful.

Wolf Olkin, of Liberty, is chairman of the show. Ben Kaplain, executive secretary of the hotel association, is show manager.

The committee anticipates a large turnout of residents from Hudson Valley counties including, Greene, Ulster and Delaware.

A feature of the event will be the exhibit of the Corning Glass Center with its live demonstration of the art of glass blowing.

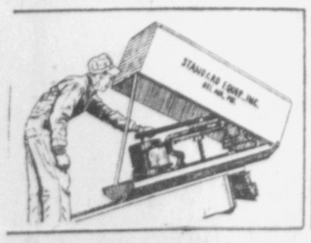

Admission to the show is limited to persons in the food and lodging industry, who present business cards or other proof of identification. Children will not be admitted.

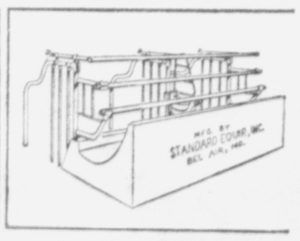

The showing starts at 7 p. m. and closes at midnight.

Girls Can Keep Philomena Name

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Roman Catholic girls named after Philomena can keep the name of the "martyred virgin" which has been stricken from the roll of the church's saints.

But Catholic churches named for her—and there are a number in the United States—must be renamed as a result of the action this week by the Sacred Congregation of Rites.

Philomena was never formally canonized but because of popular fervor she came to be venerated as a martyr and a saint.

The Congregation of Rites decided Philomena had been venerated in error.

Temple Emanuel Plans Memorial Service April 26

A one-hour memorial service entitled "The Lost Six Million" will be held Wednesday, April 26, at Congregation Temple Emanuel, Albany Avenue.

The service will start 8:30 p. m. and will be conducted jointly by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel, Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim and Rabbi Jacob Rubinstein of Congregation Ahavath Israel.

The service will be dedicated to the memory of the more than six million Jews killed by the Nazis during World War 2 in furtherance of their policy of mass torture and extermination of Jews and other minorities.

The thoroughness of their extermination program is shown by the fact that even today in West Berlin there are 6,000 Jews, compared to a pre-war population of half a million, a B'nai B'rith spokesman said.

The service is sponsored by the Kingston Lodge and Chapter of B'nai B'rith in connection with their national program entitled "Lest We Forget."

Also sponsored as part of the local observance of the national program is a daily 10-minute commentary on a local radio station on the progress and significance of the Adolph Eichmann trial in Israel. The service is open to the public and a large attendance is anicipated.

Some Things Wrong With Cuban Proclamation

Havana's Claim of Triumph May Be Beginning of Its Downfall

EDITORS NOTE — News analyst William L. Ryan, widely traveled specialist in Communist affairs, was in Cuba during Fidel Castro's rise to power and a number of times thereafter.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—What the Havana radio proclaimed today as a triumph for the Castro regime over its enemies may yet turn out to be the beginning of its downfall.

Castro's Voice Missing

There were some things wrong with the Havana proclamation.

First, the voice of the "maximum leader" still was curiously missing.

Second, it conceded that anti-Castro guerrillas had dispersed into hiding. The anti-Castro revolutionary council claims they have joined up with holdout rebels in the Escambray Mountains, and if so, they are beginning a resistance oddly similar to the one which brought the 26th of July Movement to power after a long hit-and-run struggle.

Since the victory of Fidel Castro's 26th of July Movement on New Year's Day, 1959, there has been no pronouncement as important to the regime as the one this morning.

In the past, Castro himself never missed an opportunity to make an announcement of major importance. Invariably he has taken to radio and television and spoken for four or five hours at a stretch on matters far less critical than the business before the regime today.

Signs of Soviet Annoyance

What has happened to him? Is he just playing it safe, cagily staying in the background until the smoke clears? That would be unlike him. Castro has had a penchant for lumbering loudly into any and all situations and dominating the show.

Has he been shoved aside by the Communists, who may feel he committed blunders which interfered with Soviet bloc efforts to organize the country and its economy in the image of a "people's democracy?" It is possible. There have been signs of Soviet annoyance with him.

Is Castro still among the living? He was reported to have been fishing in the Bay of Cochinos area when the first anti-Castro guerrillas hit the beach over the weekend, and may have been in the area of fragmentatio nbombing.

Status Change Likely

Castro's name was signed to the proclamation of victory over the rebels. The army command signed the major communique Wednesday, a departure from a custom in which Castro announced everything.

Whatever the answer to the questions, it seems likely that something has happened to change the status of Castro. And something has happened, too, to the status of the regime because of the strike against it by people on the outside who want passionately to return in peace to their homeland.

The regime has no guarantee that there will not be new and greater infiltrations, swelling the small guerrilla resistance now in Cuba to a force which really can threaten to toppie the Communist-dominated government in Havana.

Resistance Move Is Rusk's View Of Cuban Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk today described this week's action by anti-Castro Cubans as not a major invasion but a type of resistance, likely to go on.

Rusk made the comment on the apparently ill-fated Cuban invasion as he boarded a plane on a speechmaking trip to Atlanta, Ga.

He said both President Kennedy and he would have more to say about the matter later.

Kennedy is addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Rusk recalled that at his Monday news conference, held just after news of the Cuban fighting reached the United States, he had said the affair did not appear to be a large-scale invasion.

Reaffirming this today, Rusk said it was an operation undertaken by "a group of courageous men who returned to Cuba determined to do what they could to assist the people in establishing freedom in that island."

Asked whether this marked an end to the attempt to overthrow the pro-Communist Fidel Castro regime, Rusk replied in the negative by declaring the action was "a type of resistance being shown by the Cuban people over many months and likely to go on."

Diplomat Slain, Was Too Busy to See Job-Seeker

OTTAWA (AP)—An unemployed laborer looking for a job in India was held today on a charge of slaying an Indian diplomat who was too busy to see him.

Shani Ferizi, 38, a naturalized Canadian who came from Yugoslavia in 1951, was booked for murder when he gave himself up at police headquarters a few minutes after the shooting Wednesday in the Indian high commissioner's office.

K. Sankara Pillai, 38, the high commissioner's first secretary, was shot twice in the chest at close range while sitting at his desk.

Police said Ferizi had applied for a job in India Tuesday and was told to come back in a day or so after his qualifications were checked. A receptionist said he stopped in twice Wednesday but she told him Pillai was too busy to see him then. A short time later she heard shots—which she dismissed as automobile backfires—and then saw the man leaving carrying a rifle.

If you just give the cards a chance to help you they will respond on occasion.

South's 16 points were the right number for an opening no-trump, but with 5-4-2-2 distribution and no club stopper his spade call was entirely correct.

After North jumped to three spades, South considered some sort of slam try, but finally settled for game.

West opened the king of hearts and South was glad he had been conservative. His first thought was to spread his hand and claim five add, but he decided to give the cards a chance.

Accordingly, South took his ace of hearts, cashed the king and queen of trumps to guard against any unpleasant things in the trump suit, led the three of clubs and went up with dummy's king.

East should have grabbed the ace and led back a heart, but East was either greedy, sleepy or both. Anyway East ducked.

Back came dummy's deuce of clubs and East was in trouble. He did not know what to do and finally did the wrong thing and ducked again.

South made his jack, entered dummy with a diamond, led a high club, ruffed out East's ace, eventually discarding his losing heart on the fourth club to wind up with all the tricks.

Farms Are Losing Young People Is Report of Census

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—"How are you going to keep them down on the farm. . . .?"

That ditty was reflected today in a Census Bureau report that showed farming is being left in older hands while youth apparently seeks greener pastures.

The 1960 census, showed that only 9.3 per cent of the farm population fell in the age group of 25 through 34 years. By comparison, those in the age group of 35 through 64 made up nearly 34 per cent.

This follows reports that younger people are leaving the farm for the city to try to make more money.

Also, farming now requires a big investment — too big for many young farmers.

Of the 15.7 million persons living on farms in 1960, only 722,000 were in the 25 to 29 age group and 738,000 in the 30 to 34 range. Those between the ages of 35 and 44 totaled 1.8 million and those between 45 and 64 totaled 3.5 million.

There were more persons 65 or older on farms than there were in the 25 to 34 bracket.

Children, of course, made up the largest single age group. Those under 14 years totaled 5 million.

There were more men and boys on farms last year than there were women and girls—8.2 million and 7.5 million respectively. There was a great shortage of young women compared with young men in the 20 to 24 age range, 337,000 women to 426,000 men.

But in the 35 to 44 age group, women outnumbered men 922,000 to 882,000.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roast beef or fried chicken loom as likely main dishes for your Sunday dinner this weekend, judging by the specials offered in the supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.

Steak, Chckens Down

Although prices naturally vary around the country, one chain has sirloin steak and frying chicken off 10 cents a pound from the similar 1960 week and rib roast down 4 cents. For this week, fryers are 2 to 10 cents a pound less through the East, South Atlantic and Midwest.

Outstanding bargains among vegetables to go with the Sunday dinner are topped beets, beans, broccoli, cabbage, old crop yellow onions, old crop Eastern potatoes, radishes, leeks, Chinese cabbage and cucumbers, which declined fairly sharply this week.

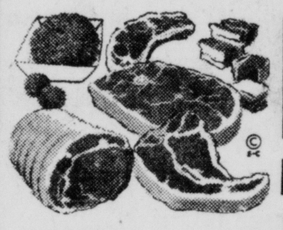

Slightly higher but still rated as good buys are eggplant (which may grow cheaper in the next week or so), artichokes, carrots in film bags, corn, celery, endive, escarole, green onions, lettuce, new crop yellow onions from Texas, peas, parsley, miscellaneous leafy cooking greens and tender new crop potatoes from Florida such as round reds and white sebagos.

Few Fruit Bargains

Fruit bargains are on the skimpy side with only bananas and grapefruit rated as outstanding buys. Look for avocados, lemons, honeydew melons, pineapples and coconuts as good buys. You also may find some apples that aren't too dear, but produce men suggest checking quality and condition.

Savings Bank for Alaska

NEW YORK, April 29—Plans are moving ahead aimed at the establishment of a mutual savings bank in the new state of Alaska, according to Daniel E. Stoddard, president of the People's Savings Bank of Providence, R. I., who has just returned from a three-week trip to the 49th state. Application for a charter for the proposed bank was filed on April 10 with the Alaskan Commissioner of Commerce, A. V. Romick, who, according to Mr. Stoddard, serves as bank commissioner. Mr. Stoddard, representing the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, has been acting as a consultant to a group of Alaskan citizens interested in the formation of a savings bank.

Sleepy Foes Aid Declarer

By OSWALD JACOBY

If you just give the cards a chance to help you they will respond on occasion.

South's 16 points were the right number for an opening no-trump, but with 5-4-2-2 distribution and no club stopper his spade call was entirely correct.

After North jumped to three spades, South considered some sort of slam try, but finally settled for game.

West opened the king of hearts and South was glad he had been conservative. His first thought was to spread his hand and claim five add, but he decided to give the cards a chance.

Accordingly, South took his ace of hearts, cashed the king and queen of trumps to guard against any unpleasant things in the trump suit, led the three of clubs and went up with dummy's king.

East should have grabbed the ace and led back a heart, but East was either greedy, sleepy or both. Anyway East ducked.

Back came dummy's deuce of clubs and East was in trouble. He did not know what to do and finally did the wrong thing and ducked again.

South made his jack, entered dummy with a diamond, led a high club, ruffed out East's ace, eventually discarding his losing heart on the fourth club to wind up with all the tricks.

Farms Are Losing Young People Is Report of Census

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—"How are you going to keep them down on the farm. . .?"

That ditty was reflected today in a Census Bureau report that showed farming is being left in older hands while youth apparently seeks greener pastures.

The 1960 census, showed that only 9.3 per cent of the farm population fell in the age group of 25 through 34 years. By comparison, those in the age group of 35 through 64 made up nearly 34 per cent.

This follows reports that younger people are leaving the farm for the city to try to make more money.

Also, farming now requires a big investment — too big for many young farmers.

Of the 15.7 million persons living on farms in 1960, only 722,000 were in the 25 to 29 age group and 738,000 in the 30 to 34 range. Those between the ages of 35 and 44 totaled 1.8 million and those between 45 and 64 totaled 3.5 million.

There were more persons 65 or older on farms than there were in the 25 to 34 bracket.

Children, of course, made up the largest single age group. Those under 14 years totaled 5 million.

There were more men and boys on farms last year than there were women and girls—8.2 million and 7.5 million respectively. There was a great shortage of young women compared with young men in the 20 to 24 age range, 337,000 women to 426,000 men.

But in the 35 to 44 age group, women outnumbered men 922,000 to 882,000.

Savings Bank for Alaska

NEW YORK, April 29—Plans are moving ahead aimed at the establishment of a mutual savings bank in the new state of Alaska, according to Daniel E. Stoddard, president of the People's Savings Bank of Providence, R. I., who has just returned from a three-week trip to the 49th state. Application for a charter for the proposed bank was filed on April 10 with the Alaskan Commissioner of Commerce, A. V. Romick, who, according to Mr. Stoddard, serves as bank commissioner. Mr. Stoddard, representing the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, has been acting as a consultant to a group of Alaskan citizens interested in the formation of a savings bank.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roast beef or fried chicken loom as likely main dishes for your Sunday dinner this weekend, judging by the specials offered in the supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.

Steak, Chckens Down

Although prices naturally vary around the country, one chain has sirloin steak and frying chicken off 10 cents a pound from the similar 1960 week and rib roast down 4 cents. For this week, fryers are 2 to 10 cents a pound less through the East, South Atlantic and Midwest.

Outstanding bargains among vegetables to go with the Sunday dinner are topped beets, beans, broccoli, cabbage, old crop yellow onions, old crop Eastern potatoes, radishes, leeks, Chinese cabbage and cucumbers, which declined fairly sharply this week.

Slightly higher but still rated as good buys are eggplant (which may grow cheaper in the next week or so), artichokes, carrots in film bags, corn, celery, endive, escarole, green onions, lettuce, new crop yellow onions from Texas, peas, parsley, miscellaneous leafy cooking greens and tender new crop potatoes from Florida such as round reds and white sebagos.

Few Fruit Bargains

Fruit bargains are on the skimpy side with only bananas and grapefruit rated as outstanding buys. Look for avocados, lemons, honeydew melons, pineapples and coconuts as good buys. You also may find some apples that aren't too dear, but produce men suggest checking quality and condition.

Prendergast Raps '3-Ring Circus'

Sufficient Indignation Might Force Blue Cross to Cut Rate Is Opinion of N.Y. Dem Chief

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast said today "sufficient public indignation" might force a reduction in Blue Cross rates.

Prendergast made the comment in a letter to State Sen. George R. Metcalf, R-Auburn, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Health Insurance Plans.

The Democratic chairman said his letter was prompted by "your rather curious press release of April 18."

Says Hearings Go On

Metcalf, in his release, took exception to Prendergast's criticism of Gov. Rockefeller's role in a state investigation into Blue Cross operations.

The senator also noted that the inquiry was continuing and that hearings would be held to determine whether Blue Cross operations could be made more efficient. He suggested that Prendergast testify at the hearings.

Prendergast, calling Metcalf "an outspoken friend of Blue Cross," wrote:

"I trust this letter may shed some true light on this Blue Cross mess and perhaps raise sufficient public indignation to force you and the governor to take necessary action to bring a reduction in Blue Cross rates."

Prendergast inquired how the committee's $40,000 appropriation would be expended.

"How can anyone have confidence," he asked, "that your appropriation will be used for anything but another whitewash when you have already prejudged one such hearing before it took place and predetermined its conclusions?

Questions $2,400 Pay Hike

"There is small consolation for the wage-earners of our state in your explanation that 'there is no graft or corruption going on' and that 'Blue Cross is still the best buy in the field.'"

Prendergast hit at Blue Cross salary increases and bonuses at a time it was seeking a rate increase.

"Do you dare rationalize the legitimacy of an average $2,400 pay boost for 15 Blue Cross executives last year alone," he asked, "in light of the plight of hard-pressed subscribers who are paying more in rates for less in services with no end in sight to the vicious Blue Cross cost spiral?"

Prendergast said he had not attended a committee hearing March 1 "because it was a "three-ring circus."

Erie Canal Deeper

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Erie Canal has been deepened by one foot, to 13 feet, to allow a 12 per cent increase in barge cargo capacity, the State Public Works Department says.

The deepening was mainly at lock gates in Waterford, at one end of the 64-mile section.

The department said Wednesday it planned to deepen the locks at Canajoharie, Fort Plain and New London, west of Rome, and the Oswego Canal, to provide a 13-foot minimum depth from Waterford to Lake Ontario, a dstance of 184 miles.

Welch Hits Anew Of Commie Gain In U.S. Clergy

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The founder of the John Birch Society has again charged that Communists have infiltrated the Protestant clergy in the United States.

Robert Welch, retired Massachusetts candy maker who organized the ultra-conservative group, charged in a copyrighted speech here Wednesday night that "the largest single body of Communists in America is in our Protestant clergy."

Welch made a one night stop in Shreveport on his speaking tour of the Southwest. He spoke one hour and 45 minutes to a crowd estimated at 2,000.

The speech dealt with what Welch called the "principle of reversal" being used by the Communists. He said the principle is at work among Protestant clergymen "because that is almost the last place the ordinary American would expect to find them."

Welch has made similar charges in previous speeches.

Pentagon to Spend $1.6 Million for Public Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's taking about 460 men and $1.6 million to handle the Pentagon's public relations this year.

A lot of money in everyday terms, although the outlay has been diminishing slowly for several years.

Under Debate Now

Whether the flow of information from the Pentagon has also diminished is a matter that is being debated.

The Freedom on Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) has submitted a critical report and aimed mostly at the State and Defense departments.

Involved is the Kennedy administration's freedom of information policies. Newsmen also had complained of restrictive policies under the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The newspapers editors' committee contended Tuesday that Kennedy was on record "as believing in freedom of information and in his duty to see that the people are informed."

But, the report said, "neither he nor his administration has lived up to his promises."

The White House, in a letter from news secretary Pierre Salinger, said the committee's statement was inaccurate.

The President, he said, expects only information bearing on national security to be withheld "and would welcome reports of any violations of that policy."

Much of the information bearing on national security, of course, d velops in the Pentagon.

May Be $12 Million Job

The Pentagon public relations budget has been diminishing slowly for several years—chiefly as the result of ceilings put on expenditures by Congress. The pending budget for next fiscal year will trim the figure a little more.

The $1.6 million being spent during the fiscal year ending next June 30 isn't all the military spends for public relations. It covers the operations at headquarters in Washington. It does not include public relations operations carried on by the services outside Washington. This could bring the total "PR" bill near the $2 million mark.

CONTRIBUTION TOWARDS CANCER FUND — Joseph D. Although contributions are running slightly behind last year, according to Chairman Wonderly, he expects Ulster County Chapter to reach its $35,000 goal before the April drive closes.

Admitted to Practice

Joseph D. Saccoman, member of the law firm of Saccoman and DiDonna with offices at 79 St. James Street, was admitted to practice in Federal Court, Southern District of New York, Tuesday before Federal Judge John M. Cashin in New York. Judge Cashin is a former Ulster County Judge prior to being appointed to the Federal Court bench.

Czechs Hint U.S. Link in Crash Taking 52 Lives

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Czechoslovakia's official news agency, CTK, expressed suspicion today that the United States had something to do with the crash March 28 of a Czech airliner near Nuernberg, West Germany, in which all 52 persons aboard were killed.

The Communist agency said the crash occurred near an American military installation and that "precisely at the time of the crash, there was increased air activity in the area, as was definitely proved by Czechoslovak radio locators."

Peace Corps Tip

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the government's planned "peace corps" program, "the wishes and needs of the peoples with whom we desire to cooperate should be the prime consideration," says a committee of the Catholic Association for International Peace.

No Military Intervention . . . But

U.S. Role, if Any, Remains Top Mystery of Cuba Action

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still the biggest mystery in the four-day old invasion of Cuba is this: Just what role, if any, did the United States play in the invasion?

President Kennedy has said this country would not intervene militarily in Cuba. But exactly six months ago today he promised help, if elected president, to Cubans who gave hope of overthrowing Fidel Castro.

3 Months After Inaugural

And today, exactly three months after he became President, the invasion is under way.

Cuban Foreign Minister Dr. Raul Roa said Monday in the United Nations the invaders were a "force of mercenaries organized, financed and armed by the government of the United States."

On Tuesday Premier Khrushchev in a message to Kennedy said, "It is no secret to anyone that the armed bands which invaded that country (Cuba) had been trained, equipped and armed in the United States."

At his news conference a week ago — before the invasion — Kennedy was asked how far this country would be willing to go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion of Cuba.

He never directly answered the question. Instead, he said "there will not be under any conditions an intervention in Cuba by the United States armed forces."

No Denial of Help

The question asked was how far this country would go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion. The United States could do a lot to help an invasion without using its own armed forces.

In answering Khrushchev, Kennedy again did not say this country had not helped the invaders. What he did say was this: "I have previously stated and I repeat now that the United States intends no military intervention in Cuba."

During the presidential campaign last fall Kennedy made a number of talks on dealings with Latin America.

On Oct. 20 he issued a statement—not a speech—on how he'd deal with Castro if he won the presidency. In part he blamed the Eisenhower administration for not doing far more to curb Castro.

He said Eisenhower had "done almost nothing to keep Castro from consolidating his regime and beginning subversive activities throughout Latin America."

Then he spoke of what he'd do if he became president.

He said this country would have to work with both its European allies and the Latin-American countries linked with the United States in a mutual defense treaty "to promote collective action against communism in the Caribean."

No Ally Has Part

(No European ally, so far as is publicly known, has had a hand in this invasion. And no Latin-American country has been definitely identified as the shoving-off point for the invasion.)

Then Kennedy, with the election still more than half a month away, promised this: "We must consider stringent economic sanctions—such as the seizing of all Cuban assets in this country to be used to pay off some of the vast sums which Cuba still owes us.

"We must attempt to strengthen the non-Batista democratic anti-Castro forces in exile and in Cuba itself who offer eventual hope of overthrowing Castro.

"Thus far these fighters for freedom have had virtually no support from our government."

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Kenyon Brown, 47, prominent television executive and former part owner of the Detroit Tigers baseball club, died Wednesday, apparently of a heart attack.

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Harry T. Brundidge, 64, former war correspondent and editor for Cosmopolitan magazine, died Wednesday after a long illness. Brundidge, who started his newspaper career with the St. Louis Star-Times, also worked for the Nashville Tennessean, the old International News Service and Mercury magazine before he retired in 1955.

Health for All

Break the Chain of Infection

At opposite ends of Kent County, Mich., 30 miles apart, TB struck down two children and a barber. Someone sick with tuberculosis, perhaps unaware of his illness, must have infected the children. The barber not knowing about his illness, may have spread TB to some of the hundreds who visited his small shop.

Both cases called for immediate action before other homes were robbed of children or a parent. Everyrone who had been in contact with the children, each of the barber's customers, had to be checked for TB in order to break the chain of infection.

To help the Kent County TB Society in the necessary round up, a drugstore in each of the two districts offered to play host to the Christmas Seal bus so the people in the area could be X-rayed.

Both newspapers, the South Kent News and the Cedar Springs Clipper, carried notices alerting readers to the TB discoveries and urging them to visit the bus.

People came at the rate of 50 an hour. At the end of the two-day search, 904 adults and 300 children had been checked for TB.

The results have not been made known, but if this check for infection was like most others, there were probably about 40 X-ray films suspicious enough to need more complete tests for a certain diagnosis.

$4.7 Million Estate Is Left by Chemist

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Halford R. Clark of Rochester and New York City has left a gross estate of $4,796,628, according to a state tax appraisal.

The appraisal was submitted for probate in surrogate court Wednesday.

Clark, a research chemist at the Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City until his death in 1959, was the son of the late George H. Clark, one of Eastman Kodak's largest stockholders. Clark was 49 at the time of his death.

State and federal taxes totaled $2,258,741.

Jury Still Out

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP)—A jury in the first-degree murder trial of Francis S. Mc Marrow moved into its second day of deliberations Thursday.

The panel failed to reach a decision after nearly 12 hours Wednesday.

Mc Marrow, 57, is accused of shooting Mrs. Blance T. Smock last Feb. 4. Her body was found outside her apartment in a building where Mc Marrow was employed as a janitor.

Mc Marrow has denied the charge.

State Would Get 11 Judges Under House Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York would gain eight Federal District Court judges and three Circuit Court judges, under a bill that has passed the House, but all the jurists would serve in southeastern New York.

No new judges would be added in the northern and western dstricts.

The House bill calls for six new judges in the southern district and two in the eastern district. The districts cover Long Island, New York City and part of eastern New York.

The Senate also has passed a bill providing six judges in the southern district, but authorized only two temporary judges in the eastern district.

The differences between the Senate measure and legislation passed Wednesday by the House go to a conference committee.

The three new Circuit Court judges would set in the Second Circuit, which covers New York, Connecticut and Vermont.

Follow the Chairman

ONEIDA, N.Y. (AP) — Two pigeons went to church and swooped back and forth over the heads of Baptists being seated by the chairman of the City Council's Pigeon Control Committee.

The chairman, Harry B. Winn Jr., head usher at the church, had little success in controlling the birds.

No Military Intervention . . . But

U.S. Role, if Any, Remains Top Mystery of Cuba Action

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still the biggest mystery in the four-day old invasion of Cuba is this: Just what role, if any, did the United States play in the invasion?

President Kennedy has said this country would not intervene militarily in Cuba. But exactly six months ago today he promised help, if elected president, to Cubans who gave hope of overthrowing Fidel Castro.

3 Months After Inaugural

And today, exactly three months after he became President, the invasion is under way.

Cuban Foreign Minister Dr. Raul Roa said Monday in the United Nations the invaders were a "force of mercenaries organized, financed and armed by the government of the United States."

On Tuesday Premier Khrushchev in a message to Kennedy said, "It is no secret to anyone that the armed bands which invaded that country (Cuba) had been trained, equipped and armed in the United States."

At his news conference a week ago — before the invasion — Kennedy was asked how far this country would be willing to go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion of Cuba.

He never directly answered the question. Instead, he said "there will not be under any conditions an intervention in Cuba by the United States armed forces."

No Denial of Help

The question asked was how far this country would go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion. The United States could do a lot to help an invasion without using its own armed forces.

In answering Khrushchev, Kennedy again did not say this country had not helped the invaders. What he did say was this :"I have previously stated and I repeat now that the United States intends no military intervention in Cuba."

During the presidential campaign last fall Kennedy made a number of talks on dealings with Latin America.

On Oct. 20 he issued a statement—not a speech—on how he'd deal with Castro if he won the presidency. In part he blamed the Eisenhower administration for not doing far more to curb Castro.

He said Eisenhower had "done almost nothing to keep Castro from consolidating his regime and beginning subversive activities throughout Latin America."

Then he spoke of what he'd do if he became president.

He said this country would have to work with both its European allies and the Latin-American countries linked with the United States in a mutual defense treaty "to promote collective action against communism in the Caribean."

No Ally Has Part

(No European ally, so far as is publicly known, has had a hand in this invasion. And no Latin-American country has been definitely identified as the shoving-off point for the invasion.)

Then Kennedy, with the election still more than half a month away, promised this: "We must consider stringent economic sanctions—such as the seizing of all Cuban assets in this country to be used to pay off some of the vast sums which Cuba still owes us.

"We must attempt to strengthen the non-Batista democratic anti-Castro forces in exile and in Cuba itself who offer eventual hope of overthrowing Castro.

"Thus far these fighters for freedom have had virtually no support from our government."

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Kenyon Brown, 47, prominent television executive and former part owner of the Detroit Tigers baseball club, died Wednesday, apparently of a heart attack.

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Harry T. Brundidge, 64, former war correspondent and editor for Cosmopolitan magazine, died Wednesday after a long illness. Brundidge, who started his newspaper career with the St. Louis Star-Times, also worked for the Nashville Tennessean, the old International News Service and Mercury magazine before he retired in 1955.

Break the Chain of Infection

At opposite ends of Kent County, Mich., 30 miles apart, TB struck down two children and a barber. Someone sick with tuberculosis, perhaps unaware of his illness, must have infected the children. The barber not knowing about his illness, may have spread TB to some of the hundreds who visited his small shop.

Both cases called for immediate action before other homes were robbed of children or a parent. Everyrone who had been in contact with the children, each of the barber's customers, had to be checked for TB in order to break the chain of infection.

To help the Kent County TB Society in the necessary round up, a drugstore in each of the two districts offered to play host to the Christmas Seal bus so the people in the area could be X-rayed.

Both newspapers, the South Kent News and the Cedar Springs Clipper, carried notices alerting readers to the TB discoveries and urging them to visit the bus.

People came at the rate of 50 an hour. At the end of the two-day search, 904 adults and 300 children had been checked for TB.

The results have not been made known, but if this check for infection was like most others, there were probably about 40 X-ray films suspicious enough to need more complete tests for a certain diagnosis.

$4.7 Million Estate Is Left by Chemist

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Halford R. Clark of Rochester and New York City has left a gross estate of $4,796,628, according to a state tax appraisal.

The appraisal was submitted for probate in surrogate court Wednesday.

Clark, a research chemist at the Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City until his death in 1959, was the son of the late George H. Clark, one of Eastman Kodak's largest stockholders. Clark was 49 at the time of his death.

State and federal taxes totaled $2,258,741.

Jury Still Out

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP)—A jury in the first-degree murder trial of Francis S. Mc Marrow moved into its second day of deliberations Thursday.

The panel failed to reach a decision after nearly 12 hours Wednesday.

Mc Marrow, 57, is accused of shooting Mrs. Blance T. Smock last Feb. 4. Her body was found outside her apartment in a building where Mc Marrow was employed as a janitor.

Mc Marrow has denied the charge.

State Would Get 11 Judges Under House Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York would gain eight Federal District Court judges and three Circuit Court judges, under a bill that has passed the House, but all the jurists would serve in southeastern New York.

No new judges would be added in the northern and western districts.

The House bill calls for six new judges in the southern district and two in the eastern district. The districts cover Long Island, New York City and part of eastern New York.

The Senate also has passed a bill providing six judges in the southern district, but authorized only two temporary judges in the eastern district.

The differences between the Senate measure and legislation passed Wednesday by the House go to a conference committee.

The three new Circuit Court judges would set in the Second Circuit, which covers New York, Connecticut and Vermont.

Follow the Chairman

ONEIDA, N.Y. (AP) — Two pigeons went to church and swooped back and forth over the heads of Baptists being seated by the chairman of the City Council's Pigeon Control Committee.

The chairman, Harry B. Winn Jr., head usher at the church, had little success in controlling the birds.

FOOD PACKAGING

Packaging food in consumer-size units has helped to make the self-service supermarket system possible. Although food in packages sometimes costs more than food sold in bulk, the advantages of packages generally outweigh the disadvantages.

Packages protect food from contamination, dust, and handling by others. Proper packaging will help the quality of some food to remain high. For example, celery will remain moist and crisp in the right package and tender fruits, such as raspberries and strawberries, will remain unbruised. Some packaging materials delay or prevent deterioration.

Food packages are easy to recognize and to handle and save shopping time. Also, packages facilitate home storage; some have simple opening and closing features.

Products in packages can carry brand names on the label and information on ingredients, quality, use, and quantity that help shoppers select food wisely. Branded and packaged merchandise assures shoppers of uniformity in food purchases.

Sometimes you pay less for the services of packaging because products trimmed of excess bulk have reduced transportation and handling costs. Topless carrots in film bags or ready-to-cook poultry, for example, have less bulk and weight than their untrimmed counterparts, hence lower marketing costs.

At the Markets

Broilers — Retail food stores will be unusually well stocked with broilers during May. These tender meaty birds are one of the most economical of meats. In buying broilers, allow one-half pound, ready-to-cook weight for each serving.

Turkeys — Spring is the off-season for turkeys, but supplies will be exceptionally plentiful this May. Farmers will ship about 50 per cent more to market this May than a year ago.

Potatoes — Production of potatoes in several areas will be up, adding to the already heavy stocks left over from last fall and winter crops. Potatoes, already lower in price than a year ago, may cost even less in May.

Canned Freestone Peaches — Record large stocks of canned freestones remain to be marketed. Your grocer should have specials on freestones.

KINGSTON MANOR UNIT

The Kingston Manor Unit will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, April 24 at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Siphers, 35 Watson Lane.

Mrs. David Smith will lead a discussion on music appreciation.

Next year's program shall be discussed and a vote shall be taken based on interest level.

Of Many Things

Here Comes the Bridegroom

No occasion in the life of a man seems to be as fraught with confusion as the weeks before his wedding — and the problem of what he should wear! Unlike the ladies, who approach the big event well-schooled in all sartorial proprieties, most men know little about the prescribed amenities. So this column today will be keyed to the dissemination of some information for that fairly important member of the wedding party — the bridegroom.

Formal Dress Tips—Two things can spoil an otherwise-perfect formal outfit — rundown heels on shoes and improperly adjusted trouser length. Check both, urges the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. A single drop of water on a too-starched buttonhole will soften it and keep you from mussing the shirt when it's buttoned.

Care of Clothes—Formal shirts and accessories lose their fresh look between occasional wearings. Wrap yours in sheets of wax paper and heat-seal edges to keep them looking their best. Keep formal clothes on good hangers in a closed garment bag between wearings.

Proper Garments—The evening formal is a black full dress suit with white tie; evening semi-formal, black or midnight blue tuxedo, black tie; daytime formal, black or oxford cutaway, striped trousers, wing collar, ascot tie; daytime semi-formal, black or oxford stroller coat, striped trousers, light gray waistcoat, fold collar, four-in-hand tie; summer evening formal, white tuxedo jacket, black or midnight bowtie; garden wedding, navy blue or black blazer, white trousers (with white or black shoes) or gray slacks (with black shoes), plain white shirt, neat tie.

To the question, "is it improper to wear a tuxedo at an afternoon wedding," the answer is yes. A tuxedo is evening wear — not afternoon wear. Some bridegrooms would like to know whether or not it is necessary to wear a cummerbund or vest with a tuxedo. To this, the Institute on Men's and Boys' Wear answers yes, because the average one-button jacket will show the trouser top if a cummerbund or vest is not worn.

For those planning summer weddings, remember that conventionally, the season for wearing white formal jackets is June 1 through Labor Day. But this varies, in different areas of the country, with the existing climate.

Odd Items About Weddings—Outfits—all members of the wedding party dress the same, but with a variation of accessories; Bridegroom's Duties—pays for wedding ring, bride's flowers, corsages for both mothers, boutonnieres and gifts for ushers and best man, clergyman's fee and wedding gift for bride.

Some of the trends in wedding attire for men (and there are some new ones) — wider ties being worn, even some butterfly bows; new dress slip-on shoes, with elastic insets on sides (give a snugger fit); dress studs are slightly larger; gold or black pearl for tuxedo, white mother-of-pearl for full dress.

A custom you might be interested in — the bridegroom should always wear a sprig of the bride's corsage in his buttonhole; other members of the wedding party wear white carnations as boutonnieres.

FOOD PACKAGING

Packaging food in consumer-size units has helped to make the self-service supermarket system possible. Although food in packages sometimes costs more than food sold in bulk, the advantages of packages generally outweigh the disadvantages.

Packages protect food from contamination, dust, and handling by others. Proper packaging will help the quality of some food to remain high. For example, celery will remain moist and crisp in the right package and tender fruits, such as raspberries and strawberries, will remain unbruised. Some packaging materials delay or prevent deterioration.

Food packages are easy to recognize and to handle and save shopping time. Also, packages facilitate home storage; some have simple opening and closing features.

Products in packages can carry brand names on the label and information on ingredients, quality, use, and quantity that help shoppers select food wisely. Branded and packaged merchandise assures shoppers of uniformity in food purchases.

Sometimes you pay less for the services of packaging because products trimmed of excess bulk have reduced transportation and handling costs. Topless carrots in film bags or ready-to-cook poultry, for example, have less bulk and weight than their untrimmed counterparts, hence lower marketing costs.

At the Markets

Broilers — Retail food stores will be unusually well stocked with broilers during May. These tender meaty birds are one of the most economical of meats. In buying broilers, allow one-half pound, ready-to-cook weight for each serving.

Turkeys — Spring is the off-season for turkeys, but supplies will be exceptionally plentiful this May. Farmers will ship about 50 per cent more to market this May than a year ago.

Potatoes — Production of potatoes in several areas will be up, adding to the already heavy stocks left over from last fall and winter crops. Potatoes, already lower in price than a year ago, may cost even less in May.

Canned Freestone Peaches — Record large stocks of canned freestones remain to be marketed. Your grocer should have specials on freestones.

KINGSTON MANOR UNIT

The Kingston Manor Unit will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, April 24 at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Siphers, 35 Watson Lane.

Mrs. David Smith will lead a discussion on music appreciation.

Next year's program shall be discussed and a vote shall be taken based on interest level.

Of Many Things

Here Comes the Bridegroom

No occasion in the life of a man seems to be as fraught with confusion as the weeks before his wedding — and the problem of what he should wear! Unlike the ladies, who approach the big event well-schooled in all sartorial proprieties, most men know little about the prescribed amenities. So this column today will be keyed to the dissemination of some information for that fairly important member of the wedding party — the bridegroom.

Formal Dress Tips—Two things can spoil an otherwise-perfect formal outfit — rundown heels on shoes and improperly adjusted trouser length. Check both, urges the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. A single drop of water on a too-starched buttonhole will soften it and keep you from mussing the shirt when it's buttoned.

Care of Clothes—Formal shirts and accessories lose their fresh look between occasional wearings. Wrap yours in sheets of wax paper and heat-seal edges to keep them looking their best. Keep formal clothes on good hangers in a closed garment bag between wearings.

Proper Garments—The evening formal is a black full dress suit with white tie; evening semi-formal, black or midnight blue tuxedo, black tie; daytime formal, black or oxford cutaway, striped trousers, wing collar, ascot tie; daytime semi-formal, black or oxford stroller coat, striped trousers, light gray waistcoat, fold collar, four-in-hand tie; summer evening formal, white tuxedo jacket, black or midnight bowtie; garden wedding, navy blue or black blazer, white trousers (with white or black shoes) or gray slacks (with black shoes), plain white shirt, neat tie.

To the question, "is it improper to wear a tuxedo at an afternoon wedding," the answer is yes. A tuxedo is evening wear — not afternoon wear. Some bridegrooms would like to know whether or not it is necessary to wear a cummerbund or vest with a tuxedo. To this, the Institute on Men's and Boys' Wear answers yes, because the average one-button jacket will show the trouser top if a cummerbund or vest is not worn.

For those planning summer weddings, remember that conventionally, the season for wearing white formal jackets is June 1 through Labor Day. But this varies, in different areas of the country, with the existing climate.

Odd Items About Weddings—Outfits—all members of the wedding party dress the same, but with a variation of accessories; Bridegroom's Duties—pays for wedding ring, bride's flowers, corsages for both mothers, boutonnieres and gifts for ushers and best man, clergyman's fee and wedding gift for bride.

Some of the trends in wedding attire for men (and there are some new ones) — wider ties being worn, even some butterfly bows; new dress slip-on shoes, with elastic insets on sides (give a snugger fit); dress studs are slightly larger; gold or black pearl for tuxedo, white mother-of-pearl for full dress.

A custom you might be interested in — the bridegroom should always wear a sprig of the bride's corsage in his buttonhole; other members of the wedding party wear white carnations as boutonnieres.

Do Any of These Traits Detract From Your Charm?

It could be that these are woman's least attractive moments:

When we put another woman in her place.

When we listen without paying attention.

When we put on our haven't-you-anything-better routine in an effort to impress a saleswoman.

When back-seat driving.

When our voice grows shrill in an effort to be the center of attention.

When we give an ache-by-ache account of our latest illness.

Set April 22 Registration Date in Onteora District

Registration for the annual school district meeting will be held for residents of the Onteora Central Schools District on Saturday, April 22, between the hours of 2 and 8 p. m.

Town of Shandaken-Lexington auditorium, Shandaken town hall, Shandaken.

Town of Olive-Marbletown gymnasium, Onteora Central School, Boiceville.

Town of Woodstock — gymnasium, Woodstock School.

Town of West Hurley — gymnasium, West Hurley School.

The registration date listed above is for the convenience of voters who have not registered during this school year. It is not necessary for any resident who has signed the 1960-61 registration book to re-register at this time.

The annual school district meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 2, at 7:30 p. m.

Voting on the budget and the election of a Board of Education member will take place Wednesday, May 3, between the hours of 2 to 9 p. m., D.S.T., at the four designated registration and poll centers.

Onteora Board Candidates Meeting Scheduled April 26

The three P-TA organizations in the Onteora Central Schools District — Onteora, Woodstock and West Hurley — will sponsor a "Know Your Candidates" meeting in the Onteora school cafeteria on Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p. m.

It is hoped that all candidates for the one opening on the Board will attend the meeting.

The P-TA committee has forwarded a letter of invitation to the candidates and incorporated in this letter are questions which will give each candidate the opportunity to express his views regarding education, taxes, budgets, school construction, etc. Each nominee will have approximately 10 minutes in which to express his opinions and philosophy. The meeting will then be opened for questions from the audience.

The meeting is of vital importance to the residents in the Onteora district for it gives them the opportunity to meet and learn about the candidates for trustee. The term is for five years and whoever is selected will be participating in Board deliberations affecting some of the most crucial issues in the history of the district.

The P-TA committee from the three localities includes: Mrs. Peg Jones, Mrs. Helen Schwartz, Mrs. Jan Frankle, Mrs. Bernice St. Pierre and Frank Hancock, Jack Gison, Lawrence Deede and Al Nussbaum, who will serve as the moderator.

Stephen de Lisio Will Make Debut In La Boheme

STEPHEN S. de LISIO

Stephen S. de Lisio of Woodstock, a junior at Albany Law School, will make his operatic debut April 24 and 26 in the role of Colline, the philospher, in the opera La Boheme at the Institute of History and Art in Albany.

de Lisio, who possesses a rich baritone voice, has been active with singing groups for many years, but this marks his first major solo effort.

He graduated from Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia in 1959 where he sang in the widely recognized Emory Glee Club for two years. He attended Woodstock elementary school and Blair Academy in New Jersey before entering Emory.

de Lisio graduated from Emory College with a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Political Science. While at Emory, he was elected to the Alpha Epsilon chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, the national political science honor society, and the Chi Phil social fraternity.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. de Lisio of Woodstock and St. Petersburg, Florida.

Riding Club Juniors on Visit To College Day

Members of the Woodstock Riding Club's Junior committee travelled to Storrs, Conn., on April 8 to visit the Ratcliffe Hicks School of Agriculture of the University of Connecticut's Pleasure Horse Day.

The Pleasure Horse Day is described by the university as a "short course program for all who are interested in light horses." The course was divided into morning and afternoon sessions. The morning seminar dealt with the topic: "Soundness and Unsoundness in the Horse," conducted by Dr. Donald Delahanty, Professor of Surgery at New York State veterinary college, Cornell University.

In the afternoon session, Miss Katherine Martin of the Connecticut College for Women spoke on: "Principles of the Balanced Seat and Basic Equitation Problems."

Junior committee members attending were: Susan Chepelef, Kim Chalmers, Mary Cooke, Judy DeGroff, Michelle Fisher, Valerie Fisher, Susan Greene, Katy Greene, Linda Grace, Karen Larson, Kathy Larson, Susan Miller, Tinker Twine. They were accompanied by Senior members: Jack Larson, James Burke, Mrs. Bob Jacobson, Henry Miller and Charles Ashley.

Liberty Week Points Up Origin Of the Movement

The Woodstock Library reminds its patrons and the general public that this is National Library Week, April 16-22.

If you haven't visited the library lately, you are invited to drop in, browse around and become a card carrying member, says Mrs. Janet Steinlauf of the library staff.

The Woodstock Library, meanwhile, is exhibiting some of the fine new books available for its patrons' pleasure in the window of the Bank of Orangs County this week.

Commenting on National Library Week, Mrs. Steinlauf says: "To most of us a library, free and open to the public is a rather common institution. Some are better than others, yet each has an individuality which can rejoice or frustrate the reader. But if the poorest library ceased to exist, its loss would be noted immediately. How sadly true it is that we only begin to pay direct attention to a situation when the unexpected takes place.

"Our libraries are not likely to disappear except insofar as the public fails to appreciate and support the values of the libraries," Mrs. Steinlauf warns.

Tyrant Started It

Mrs. Steinlauf points out that it Pisistratus, a tyrant who probably endowed and organized the first public library in Athens in the 6th century B. C. And although private public libraries existed elsewhere in the ancient world, Aristotle's library was acquired by Ptolemy II sometime between 285 and 246 B. C.—for the most famous and largest library at Alexandria—the duplication of texts was a slow and costly process dependent on educated slave copyists and an adequate supply of papyrus. At a much later date the rivalry of the libraries at Alexandria and Pergamum (parchment) forced the development of vellum and leaved book or codex as we know it. The scroll of the ancients exists today only as a vehicle for very special state documents.

Today we are inclined to criticize a tyrant as undemocratic. Events of recent history have not added lustre to the concept of the tyrant, says Mrs. Steinlauf. But neither have events shown that large so-called democratic groups function with more than average perspicacity. Apathey and neglect of cherished institutions is far more dangerous than the depredations of a book burner. When life becomes too easy it takes more than perfunctory interest to keep worthwhile institutions growing and developing. That includes your library, too.

More About Rome By Schimmerling

(Editor's Note: Following is the second part of H. A. Schimmerling's observations on Rome, the Eternal City):

Three Beauties — "La Fornarina" (The Baker Girl) is a painting by Raphael. The Baker Girl has much in common with the Capitoline Venus: the nudeness of a beautiful body. But, whereas Venus, as previously mentioned tried with two hands and nothing else "to cover bashfully all that which she doesn't have to be ashamed of," the Baker Girl had a veil for this purpose, yet, she doesn't even attempt to use it. The "Conquering Venus," famous sculpture by Canova, is the third of three beauties. She has even more than a veil —a gown. Yet, she doesn't use it either for what a gown is meant. Who is she any way, this "Conquering Venus?" No one else than the sister of the conquering dictator Napoleon: Paolina Borghese. Conquest in one way or another apparently was part of the Bonaparte ideology.

Revealing Bomb — At the bombbardment of Rome in 1943, a bomb fell on the church of San Lorenzo and damaged it. It tore a hole in its floor, thus uncovering traces of the apse of the Basilica of Constantine which stood here about 1500 years ago.

Scala Santa — This means the "Holy Stairway." It consists of 28 steps. According to tradition, it is the same flight of marble steps which Jesus ascended in the house of Pontius Pilate and which were brought to Rome by the pious Empress Helena. These unusual steps may be ascended only kneeling. Doing this is perhaps helpful to the soul of a believer, but detrimental to trousers, skirts and stockings.

Unheeded Testament—Pius XI was a democratic Pope. In his last will he declared his wish to be buried in a simple coffin among poor people. He was the beloved leader of the Roman Church in the second half of the nineteenth century. When he died all the world contributed to adorn his sepulchre with spendid and precious mosaic. Hence, this mausoleum became one of the most magnificent in Rome—despite the Last Will of the one for whom it was erected.

First Gold From America — Santa Maria Maggiore is the largest among Rome's fourteen churches dedicated to the Virgin Mary. There are several attractions: (1) A sarcophagus with the bones of St. Mark the Evangelist; (2) The ceiling, a masterpiece by Julian Sangalle, was gilded with the first gold brought from America; (3) the Miraculous Madonna With Child, attributed to St. Luke, the Evangelist, not the child, of course, but the painting; (4) a magnificent Corinthian column which was borrowed (some people say "removed," some others "stolen") from the Basilica of Constantine by Paul V—Which one is the greatest attraction, the most precious, the most impressive one? This is so typical for visitors to the Eternal City: In this vast ocean of legends and stories, puzzles and mysteries, historical facts and imaginations — everyone likes or dislikes, adores, or condemns, believes or disbelieves, worships or ridicules whatever he wants.

—H. S. SCHIMMERLING.

Onteora Classes In Annual Show

The Senior and Junior classes of Onteora Central High school will present a musical in two acts, "Always Leave Them Laughing," in the auditorium of the central building on April 27-28 at 8 p. m.

It is described as a sparkling show in the tradition of last year's success, "Ooalaga U," and promises to provide on evening of fun and music for all who attend.

Cappy Foster, one of the stars of last year's production, returns in a leading role. Pam Keator and Vikki Capone are the two leading ladies and Rolf Medal completes the quartet of romantic leads. Ed Varney, as Humperdink, provides much of the comedy. Sixty other young ladies and gentlemen from the chorus, dancing groups and orchestra.

This year a talented senior, Donna Adler, as choreographer has created some eye-catching, fast moving routines for two dance groups.

Tickets are on sale daily at the central building. The cost is nominal and all seats are reserved. They will also be on sale each night at the door.

Endicott Man Killed

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP)—Albert D'Angelo, 46, of Endicott, was killed Wednesday night when struck by a pickup truck as he crossed a village street.

Shot From Sub Solves Headaches

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The successful firing of a Polaris missile from the nuclear submarine Robert E. Lee indicates the Navy has solved problems which plagued some earlier underwater launches of the rocket.

The Lee unleashed the Polaris over a 1,150-mile course Wednesday. The Defense Department, sticking to a new policy, declined to announce test results, but informed sources reported all flight objectives were achieved.

This was the second straight successful submarine launching of the Polaris since the Navy announced it had made a relatively minor change designed to eliminate difficulties which affected the missile when it was launched from undersea.

Before the change was made, four submarines launched a total of 18 missiles, 10 of them successful.

At this point in the program, the Defense Department, without explanation, said it would not announce test results of any missile launchings conducted "away from public view."

The missile Wednesday was fired 30 miles offshore and was clearly visible to shore observers. But defense officials said the new policy applied.

First Gold From America — Santa Maria Maggiore is the largest among Rome's fourteen churches dedicated to the Virgin Mary. There are several attractions: (1) A sarcophagus with the bones of St. Mark the Evangelist; (2) The ceiling, a masterpiece by Julian Sangalle, was gilded with the first gold brought from America; (3) the Miraculous Madonna With Child, attributed to St. Luke, the Evangelist, not the child, of course, but the painting; (4) a magnificent Corinthian column which was borrowed (some people say "removed," some others "stolen") from the Basilica of Constantine by Paul V—Which one is the greatest attraction, the most precious, the most impressive one? This is so typical for visitors to the Eternal City: In this vast ocean of legends and stories, puzzles and mysteries, historical facts and imaginations — everyone likes or dislikes, adores, or condemns, believes or disbelieves, worships or ridicules whatever he wants.

Shot From Sub Solves Headaches

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The successful firing of a Polaris missile from the nuclear submarine Robert E. Lee indicates the Navy has solved problems which plagued some earlier underwater launches of the rocket.

The Lee unleashed the Polaris over a 1,150-mile course Wednesday. The Defense Department, sticking to a new policy, declined to announce test results, but informed sources reported all flight objectives were achieved.

This was the second straight successful submarine launching of the Polaris since the Navy announced it had made a relatively minor change designed to eliminate difficulties which affected the missile when it was launched from undersea.

Before the change was made, four submarines launched a total of 18 missiles, 10 of them successful.

At this point in the program, the Defense Department, without explanation, said it would not announce test results of any missile launchings conducted "away from public view."

The missile Wednesday was fired 30 miles offshore and was clearly visible to shore observers. But defense officials said the new policy applied.

Board Raises Clerical Staff, Custodians Pay

At the special meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday evening of this week no definite decision on a replacement for Clarence Brower, board member who resigned recently, was made. Discussion at the meeting indicated that possibly no successor to Brower will be appointed by the board.

At a previous meeting, salaries for the teaching staff had been determined. The salary schedule had been raised by $200 at all steps which meant that substantially all members of the teaching staff will receive a $400 increase in salary next year. At Tuesday's meeting, salaries for the members of the administrative staff and the clerical staff were determined. These raises ranged in most cases from $200 to as much as $800. In most instances, raises of $300 were granted for next year to members of the custodial force.

A third nurse on a full-time basis for next year was authorized at the meeting. The position will be assumed by Mrs. Sibylla Strosahl who worked in the local system as a nurse last year on a part-time basis.

Two new feeder bus routes were established by the board after an explanation by L. M. Cahill, director of transportation. The new routes are in Manorville and on the Old Stage Road. They are necessitated by families having moved into those areas with children of school age.

Members of the board studied budget items and made reductions where they seemed advisable.

Three more resignations from the teaching staff, in addition to the 10 previously listed, were reported last evening by Superintendent Morse. The new resignations include Mrs. Irma Bader, Malcolm Bump, and Miss Betty Butler.

Merchants Will Continue Lunch Meetings Weekly

The luncheon meeting of the merchants committee of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday at the Exchange Hotel was so successful that Franklyn Clum, chairman, has announced that it will continue to be a weekly affair.

The well attended meeting heard discussions on the real need of the community and merchants to get behind the urgent problem of dressing up the entrances to the village and to make the business district a more attractive place for the shopping public. The committee also reported that work will begin in the spring on two new parking lots that will add facilities for off street free parking for an estimated 300 cars.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening at Schoentag's Colonial Tavern, members went on record as favoring the contemplated Greater Ulster County Community Chest that is being widely discussed by all service clubs in the area. A meeting was held recently at the Stonewall Hotel with representatives of the Chamber, Rotary Club, Jaycees, Lions Club and others for a discussion on the subject.

In other business during the meeting it was agreed to increase the amount of the scholarship given each year to one boy and one girl in the Saugerties High School whose conduct both in and out of school most typifies the average American Youth.

Plans were also discussed for the coming testimonial dinner to honor John Sauer, which will be held on May 18 at the Flamingo Restaurant. Joseph Bosco will be master of ceremonies for the occasion and the public may attend. There is a seating capacity for 200 persons, and tickets are available from any member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Board Raises Clerical Staff, Custodians Pay

At the special meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday evening of this week no definite decision on a replacement for Clarence Brower, board member who resigned recently, was made. Discussion at the meeting indicated that possibly no successor to Brower will be appointed by the board.

At a previous meeting, salaries for the teaching staff had been determined. The salary schedule had been raised by $200 at all steps which meant that substantially all members of the teaching staff will receive a $400 increase in salary next year. At Tuesday's meeting, salaries for the members of the administrative staff and the clerical staff were determined. These raises ranged in most cases from $200 to as much as $800. In most instances, raises of $300 were granted for next year to members of the custodial force.

A third nurse on a full-time basis for next year was authorized at the meeting. The position will be assumed by Mrs. Sibylla Strosahl who worked in the local system as a nurse last year on a part-time basis.

Two new feeder bus routes were established by the board after an explanation by L. M. Cahill, director of transportation. The new routes are in Manorville and on the Old Stage Road. They are necessitated by families having moved into those areas with children of scdool age.

Members of the board studied budget items and made reductions where they seemed advisable

Three more resignations from the teaching staff, in addition to the 10 previously listed, were reported last evening by Superintendent Morse. The new resignations include Mrs. Irma Bader, Malcolm Bump, and Miss Betty Butler.

Merchants Will Continue Lunch Meetings Weekly

The luncheon meeting of the merchants committee of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday at the Exchange Hotel was so successful that Franklyn Clum, chairman, has announced that it will continue to be a weekly affair.

The well attended meeting heard discussions on the real need of the community and merchants to get behind the urgent problem of dressing up the entrances to the village and to make the business district a more attractive place for the shopping public. The committee also reported that work will begin in the spring on two new parking lots that will add facilities for off street free parking for an estimated 300 cars.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening at Schoentag's Colonial Tavern, members went on record as favoring the contemplated Greater Ulster County Community Chest that is being widely discussed by all service clubs in the area. A meeting was held recently at the Stonewall Hotel with representatives of the Chamber, Rotary Club, Jaycees, Lions Club and others for a discussion on the subject.

In other business during the meeting it was agreed to increase the amount of the scholarship given each year to one boy and one girl in the Saugerties High School whose conduct both in and out of school most typifies the average American Youth.

Plans were also discussed for the coming testimonial dinner to honor John Sauer, which will be held on May 18 at the Flamingo Restaurant. Joseph Bosco will be master of ceremonies for the occasion and the public may attend. There is a seating capacity for 200 persons, and tickets are available from any member of the Chamber of Commerce.

A Brilliant Season

Honor Three St. Mary Teams For CYO Basketball Titles

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Can anything be said in defense of prevailing interest among high school students for baseball when only 22 out of a total of 1050 or more report for varsity tryouts?

The answer would seem almost inevitable. Yet, our recent tome on the decline of the National Pastime appears to have caused the greatest reaction than anything since we suggested that bowling leagues might be using 2 pound, 14 ounce pins.

Ordinarily we insist on signed letters for publication. This time we will reverse the procedure and print three interesting communications without identifying the authors.

Letter No. 1

"I have to disagree with the conclusion you drew from the number of baseball players who showed up to try out for the KHS team. I don't believe the number reflects lack of interest in baseball.

"In these days of Little League and Babe Ruth baseball the boys have plenty of opportunity to judge their ability and to be judged by their teammates. Generally only the boys who were outstanding in Little League go out for the Babe Ruth League. They know how many positions are open each year and they cut themselves. The same holds true for the high school squad.

"I believe, in most cases, they do a better job of selection than the coaches could. After all, they have lived baseball and have assessed themselves for years. The coaches see them only a couple of weeks before cutting.

"Kingston has a large group of boys who love baseball."

(Comment: This is a new and interesting theory. However, we don't think that any youngsters should be deterred from striving from higher classification baseball merely because they may not have been of all-star calibre in a lower echelon. All-star teams and hoopla can sometimes be suspect. All-star teams are picked by people and the human equation cannot be discounted. Furthermore, if we were to extend this theory, we must presume that only the finest calibre of material has courage enough to try out for high school varsity. The quality of high school baseball in recent years does not reflect this.)

Letter No. 2

"Your column for the past several evenings has been asking the question: Where are the young men of baseball in our community? As I feel that I am to be considered in this category (17-21 years old) I wish to say that many of my friends and I are very much interested in the game.

"We all played Little League, Babe Ruth, American Legion, high school, etc. But just when we feel confident and able to play a good brand of ball the game is taken away. My point will be evident if you or anyone else will try to find a league or even a team for our age group in this city.

"We are all anxious and willing to play and would be appreciative of anything that can be done to remedy this situation."

(Comment: This young man's observations strike at the heart of a sad situation in our community. The dream that Little League, Babe Ruth and high school baseball would develop a never-ending source of talent for our city league and independent teams has turned into a nightmare. There are no independent teams. There is no City League. The Recreation Department promotes softball and basketball in the community. We suggest that this time baseball be included on the agenda. The motivation, we're sorry to inform this eager young man, will not stem from private enterprise. If there is a need for city supervision of basketball and softball, then surely baseball is the equal of these sports and merits the same consideration.)

Letter No. 3

"I'm glad someone noticed the few boys that showed up for varsity baseball. The kids still love to play on the sandlots, but it seems to me that if you didn't play on the Jayvees, you're out. My son played two years in Little League and was the best second baseman there. He came from another school which didn't have a baseball team organized yet he was told he had to try for Jayvees first — then go out for the varsity. Wait and see that Jayvee team. It will beat any varsity around."

(Comment: That's the spirit, mother. But we would be chagrined indeed if we felt that a freshman with ability would be denied a shot at the varsity because of such a rule.)

Item: With all this comment about the dearth of baseball interest, there is some hot baseball news around town—the "Damned Yankees" number to be batted out by local barristers in the Junior League's Fabulous Follies Friday and Saturday.

St. Mary's parish teams were honored for winning three of four CYO basketball championships in the 1960-61 season, at the recent fourth annual athletic banquet attended by more than 100 fathers and sons.

The St. Mary's feat of capturing the three titles in basketball under CYO auspices was hailed as a tremendous accomplishment by parish basketball director John W. Sullivan. They were victorious in the Tyro, Jayvee and Varsity leagues.

Special honor was given the Tyro team which won the Upstate Tyro championship.

The toastmaster for the dinner was Andrew T. Gilday, one of the founders of the Catholic recreation program in Ulster County. Gilday introduced Joseph Bouchard, assistant parish basketball director, who presented members of the championship teams with the St. Mary's Club of Champions certificates of merit.

Sullivan recalled the highlights of the past season, pointing out that St. Mary's squads had participated in more than 100 games in CYO leagues, in addition to many outside the league. He paid special tribute to the many hard working and unselfish people in the parish who helped make the program possible.

Toastmaster Gilday introduced the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, who spurred the boys on to success in many ways. Father Farrelly, the Ulster County CYO moderator, presented individual CYO medals to the members of the championship teams and plaques to the managers. He also thanked and congratulated the athletic committee of Joe Bouchard, Bill Tomaseskie, Knute Beichert, Bud Munson and Lou Getty for their work with the athletes.

Reviews Gains

County CYO Director Leo Schupp reviewed the great gains made by CYO in the period since it started with only a softball league about 12 years ago. He noted that the program now includes activities for both boys and girls, including eight basketball leagues, baseball, softball, track events, free throw contests and others.

Schupp also had high praise for William T. Mahoney, who has worked long and hard in the county CYO program. Mahoney, county CYO athletic chairman for the past 10 years, has served in numerous capacities, league organizer, official for the events and often as coach and instructor for the kids.

Schupp presented a specially engraved plaque to Mahoney on behalf of the CYO youth of Ulster County in recognition of his outstanding service over the years. In his remarks to the young atheletes, Schupp urged them to strive toward perfection, not only in the field of sports, but in sportsmanship. He told them that with the help of men like Mahoney he foresaw such improvement in their skills that some day he hoped to read of their exploits on the varsity squads of the proposed new Catholic high school in Ulster County.

Izaak Walton Speaker Listed

Joins Larry Shurter

Onteora Speedway's Ed Ryan Is Veteran Track Executive

The other half of Onteora Speedway Park's crack racing operations team this year will be a 40-year-old Hyde Park track executive who has been in the business since 1937.

Ed Ryan, who will team with veteran driver Larry Shurter in handling Onteora's schedule, is president of the Mutual Racing Associates, Inc., of Hyde Park and heads two tracks in eastern New York—Arlington Speedway and Rhinebeck Speedway—both in Dutchess County.

Ryan and Shurter promise Onteora Speedway fans one of the finest operations in the country at the picturesque Olive Bridge track which opens on Sunday, April 30.

Ryan joined the auto racing field in 1937 as a track steward and stringer for the National Auto Racing News. In 1938, he joined his father in the auto racing promotion field, watering the track in the wee small hours of the morning and working track jobs on race days. In those days, the cars were the open "sprint" cars and almost in variably they ran on the half-mile dirt tracks on Sunday afternoon.

Midgets Came Along

Later the midget cars took to the dirt tracks and some asphalt surfaces under the lights. In those days several of today's top-notch stars came to the fore. Among these titans were Lee Wallard, an Indianapolis 500 winner; Tommy Hinnershitz, last year's runnerup for the Eastern title; Len Duncan, the 1960 A.R.D.C. Midget champion and Onteora's own Larry Shurter, a tough national contender in his own right.

ED RYAN

Ryan did some driving during that period but with not too much success. After serving in World War II, where he campaigned with the 82nd Airborne Division in Europe, Ryan returned to the midget auto racing arena as a car owner. He became a stock car owner in 1949 and acted as starter at many eastern tracks.

Ryan's distinguished career as a racing executive began in 1951 when he became president of the Eastern Mutual Racing Club of Utica. In 1952 he formed the Mutual Racing Associated, Inc. and undertook the management of Arlington Speedway. In 1953, he acquired Rhinebeck Speedway which he still operates and this season re-acquired Arlington Speedway. His associate in the M.R.A. is Roland F. Moon, secretary-treasurer of Hudson.

Dick Lane, director of the Onteora track, is highly pleased with the acquisition of two such outstanding auto racing executives as Larry Shurter and Ed Ryan. The trio is looking forward to a slambang opener on April 30 and a highly successful operation for this second year at Onteora Speedway Park.

Moon Sparks LA to 7-2 Win; Reds Retain NL First Spot

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Any day now they'll be calling sliced home runs over the left field screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum "moon-shots." That's because the Dodgers' southpaw swinging Wally Moon appears to have perfected the art of dumping fly balls for homers in that sector.

Moon has hit six home runs in eight games, all over the Coliseum's 42-foot-high left field screen, only 251 feet from home plate. The Dodger outfielder, an honor student at Texas A&M some years ago, claims a newly perfected "reverse english" swing has been largely responsible for his sudden rash of homers.

Wally Clouts Pair

In any event, Wally struck two of those "moon-shots" Wednesday night to lead the Dodgers to a 7-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The first homer came with two on in the first inning. The second was a solo flight in the fourth. He walked in the sixth and slashed a run-scoring single—to center—in the seventh to account for five runs batted in with a perfect evening at the plate.

Cincinnati made it two straight over San Francisco with a 4-2 triumph and retained first place in the National League. Pittsburgh climbed into second place with a 4-1 victory over Chicago. Rain stopped Milwaukee and Philadelphia for the second straight day.

Rain Cancels Games

Rain also curtailed American League activity, washing out scheduled games between Los Angeles and the Yankees in New York; Minnesota and the Red Sox in Boston; and Kansas City and the Orioles in Baltimore. Detroit moved into second place with a 5-2 victory over Cleveland and Washington spoiled Chicago's home opener with a 7-2 victory over the White Sox.

Don Drysdale, although tagged for nine hits, went all the way for the Dodgers, to record his second victory against one defeat. Ernie Broglio was the loser.

Bob Friend pitched a three-hitter and Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente each had two hits in the Pirate victory over the Cubs. Ernie Banks' home run in the seventh spoiled a shutout bid by Friend.

Eddie Kasko's scoring single sparked a two-run ninth that enabled the Reds to snap a 2-2 tie with the Giants. Rookie righthander, Ken Hunt worked eight innings and won his first major league start. Jack Sanford was the loser.

23 Top Trotters Are Listed For '61 Runnymede June 29

SARATOGA SPRINGS—The $10,000 Runnymede Three-Year-Old Trot, a traditional Grand Circuit feature at Saratoga Raceway, has a formidable 1961 nominations list including such names as Matastar, Caleb, Mr. Pride, Duke Rodney, Orbiter, Spectator and Miss Sarah Rodney.

Matastar, Caleb, Mr. Pride and Duke Rodney swept the first four places among the leading money winning two-year-old trotters in the nation last year with respective earnings of $83,252, $78,293, $56,405 and $45,096.

Orbiter was last year's champion among the nation's juvenile trotters over a half-mile with a mile in 2:04 1/5. He accounted for two-year-old earnings of $25,030.

Spectator, a $33,549 winner at two, was 1960's co-champion juvenile trotting colt over a mile track at 2:01 2/5.

Miss Sarah Rodney was last year's second highest money-winner among the country's two-year-old trotting fillies with $41,463.

In all, the Runnymede has 23 nominations and 17 of them are candidates for one or more of trotting's Triple Crown events—the Hambletonian Stake, the Kentucky Futurity and the Yonkers Futurity.

Honor Three St. Mary Teams For CYO Basketball Titles

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Can anything be said in defense of prevailing interest among high school students for baseball when only 22 out of a total of 1050 or more report for varsity tryouts?

The answer would seem almost inevitable. Yet, our recent tome on the decline of the National Pastime appears to have caused the greatest reaction than anything since we suggested that bowling leagues might be using 2 pound, 14 ounce pins.

Ordinarily we insist on signed letters for publication. This time we will reverse the procedure and print three interesting communications without identifying the authors.

Letter No. 1

"I have to disagree with the conclusion you drew from the number of baseball players who showed up to try out for the KHS team, I don't believe the number reflects lack of interest in baseball.

"In these days of Little League and Babe Ruth baseball the boys have plenty of opportunity to judge their ability and to be judged by their teammates. Generally only the boys who were outstanding in Little League go out for the Babe Ruth League. They know how many positions are open each year and they cut themselves. The same holds true for the high school squad.

"I believe, in most cases, they do a better job of selection than the coaches could. After all, they have lived baseball and have assessed themselves for years. The coaches see them only a couple of weeks before cutting.

"Kingston has a large group of boys who love baseball."

(Comment: This is a new and interesting theory, However, we don't think that any youngsters should be deterred from striving from higher classification baseball merely because they may not have been of all-star calibre in a lower echelon. All-star teams and hoopla can sometimes be suspect. All-star teams are picked by people and the human equation cannot be discounted. Furthermore, if we were to extend this theory, we must presume that only the finest calibre of material has courage enough to try out for high school varsity. The quality of high school baseball in recent years does not reflect this.)

Letter No. 2

"Your column for the past several evenings has been asking the question: Where are the young men of baseball in our community? As I feel that I am to be considered in this category (17-21 years old) I wish to say that many of my friends and I are very much interested in the game.

"We all played Little League, Babe Ruth, American Legion, high school, etc. But just when we feel confident and able to play a good brand of ball the game is taken away. My point will be evident if you or anyone else will try to find a league or even a team for our age group in this city.

"We are all anxious and willing to play and would be appreciative of anything that can be done to remedy this situation."

(Comment: This young man's observations strike at the heart of a sad situation in our community. The dream that Little League, Babe Ruth and high school baseball would develop a never-ending source of talent for our city league and independent teams has turned into a nightmare. There are no independent teams. There is no City League. The Recreation Department promotes softball and basketball in the community. We suggest that this time baseball be included on the agenda. The motivation, we're sorry to inform this eager young man, will not stem from private enterprise. If there is a need for city supervision of basketball and softball, then surely baseball is the equal of these sports and merits the same consideration.)

Letter No. 3

"I'm glad someone noticed the few boys that showed up for varsity baseball. The kids still love to play on the sandlots, but it seems to me that if you didn't play on the Jayvees, you're out. My son played two years in Little League and was the best second baseman there. He came from another school which didn't have a baseball team organized yet he was told he had to try for Jayvees first — then go out for the varsity. Wait and see that Jayvee team. It will beat any varsity around."

(Comment: That's the spirit, mother. But we would be chagrined indeed if we felt that a freshman with ability would be denied a shot at the varsity because of such a rule.)

Item: With all this comment about the dearth of baseball interest, there is some hot baseball news around town—the "Damned Yankees" number to be batted out by local barristers in the Junior League's Fabulous Follies Friday and Saturday.

St. Mary's parish teams were honored for winning three of four CYO basketball championships in the 1960-61 season, at the recent fourth annual athletic banquet attended by more than 100 fathers and sons.

The St. Mary's feat of capturing the three titles in basketball under CYO auspices was hailed as a tremendous accomplishment by parish basketball director John W. Sullivan. They were victorious in the Tyro, Jayvee and Varsity leagues.

Special honor was given the Tyro team which won the Upstate Tyro championship.

The toastmaster for the dinner was Andrew T. Gilday, one of the founders of the Catholic recreation program in Ulster County. Gilday introduced Joseph Bouchard, assistant parish basketball director, who presented members of the championship teams with the St. Mary's Club of Champions certificates of merit.

Sullivan recalled the highlights of the past season, pointing out that St. Mary's squads had participated in more than 100 games in CYO leagues, in addition to many outside the league. He paid special tribute to the many hard working and unselfish people in the parish who helped make the program possible.

Toastmaster Gilday introduced the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, who spurred the boys on to success in many ways. Father Farrelly, the Ulster County CYO moderator, presented individual CYO medals to the members of the championship teams and plaques to the managers. He also thanked and congratulated the athletic committee of Joe Bouchard, Bill Tomaseskie, Knute Beichert, Bud Munson and Lou Getty for their work with the athletes.

Reviews Gains

County CYO Director Leo Schupp reviewed the great gains made by CYO in the period since it started with only a softball league about 12 years ago. He noted that the program now includes activities for both boys and girls, including eight basketball leagues, baseball, softball, track events, free throw contests and others.

Schupp also had high praise for William T Mahoney, who has worked long and hard in the county CYO program. Mahoney, county CYO athletic chairman for the past 10 years, has served in numerous capacities, league organizer, official for the events and often as coach and instructor for the kids.

Schupp presented a specially engraved plaque to Mahoney on behalf of the CYO youth of Ulster County in recognition of his outstanding service over the years. In his remarks to the young atheletes, Schupp urged them to strive toward perfection, not only in the field of sports, but in sportsmanship. He told them that with the help of men like Mahoney he foresaw such improvement in their skills that some day he hoped to read of their exploits on the varsity squads of the proposed new Catholic high school in Ulster County.

Joins Larry Shurter

Onteora Speedway's Ed Ryan Is Veteran Track Executive

The other half of Onteora Speedway Park's crack racing operations team this year will be a 40-year-old Hyde Park track executive who has been in the business since 1937.

Ed Ryan, who will team with veteran driver Larry Shurter in handling Onteora's schedule, is president of the Mutual Racing Associates, Inc., of Hyde Park and heads two tracks in eastern New York—Arlington Speedway and Rhinebeck Speedway—both in Dutchess County.

Ryan and Shurter promise Onteora Speedway fans one of the finest operations in the country at the picturesque Olive Bridge track which opens on Sunday, April 30.

Ryan joined the auto racing field in 1937 as a track steward and stringer for the National Auto Racing News. In 1938, he joined his father in the auto racing promotion field, watering the track in the wee small hours of the morning and working track jobs on race days. In those days, the cars were the open "sprint" cars and almost in variably they ran on the half-mile dirt tracks on Sunday afternoon.

Midgets Came Along

Later the midget cars took to the dirt tracks and some asphalt surfaces under the lights. In those days several of today's top-notch stars came to the fore. Among these titans were Lee Wallard, an Indianapolis 500 winner; Tommy Hinnershitz, last year's runnerup for the Eastern title; Len Duncan, the 1960 A.R.D.C. Midget champion and Onteora's own Larry Shurter, a tough national contender in his own right.

ED RYAN

Ryan did some driving during that period but with not too much success. After serving in World War II, where he campaigned with the 82nd Airborne Division in Europe, Ryan returned to the midget auto racing arena as a car owner. He became a stock car owner in 1949 and acted as starter at many eastern tracks.

Ryan's distinguished career as a racing executive began in 1951 when he became president of the Eastern Mutual Racing Club of Utica. In 1952 he formed the Mutual Racing Associated, Inc. and undertook the management of Arlington Speedway. In 1953, he acquired Rhinebeck Speedway which he still operates and this season re-acquired Arlington Speedway. His associate in the M.R.A. is Roland F. Moon, secretary-treasurer of Hudson.

Dick Lane, director of the Onteora track, is highly pleased with the acquisition of two such outstanding auto racing executives as Larry Shurter and Ed Ryan. The trio is looking forward to a slambang opener on April 30 and a highly successful operation for this second year at Onteora Speedway Park.

Moon Sparks LA to 7-2 Win; Reds Retain NL First Spot

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Any day now they'll be calling sliced home runs over the left field screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum "moon-shots." That's because the Dodgers' southpaw swinging Wally Moon appears to have perfected the art of dumping fly balls for homers in that sector.

Moon has hit six home runs in eight games, all over the Coliseum's 42-foot-high left field screen, only 251 feet from home plate. The Dodger outfielder, an honor student at Texas A&M some years ago, claims a newly perfected "reverse english" swing has been largely responsible for his sudden rash of homers.

Wally Clouts Pair

In any event, Wally struck two of those "moon-shots" Wednesday night to lead the Dodgers to a 7-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The first homer came with two on in the first inning. The second was a solo flight in the fourth. He walked in the sixth and slashed a run-scoring single—to center—in the seventh to account for five runs batted in with a perfect evening at the plate.

Cincinnati made it two straight over San Francisco with a 4-2 triumph and retained first place in the National League. Pittsburgh climbed into second place with a 4-1 victory over Chicago. Rain stopped Milwaukee and Philadelphia for the second straight day.

Rain Cancels Games

Rain also curtailed American League activity, washing out scheduled games between Los Angeles and the Yankees in New York; Minnesota and the Red Sox in Boston; and Kansas City and the Orioles in Baltimore. Detroit moved into second place with a 5-2 victory over Cleveland and Washington spoiled Chicago's home opener with a 7-2 victory over the White Sox.

Don Drysdale, although tagged for nine hits, went all the way for the Dodgers, to record his second victory against one defeat. Ernie Broglio was the loser.

Bob Friend pitched a three-hitter and Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente each had two hits in the Pirate victory over the Cubs. Ernie Banks' home run in the seventh spoiled a shutout bid by Friend.

Eddie Kasko's scoring single sparked a two-run ninth that enabled the Reds to snap a 2-2 tie with the Giants. Rookie righthander Ken Hunt worked eight innings and won his first major league start. Jack Sanford was the loser.

23 Top Trotters Are Listed For '61 Runnymede June 29

SARATOGA SPRINGS—The $10,000 Runnymede Three-Year-Old Trot, a traditional Grand Circuit feature at Saratoga Raceway, has a formidable 1961 nominations list including such names as Matastar, Caleb, Mr. Pride, Duke Rodney, Orbiter, Spectator and Miss Sarah Rodney.

The Runnymede is scheduled for June 29 during the fourth week of the June 8- Sept. 2 summer meeting at the Spa harness racing track.

Matastar, Caleb, Mr. Pride and Duke Rodney swept the first four places among the leading money winning two-year-old trotters in the nation last year with respective earnings of $83,252, $78,293, $56,405 and $45,096.

Orbiter was last year's champion among the nation's juvenile trotters over a half-mile with a mile in 2:04 1/5. He accounted for two-year-old earnings of $25,030.

Spectator, a $33,549 winner at two, was 1960's co-champion juvenile trotting colt over a mile track at 2:01 2/5.

Miss Sarah Rodney was last year's second highest money-winner among the country's two-year-old trotting fillies with $41,463.

In all, the Runnymede has 23 nominations and 17 of them are candidates for one or more of trotting's Triple Crown events—the Hambletonian Stake, the Kentucky Futurity and the Yonkers Futurity.

Historic Track in Goshen Started Operating in 1838

GOSHEN, N. Y. — Historic Track is at least 16 years older than it thought it was. It has been believed the first trotting races were held there in 1854. Now it has been established that trotters were being raced as early in 1838—23 years before the outbreak of the Civil War.

In those days the track was known as Westcott's Meadow. The fast stepping trotters had saddles on their backs and men in the saddles. It wasn't known as harness racing in those days.

Nearly every farmer and tavern owner had a trotter in their barns and it didn't take much of an excuse to bring the animal out. The rivalry between horse owners burned furiously and flared up in the 1850's when the Orange County Society for the Improvement of Horses was organized. One of the reasons for all the enthusiasm was a stallion named Hambletonian.

Historic Track saw him for the first time in 1849, the year he was foaled. Hambletonian was proudly paraded around the great oak in the center field of the track a few years later. He was followed by nine of his sons who had turned out to be whizzes on race courses and along the country roads around Goshen.

Formal racing programs began at Historic in 1854 when the the Blue Law against harness racing was repealed. The track at that time, measured a third of a mile. Four years went by before it was converted to the present half mile.

History Making Mile

History was made that year. Mary Hoyt trotted a mile in 2:36½, the first trotter to go less than 2:40 on an Orange County track. This was quite a feat when a 2:35 gait in those days was considered great. A 2:30 mile was stamped sensational and 2:25 was almost unheard of. Nearly 40 years would have to go by before the clumsy high wheelers gave way to the speedy low wheel bike sulkies. The record, too, has since been reduced nearly 40 seconds at Historic Track. Greyhound flashed the twice-around in 1:59¾ in 1937.

Historic Track, 1961, is rated as one of the fastest tracks in the nation. Its one week of harness racing each year brings in the best trotters and pacers on the Grand Circuit, plus their famous trainers and drivers. Grand Circuit week this summer is July 3-7 and although Historic Track is the oldest active trotting course, it is unique. It is the only major daytime harness track in New York State. In an age of racing under the lights, this is a rare thing.

Defeats Detroit Indians

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's winter trade with Milwaukee that brought outfielder Billy Bruton, catcher Dick Brown, pitcher Terry Fox and infielder Chuck Cottier for Frank Bolling may turn out to be the steal of the year.

All four ex-Braves played important roles in the Tigers' 5-2 triumph over Cleveland Wednesday, lifting them into second place in the American League, one game in back of the surprising Minnesota Twins.

Eighth Inning Rally

Bruton rapped a pair of singles and scored Detroit's first two runs. Brown also had two singles. Cottier drove in the final run of the Tigers' winning four-run rally in the eighth. Fox got credit for the Tiger victory.

The most important blow, however, was delivered by Steve Boros. The rookie third baseman cracked a three-run double off reliever Frank Funk to spoil the Indians' home opener. Three bases on balls set the stage for Boros' game-winning blow.

In the only other game played in the American League, Washington defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-2. Rain forced the postponement of the Minnesota-Red Sox game in Boston, and the Los Angeles-Yankee game in New York and Kansas City at Baltimore.

Dodgers Score Win

In the National League the Los Angeles Dodgers scored a 7-2 victory over St. Louis. Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 4-1 and Cincinnati beat San Francisco 4-2. The Milwaukee at Philadelphia game was rained out.

Marty Kutyna, a pickup from Kansas City last December, pitched six scoreless relief innings against the White Sox, and singled across two runs in the fourth to give the Senators a 4-2 lead. He yielded only four hits after replacing starter Ed Hobaugh in the third to get the victory.

Billy Pierce, who yielded for a pinchhitter in the fourth, was the White Sox starter and loser.

Clay Nips Clark To Tally Sixth Straight Fight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Clay, the cocky Olympic heavyweight medal winner turned pro, has proved he can take hard punches as well as hand them out.

It took only 4 minutes and 28 seconds Wednesday night to send La Mar Clark to the canvas and win his sxth fight in as many tries.

Clark's manager, Marv Jenson, was obviously impressed with the 19-year-old Louisville fighter.

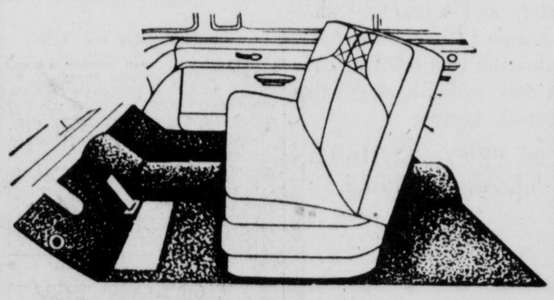

"This guy isn't very many fights away from the championship, as far as I'm concerned," Jenson said after the second round knockout.

But speed and power weren't being tested in Clay's fight against the Cedar City, Utah, slugger. The question was: What would happen if Clay were hit really hard?

There wasn't much time to find an answer, but Clark got in two hard punches. Neither stopped Clay.

Palmer, Player Favored to Win Houston Classic

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer and Gary Player resumed their golf duel today in the opening round of the $40,000 Houston Classic.

The stars of the Masters tournament two weeks ago were heavy favorites to battle it out for the $7,000 first prize.

Palmer rated a narrow edge although his first practice rounds since losing to Player at Augusta were not as impressive as those of the South Africa star.

After a week's absence from the tournament trail, Player tuned up practice rounds of 70, 66, and 68 for the 7,122-yard, par 35-35—70 Memorial Park course. Palmer had a 74 Tuesday and declined to discuss his score for his final warm up Wednesday.

The favotie's role went to Palmer on the strength of his having won $12,851.11 at Memorial since 1955. He won the Classic in 1957, was one stroke off the pace in 1959, and lost an 18-hole playoff last year to Bill Collins.

In addition to Collins and Palmer, today's starting field of 107 pros and 5 amateurs included four other winners of the Classic, Mike Souchak, Jack Burke Jr., Marty Furgol, and Dave Douglas.

Like Palmer, Collins and Souchak were not too pleased with their final practice scores.

"I'd be ashamed to say what I had," said Collins, who won last year's top prize of $5,300 by placing a 69 against Palmer's 71.

Two French Trotters Face Key Test at Yonkers Track

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Two of Europe's most highly-touted trotters face a big test tonight in the 50,000 United Nations Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

Masina, one of the two French entries, is rated the European champion with her record of 20 victories in 30 starts, although she was beaten at Cannes last month by Tornese, one of the two Italian entries in tonight's 1½ mile event which has drawn a field of eight from five countries.

Su Mac Lad Favored

Despite the foreign threat and a No. 8 post position, America's Su Mac Lad remained a solid 7-5 favorite. Masina and Tornese are held at 6-1, with the Canadian entry, Tie Silk, second choice at 4-1.

Tie Silk won the inaugural UN Trot last year, but the distance was only 1¼ miles. Tie Silk finished third in the recent Gotham Trot, in which Su Mac Lad scored his third straight victory this season. The Canadian entry drew the favored No. 1 post position.

Su Mac Lad will be driven by Stanley Dancer, and Air Record, the other U. S. entry, will have George Sholty in the sulky. Air Record is third choice at 5-1. She finished second behind Su Mac Lad in the Gotham.

Long Shots Entered

The field has representatives from Canada, West Germany, Italy, France and the United States and even the two long shots, Italy's Jariolain and West Germany's Iskander F., both at 20-1, are rated threats. Jariolain was clocked in 1:59 for the mile in California, and Iskander F. Never had a chance in the Gotham because of a broken sulky wheel.

Tonight's event is the second of six internationals scheduled for Yonkers Raceway—three trots and three paces—with a total purse of $330,000.

At Yonkers, Forrester driven by Robert Cherrix, won an easy triumph in the $3,500 Kensico Pace. Time: 2:06 2-5 over a slow track.

Forrester, owned by Forrester Farms of Townsend, Del., returned $6.50. Southern Charm was second a length behind the winner, and a head in front of So Quick.

The Yonkers daily double, Newport Alice and Billy's Image, paid $199.50.

Historic Track in Goshen Started Operating in 1838

GOSHEN, N. Y. — Historic Track is at least 16 years older than it thought it was. It has been believed the first trotting races were held there in 1854. Now it has been established that trotters were being raced as early in 1838—23 years before the outbreak of the Civil War.

In those days the track was known as Westcott's Meadow. The fast stepping trotters had saddles on their backs and men in the saddles. It wasn't known as harness racing in those days.

Nearly every farmer and tavern owner had a trotter in their barns and it didn't take much of an excuse to bring the animal out. The rivalry between horse owners burned furiously and flared up in the 1850's when the Orange County Society for the Improvement of Horses was organized. One of the reasons for all the enthusiasm was a stallion named Hambletonian.

Historic Track saw him for the first time in 1849, the year he was foaled. Hambletonian was proudly paraded around the great oak in the center field of the track a few years later. He was followed by nine of his sons who had turned out to be whizzes on race courses and along the country roads around Goshen.

Formal racing programs began at Historic in 1854 when the the Blue Law against harness racing was repealed. The track at that time, measured a third of a mile. Four years went by before it was converted to the present half mile.

History Making Mile

History was made that year. Mary Hoyt trotted a mile in 2:36½, the first trotter to go less than 2:40 on an Orange County track. This was quite a feat when a 2:35 gait in those days was considered great. A 2:30 mile was stamped sensational and 2:25 was almost unheard of. Nearly 40 years would have to go by before the clumsy high wheelers gave way to the speedy low wheel bike sulkies. The record, too, has since been reduced nearly 40 seconds at Historic Track. Greyhound flashed the twice-around in 1:59¾ in 1937.

Historic Track, 1961, is rated as one of the fastest tracks in the nation. Its one week of harness racing each year brings in the best trotters and pacers on the Grand Circuit, plus their famous trainers and drivers. Grand Circuit week this summer is July 3-7 and although Historic Track is the oldest active trotting course, it is unique. It is the only major daytime harness track in New York State. In an age of racing under the lights, this is a rare thing.

Defeats Detroit Indians

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's winter trade with Milwaukee that brought outfielder Billy Bruton, catcher Dick Brown, pitcher Terry Fox and infielder Chuck Cottier for Frank Bolling may turn out to be the steal of the year.

All four ex-Braves played important roles in the Tigers' 5-2 triumph over Cleveland Wednesday, lifting them into second place in the American League, one game in back of the surprising Minnesota Twins.

Eighth Inning Rally

Bruton rapped a pair of singles and scored Detroit's first two runs. Brown also had two singles. Cottier drove in the final run of the Tigers' winning four-run rally in the eighth. Fox got credit for the Tiger victory.

The most important blow, however, was delivered by Steve Boros. The rookie third baseman cracked a three-run double off reliever Frank Funk to spoil the Indians' home opener. Three bases on balls set the stage for Boros' game-winning blow.

In the only other game played in the American League, Washington defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-2. Rain forced the postponement of the Minnesota-Red Sox game in Boston, and the Los Angeles-Yankee game in New York and Kansas City at Baltimore.

Dodgers Score Win

In the National League the Los Angeles Dodgers scored a 7-2 victory over St. Louis. Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 4-1 and Cincinnati beat San Francisco 4-2. The Milwaukee at Philadelphia game was rained out.

Marty Kutyna, a pickup from Kansas City last December, pitched six scoreless relief innings against the White Sox, and singled across two runs in the fourth to give the Senators a 4-2 lead. He yielded only four hits after replacing starter Ed Hobaugh in the third to get the victory.

Billy Pierce, who yielded for a pinchhitter in the fourth, was the White Sox starter and loser.

Clay Nips Clark To Tally Sixth Straight Fight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Clay, the cocky Olympic heavyweight medal winner turned pro, has proved he can take hard punches as well as hand them out.

It took only 4 minutes and 28 seconds Wednesday night to send La Mar Clark to the canvas and win his sxth fight in as many tries.

Clark's manager, Marv Jenson, was obviously impressed with the 19-year-old Louisville fighter.

"This guy isn't very many fights away from the championship, as far as I'm concerned," Jenson said after the second round knockout.

But speed and power weren't being tested in Clay's fight against the Cedar City, Utah, slugger. The question was: What would happen if Clay were hit really hard?

There wasn't much time to find an answer, but Clark got in two hard punches. Neither stopped Clay.

Palmer, Player Favored to Win Houston Classic

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer and Gary Player resumed their golf duel today in the opening round of the $40,000 Houston Classic.

The stars of the Masters tournament two weeks ago were heavy favorites to battle it out for the $7,000 first prize.

Palmer rated a narrow edge although his first practice rounds since losing to Player at Augusta were not as impressive as those of the South Africa star.

After a week's absence from the tournament trail, Player tuned up practice rounds of 70, 66, and 68 for the 7,122-yard, par 35-35—70 Memorial Park course. Palmer had a 74 Tuesday and declined to discuss his score for his final warm up Wednesday.

The favotie's role went to Palmer on the strength of his having won $12,851.11 at Memorial since 1955. He won the Classic in 1957, was one stroke off the pace in 1959, and lost an 18-hole playoff last year to Bill Collins.

In addition to Collins and Palmer, today's starting field of 107 pros and 5 amateurs included four other winners of the Classic, Mike Souchak, Jack Burke Jr., Marty Furgol, and Dave Douglas.

Like Palmer, Collins and Souchak were not too pleased with their final practice scores.

"I'd be ashamed to say what I had," said Collins, who won last year's top prize of $5,300 by placing a 69 against Palmer's 71.

Johnson in Shape For Von Clay Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pat Oliveri, manager of Harold Johnson, National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion, said today the 32-year-old veteran is in "top shape" for his first title defense against Von Clay at the arena Monday night.

And Oliveri predicted that the scheduled 15-round fight wouldn't go more than six rounds with Johnson knocking out the 21-year-old Clay.

Both Johnson and Clay took off from training today for their pre-fight physical examination at the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission offices.

While Johnson has been training here, Clay has been working out in nearby Pleasantville, N. J.

Two French Trotters Face Key Test at Yonkers Track

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Two of Europe's most highly-touted trotters face a big test tonight in the $50,000 United Nations Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

Masina, one of the two French entries, is rated the European champion with her record of 20 victories in 30 starts, although she was beaten at Cannes last month by Tornese, one of the two Italian entries in tonight's 1½ mile event which has drawn a field of eight from five countries.

Su Mac Lad Favored

Despite the foreign threat and a No. 8 post position, America's Su Mac Lad remained a solid 7-5 favorite. Masina and Tornese are held at 6-1, with the Canadian entry, Tie Silk, second choice at 4-1.

Tie Silk won the inaugural UN Trot last year, but the distance was only 1¼ miles. Tie Silk finished third in the recent Gotham Trot, in which Su Mac Lad scored his third straight victory this season. The Canadian entry drew the favored No. 1 post position.

Su Mac Lad will be driven by Stanley Dancer, and Air Record, the other U. S. entry, will have George Sholty in the sulky. Air Record is third choice at 5-1. She finished second behind Su Mac Lad in the Gotham.

Long Shots Entered

The field has representatives from Canada, West Germany, Italy, France and the United States and even the two long shots, Italy's Jariolain and West Germany's Iskander F., both at 20-1, are rated threats. Jariolain was clocked in 1:59 for the mile in California, and Iskander F. Never had a chance in the Gotham because of a broken sulky wheel.

Tonight's event is the second of six internationals scheduled for Yonkers Raceway—three trots and three paces—with a total purse of $330,000.

At Yonkers, Forrester driven by Robert Cherrix, won an easy triumph in the $3,500 Kensico Pace. Time: 2:06 2-5 over a slow track.

Forrester, owned by Forrester Farms of Townsend, Del., returned $6.50. Southern Charm was second a length behind the winner, and a head in front of So Quick.

The Yonkers daily double, Newport Alice and Billy's Image, paid $199.50.

At Buffalo Raceway, Kimberly Way moved away from the pack at the top of the stretch to win the featured $1,100 Class B-2, in 2:25 on a heavy track, returning $61.90. Scotch June was second and King's Gambit was third in a photo finish.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A year and a half ago, Pina Pellicer arrived in Hollywood beautiful and unknown.

The Mexican actress was here for the Academy awards, as part of the delegation representing "Macario," contender for best foreign language film. It lost to Sweden's "The Virgin Spring," but that didn't damper the thrill of Pina's return. She is enjoying plaudits for her work in the Brando film.

"I saw it for the first time this morning," she said. "I think it is wonderful, and all the credit must go to Marlon's direction. Think what he did. Besides himself, only Karl Malden and Katy Jurado were experienced performers. He had to help the rest of us along."

Pina came into the Brando world unprepared. Her English was scant, her experience sparse. She had gotten interested in Little Theater work while at the University of Mexico and had performed in only six plays in Mexico City. One was "The Diary of Anne Frank." She did an excerpt from the play on television, and this helped bring her to the attention of producer Frank Rosenberg, seeking a co-star for Brando.

She was tested and then brought to Hollywood to meet Brando. She exhibited the fire he was seeking, and got the job.

Motorist Is Booked

A 28-year-old Kingston man today was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a license. Jack DeHope, of 81 Cornell Street, formerly of 17 Pennington Street, Newark, N. J., was committed to the Ulster County jail in lieu of $100 bond. DeHope was picked up on North Front Street at 10:30 a. m. by Patrolman Frank Stip. The motorist told police he has a New Jersey license to drive a car.
